NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.—The bulk of our readers desire their papers early; and those whose promises are not upon till late, run much risk of having their papers stolen, blown away, or spoiled by storms, unless they have a drop-box cut for them in some door or shutter.

Our Carriers are expected to open every unfastened door at subscribers' residences, and place the paper inside; if door not unfastened, then to deposit paper in the safest place without,—and always to ring the bell, or knock. At stores, when open, to place the paper on the counter; when shut, in the best place outside. Any loss of papers, on account of failure to comply with these rules, we will make good; but when we are convinced that the paper has once been thus delivered, we cannot furnish second copies.

Carriers are not allowed to employ other boys to deliver any of their papers—and for information of any instances of such breach of trust, and violation of orders, we shall be much obliged to our subscribers.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 22, 1862.

COUNTING CHICKENS IN THE EGG.—The New York correspondent of the Boston Post, says, under date of Jan. 18:—

"The promise of prompt action on the part of the Union army has kept Gotham on the qui vive for some days. A culmination is anxiously awaited, as being decisive of much now in doubt. I learn from high authority, to-day, that if the strategy and valor of McClellan's forces meet with the expected success, the President, the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of State are prepared to send the olive branch with propositions of peace into Secessia—in the hope of a cessation of hostilities and a reconstruction of the shattered Union upon some mutually satisfactory basis. This looks as though the Administration would succeed in cold-shouldering the powerfully-pressed emancipation scheme."

This consummation depends, as will be seen, on two or three contingencies: 1, on the victory if we get it; then 2, on the temper of the rebels; and 3, last but not least, on the satisfactory basis,—of mixing oil and water, as our political alchymists have been trying to do for a number of years.

Nevertheless, we hope for the best, as to victory, peace, and reconstruction or restoration—and would like mutual satisfaction if consistent with justice, humanity, and prudence.

Not only is the Rebellion confined to the Slave States, but in those States it is confined to the districts where Slavery constitutes the predominant political power.—Western Virginia, Northern Kentucky, and Eastern Tennessee are loyal to the Union because the "sum of all villainies" has not existed there to such an extent as to deprave the majority of the people. If there had been no Slavery, there would have been no Rebellion anywhere.—N. Y. Trib.

Perhaps so—and if there had been no anti-slavery, there might have been no rebellion, perhaps. It is "the irrepressible conflict."

☞ Telegraphic dispatches of the 17th inst. have been received from San Francisco. The State Legislature, in session at Sacramento, had adjourned to the 21st, on account of the inundation, to allow the water to subside. The whole city had been under water from two to eleven feet deep. The people were driven into the second story of their houses, and were unable to build fires or cook food. Cooked provisions were sent up from San Francisco, by two steamers. The water had materially subsided, but the weather was still unfavorable. The whole valley portions of the State have suffered severely from this unprecedented inundation. Millions of dollars worth of property have been destroyed.

☞ A correspondent of the Portland Advertiser advocates a tax of $5 per head on dogs; one on bachelors from 25 to 40 years, and over, of $20 to $60, according to age and incorrigibility, and a third tax on widowers, double that on bachelors—the estimated amount of which would be $36,000,000, and also be beneficial in abating all the nuisances thus taxed.

TROOPS WANTED!—Governor Sprague of Rhode Island has received a telegram from the Secretary of War asking how many men he could furnish at six days' notice, for thirty days, to be used to garrison the fortifications around Washington. The authorities of Massachusetts received a similar dispatch. This is significant. It means that the army of the Potomac is expected to move soon.

☞ One of the most ingenious attempts to smuggle jewelry was developed on a trial in New York last week. A box of valuables was screwed to the inside of a cask of wine, and was only detected by accident, in gauging the liquid. Shakespeare tells us of the "jewels in an Ethiop's head," but not in the head of a wine cask.

☞ A dispatch from Cincinnati on Monday says heavy rains had prevailed there since Saturday night. The river there was 51 feet deep, and rising at the rate of 3 inches per hour. There was 5 feet of water on the first floor of the buildings fronting the river. All the tributaries above were pouring out floods of great height.

☞ The Government on Monday received presents from the Emperor of Japan, consisting of two elephants tusks eight feet in length, a sword inlaid with gold and pearls, and other articles of much value, together with a handsome box containing a brief address or letter to the President.

☞ Rev. J. N. Fitzgerald, of Newark, N. J., recently admitted by the Supreme Court of that State as a Counsellor, has been licensed by the Central M. E. Church to preach the Gospel, and the Presiding Elder has assigned him to the charge of East Newark Station.

☞ The Secretary of the Treasury has decided that tea on shipboard prior to the passage of the tariff act in August last, must be admitted free of duty.

THE REBELLION.

The defeat of Zollicoffer is confirmed.—One dispatch from Louisville, says it was on Sunday, and not on Saturday. Gen. Zollicoffer, learning that our forces had appeared in his rear, marched out of his entrenchments at 3 o'clock A. M., and attacked Gen. Schoepf in his camp. The battle raged with great fury until 3 P. M., when, Gen. Zollicoffer having been killed, the whole force of the rebels fled in confusion to their camp. Bailie Peyton, who was also killed, is a son of the ex-member of Congress from Tennessee of that name. Gen. Thomas followed up the rebels to their entrenchments, 16 miles from his own camp, but found their entrenchments deserted, the rebels having left all their cannon, quartermaster's stores, tents, horses and wagons, which fell into our hands. The rebels in dispersing had crossed the Cumberland in a steamboat and nine barges at White Oak Creek, opposite their encampment at Mill Creek. The loss of the rebels was 275 in killed and wounded. The 10th Indiana lost 75 in killed and wounded. Nothing further of the Federal loss has been received. Zollickoffer was found in a wagon mortally wounded. 200 dead and wounded rebels were picked up on the field. All official dispatches show that the affair resulted in the most brilliant victory of the war. No prominent officers on our side were killed.

A Washington dispatch says information has been received by parties direct from Manassas, that the rebel forces have evacuated that point, falling back to a position further South. The object is not known, but it is supposed to be to counteract an apprehended movement of our troops from the seaboard.

John Johnson, a native of New Jersey, who was impressed at New Orleans, and escaped from Manassas ten days ago, has arrived at Philadelphia on his way home.—He estimates the rebel force at Manassas at 40,000, at Leesburg 30,000, and at Occoquan 15,000. He had not heard of the Port Royal victory until he got within the Federal lines! The rebel defeat at Drainsville had a depressing effect upon the army. Their loss is conceded to be 800 in killed, wounded and missing. He says the Louisiana regiment, to which he was attached, contains a large number of steamboat men, all anxious to escape.

1500 Texan rebels, with seven pieces of artillery, are reported within 30 miles of Fort Craig, New Mexico. A severe battle was expected, as the Texans were fighting principally for food. Martial law has been declared at Santa Fe.

The Boston Traveller says "a regiment of Gen. Butler's Division, (probably a New Hampshire regiment) will be sent to Fort Independence, Boston harbor, within two or three days. Quarters are being prepared for them.

NAVAL.—Frigate Santee, 50, Capt. Eagle, was at Galveston 28th ult. Steamer Montgomery, 5, Lieut. Jonett, at Atchafalaya, do. Steam frigate Colorado, 40, Capt. Bailey, at S. W. Pass, do.

Steam sloop Mississippi, 11, Capt. Selfridge, and sloop Vincennes, Lieut. Marcy, were at Pass-a-l'Outre 30th.

Flag ship Niagara, Capt. McKean, sloop Preble, 16, Com'r French, steamer Massachusetts, 5, Com'r Smith, De Soto, Com'r Walker, (and others as reported 18th) were at Ship Island 31st ult.

Frigate Potomac, 50, Capt. Powell, was off Mobile do.

Steamers South Carolina, 5, Lieut. Hopkins, and R. C. Cuyler, 8, Lieut. Winslow, were at Fort Pickens 2d inst.

Sloop Marion, 16, and gunboat Hatteras, 4, Com'r Emmons, were off Apalachicola 3d inst. Steamer Mohawk, 5, Com'r Strong, was off St. Marks 3d.

Several changes are reported among the officers of the Gulf squadron. Lieut. John E. Hart has been detached from the Vincennes and ordered as First Lieut. of the Santee. Lieut. James E. Jouett, detached from the Santee and ordered to the command of the Montgomery. Lieut. Hopkins assumes command of the South Carolina.—Commander Shaw, late of the Montgomery; Commander Alden and Lieut. Knox, late of the South Carolina, are on their way North, together with acting Lieut. Hunter, acting Masters Hopkinson and Devins, and several other junior officers, among them several engineers, for examination.

☞ Washington is much distressed for the want of small change in a trade way. Some of the heaviest retail dry goods stores refuse to give change for a five dollar Treasury note, unless over two dollars' worth of goods are purchased.

☞ The February number of the Atlantic, according to those who are none too enthusiastic, is superb. For sale at the book and periodical stores.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Littleton Journal, in announcing the death of Mrs. John A. Harriman, aged 39 years, and formerly of that town, says that up to within about fifteen minutes of her decease she had been in the enjoyment of her usual health, except a slight indisposition for a few days previous, from which she had so far recovered that they had made arrangements for moving to another tenement the next day. As she was about retiring for the night her mouth became filled with blood and a violent hemorrhage continued unabated for ten or fifteen minutes, when she breathed her last. A post mortem examination was had, at which four prominent members of the medical faculty were present, but no rupture of a blood-vessel could be found, nor anything to indicate whence the source of the hemorrhage.

—— The Providence Press thinks the rent of the New Hampshire dwarf ($30,000 paid by Barnum) makes Major Nutt "come high if he is short." The idea of calling him short with such an income!

—— The whole number of letters sent from the Manchester Post Office during the quarter ending Dec. 31st, 1861, was 67,137, including 1032 free letters.

—— Charles H. Woodbury of Bedford, on Friday was admitted to practice, by the Supreme Judicial Court now in session in Manchester, for Hillsborough County. He is son of the late Dr. Woodbury and nephew of the late Hon. Levi Woodbury.

—— The Lyceum course at South Hampton in this county has so far proved very successful. The lecture of B. R. Jewell Esq., on National Struggles was well received. We understand from the Amesbury Villager that the next lecture, on Wednesday evening, Jan. 22, will be delivered by Mr. James K. Medbery, of Portsmouth. Hon. Wm. C. Patten of Kingston is announced for next week.

—— The Manchester Mirror refers in the following terms to the proposed Ninth Regiment and its Colonel—Joseph A. Gilmore. Everybody who is acquainted with the Colonel (and who in our State is not?) knows that under his charge the Ninth would be indeed a model regiment:—

The Ninth New Hampshire Regiment is now under contemplation, and the Governor and Council, have commissioned Hon. Joseph A. Gilmore as Colonel of it. He has not yet selected his Staff and will not till the United States government expresses to the State its wish for an additional Regiment, and our State government puts the Regiment on the same footing as the others by renewing the offer of a bounty of $10 to each soldier enlisted, the time of the bounty having expired on the first of this month. If the National Government wants more troops from this State, there is but one voice among the people, and that is, offer the bounty and raise the men.—New Hampshire has already furnished her quota of a little rising 8400 men, in the shape of eight Regiments of the maximum size, one Battery of 150 men, four companies of cavalry, two companies of sharpshooters, and all the horses, wagons, &c., &c., required for the same. She began late and slowly, but has showed herself nobly patriotic, and could now raise all the soldiers reasonably asked of her by the government.

If there is to be a Ninth, Col. Gilmore is the man to get it up on the "double quick." His energy, resolution and pluck are unequaled in the State, and among his numerous friends he is regarded as their Napoleon of the "indomitable will." When any great project is on foot, its friends feel that they have won the day when they can say, "Jo Gilmore goes in for it." The first we knew of him he was carrying on a wholesale depot store at Concord, in 1848. In 1853 he was chosen Superintendent of the Manchester and Lawrence R. R., and in 1856 of that and the Concord too, and now is not only Superintendent of those two, but of the New Hampshire Central, and the Portsmouth and Manchester—lines of roads costing four millions of dollars. He has been President of the Senate, and often talked of as candidate for Governor.

He courts opposition, loves contention, and, though always corpulent, is the heaviest when fighting through his greatest projects. He cannot endure inaction, and if he had been in the place of Gen. McClellan he would have "cleaned out" and been beyond Manassas now, or beyond the cares of life.—He would make a splendid military officer. Commanding in appearance, Aldermanic in proportions he is always the most noticeable man in the crowd. His whole heartedness, frankness, courage, and entire absence of haughtiness, and stuck-up aristocratic feeling would make him beloved by every soldier. On railroad matters we differ materially very often, and sometimes fight, and his temperament is such that he would not respect us if we did not; still it give us pleasure to speak, as we have now, of his many good qualities and his wonderful powers of carrying through to completion projects that would stagger any other man in the State.

—— The third battalion of N.H. cavalry, Major Melvin commanding, comprising three hundred and fifty men with their horses, will leave Concord to-day, Wednesday, to join Gov. Sprague's division at Pawtucket, R. I. They will go by way of Worcester.

☞ Rev. Henry D. Moore, pastor of the Union Church in Portland, who has been selected as Chaplain of the 13th Maine Regiment (Col. Dow,) notified his congregation last Sabbath, that he should accept the post tendered him, and should tender his resignation as pastor of the church forthwith.

☞ John B. Henderson, a Douglas Democrat, and a Union man, has been appointed to represent Missouri in the U. S. Senate, in place of Trusten Polk, expelled from the Senate for treasonable practices.

ENCKE'S COMET is now plainly visible to the naked eye, in the south-western heavens, in the evening, and will remain so for a week or more.

Special Notices.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, the it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahneman, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc., etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curatives for family use are getting to be about as common as babies in a house, and every family should have one,—a case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq, and corner State and Pleasant sts, Portsmouth; M. S. Burnham & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. PHILLIPS, wholesale, Portland, Me; or sent anywhere by

MEETING OF MAINE MECHANICS.—To the Editor of the Boston Journal:—At a meeting of the Mechanics of Maine, now at work on the U. S. Navy Yard located in this State, called to take some action relative to the "strike" recently made in the yard, it was the unanimous sentiment of the meeting that Maine Mechanics should be the first to assist and the last to defend the Government in this its hour of need.—Speeches were made by gentlemen present, among whom were Cyrus Hamlin, Esq., who nobly defended the mechanics of Maine—that they were ever ready to the call of duty, and that the destiny of the country for weal or for woe rested in a great measure upon their exertions. Henry W. Gott, an eastern gentleman, made some remarks, after which he produced the Portsmouth Chronicle of Jan. 15, which contained an item in relation to the "strike," representing the Maine mechanics as foremost in the strike. This, said the speaker, was entirely false, and he was sure that never yet did Maine flinch from duty or swerve when the time for action came. The gentleman then offered the following resolution: That whereas the Portsmouth Chronicle of January 15 contained an article derogatory to the Maine mechanics, therefore Resolved, that we the mechanics of Maine look with indignation and contempt upon the author, whether it be the editor or any other person—particularly upon the editor, if he be not the author, for allowing its publication in the Chronicle aforesaid. The President of the meeting, John Remick, Esq., proposed to take the vote of the meeting whether the mechanics, &c., should continue at their work, when it was unanimously voted to remain in the yard and STRIKE with the ax and the adze for the country once more; and amid cheers for the "stars and stripes" and the Union, the meeting adjourned, the mechanics of Maine who had there assembled feeling satisfied that by their doings at the meeting they had fully vindicated themselves from the slander thrown in their faces by those who knew nothing about the matter.

Kittery, Maine, January 17, 1862.

We find the above published as an advertisement in the Boston Journal of Monday evening. We have not suffered to any very great extent in consequence of the very easily spoken words concerning "indignation and contempt," although professedly they were uttered by those "upon whom the destiny of the country for weal or for woe in a great measure rests." But the statement that we said "the Maine mechanics," as a class were foremost in the strike, is untrue. What we did say, was this:—

"Nearly if not quite all of the most prominent actors were men who have come comparatively recently from Maine to work upon the Yard."

We thought then, as we think now, that the movement originated with, and was carried through by, a very few men. Through the influence of these men, others were induced to act with them, and, consequently, the number of those who were determined upon a strike, "was by no means small."

We are pleased to learn that "the Maine mechanics themselves have endorsed our first paragraph, that they condemn the strike, and that they have pledged themselves to be "the first to assist and the last to defend the Government in this its hour of need."—Had they determined upon this course before the strike, and had they been as earnest in condemning the movement, before it was made, as they appear to be now, after some of them have joined in it, their complaint that injustice has been done them, might have some grounds for consideration.

We are not surprised that those who urged forward the strike, have repented of their action; but we assure them that it is too late for them to endeavor to relieve themselves of the responsibility of their acts by persuading the Maine workmen that the Chronicle, in its report, represented them all as being the prominent actors in the strike; there are things which have not been told—things which, perhaps, it were better not to tell now, and it will require more than denunciatory resolutions of anybody, to make good the evil that has been done.

We regret that it is so, for our interests are identified with those of the working men, especially laborers at our Navy Yard. We presume no sane man thinks it is otherwise. The Chronicle gang works harder, and more hours, than any gang of workmen on any Navy Yard. We hope all the Navy Yard workmen will get all their due—that they will be treated with liberal justice at all times. But something depends upon them, and they now know, as we know, that their recent action was at least ill-advised and unnecessary—including that anti-Chronicle meeting.

☞ Without wishing to claim any undue credit for ourselves, we would say that a Maine man, holding no mean position at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, told us that our report of the meeting of the strikers, was mainly instrumental in inducing the men to resume work. The workmen from Maine, as a class, embracing the mistaken idea that we charged them with being alone responsible for the strike, determined that they would return to the discharge of their duties; and the New Hampshire men, thus finding themselves alone, also determined to return. We wish the workmen by their recent meeting in Kittery, could have proved, as they seem to have desired to prove, that no strike had been made. ☞

A FINE STEAM FRIGATE ON THE STOCKS.—The steam frigate Franklin, on the stocks at the Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H., considered by competent judges the finest specimen of naval architecture in the service, seems to have been overlooked both by the Navy Department and Congress. Her hull has been nearly if not quite ready for launching this several years, and an appropriation for an engine is all that is needed to put afloat one of the finest vessels in the world, larger than any of the steam frigates now in commission, and fitted to mount sixty guns of the heaviest calibre. We wonder that Hon. J. P. Hale, Chairman of the Naval Committee in the Senate, has not endeavored to secure the completion of a ship that would do so much honor to his constituents.—Boston Journal.

The "wonder" is not confined to the Journal; for many here have been surprised that something has not been done towards urging forward this matter. That the Franklin is not now afloat is a matter to be regretted, for she would be a powerful auxiliary in the present contest. We have recently been convinced, however, that Congress does not pay that attention to this section of the country which is desirable and which would, doubtless, prove as much to the advantage of the country at large as to those more obviously benefitted.

SENATORIAL DISTRICT, No. 1.—The Republican Union Convention for this district, met at the Franklin House, Portsmouth, on Tuesday forenoon, and unanimously nominated Hon. Wm. H. Y. Hackett, for re-election as Senator.

☞ Mr. S. S. Blaisdell advertises in our columns this morning a Hair Invigorator, prepared by himself. As it is put up by a practical hair dresser, and has been used with good success by many persons, those who desire such an article would do well to make a trial of this.

Beardless youths, says Punch, are most prone to arrogance and self-sufficiency.—As they grow older their whiskers cover a great deal of their cheek.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambucl Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below give proof that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

THE PATENT

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economizing Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy, soiled oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly neat and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE

—AND THE—

BRITISH REVIEWS,

Great Inducements to Subscribe!

PREMIUMS AND REDUCTIONS.

L. SCOTT & CO., NEW YORK, continue to publish the following leading British Periodicals, viz:

1. THE LONDON QUARTERLY (CONSERVATIVE)
2. THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (WHIG).
3. THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church.
4. THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (LIBERAL).
5. BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (TORY).

The present critical state of European affairs will render these publications unusually interesting during the forthcoming year. They will occupy a middle ground between the hastily written news items, crude speculations, and flying rumors of the daily journal, and the ponderous tome of the future historian, written after the living interest and excitement of the great political events of the time shall have passed away. It is to these Periodicals that readers must look for the only really intelligible and reliable history of current events, as such, in addition to their well-established literary, scientific, and theological character, we urge them upon the consideration of the reading public.

The receipt of ADVANCE SHEETS from the British publishers gives aditional value to these Reprints, inasmuch as they can now be placed in the hands of subscribers about as soon as the original editions.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE

Large Premiums!

TO OUR FRIENDS.

Hitherto, we have never offered any one a premium for helping to extend the circulation of THE TRIBUNE. We have printed the cheapest newspaper, considering the outlay by which it is produced, that was ever issued in any country, selling it for little more than the cost of the white paper; have employed no agents to canvass for subscribers, and have allowed no compensation (beyond a copy of our paper) to any of the thousands of generous friends who have annually taken care that the number of copies of our several issues, circulated in their respective neighborhoods, should be at least maintained, and if possible increased. We have been sparing even of verbal thanks to these friends, but have none the less realized the fullness of our obligation for their earnest, unselfish, painstaking, persistent efforts.

We propose for the present season only—in view of the hardness of the times, and the fact that we are enabled to buy white paper somewhat cheaper than we have hitherto done, or can hope to do after the close of the War—to make some small acknowledgement—not so much a recompense as a slight testimonial—to those friends who shall see fit to exert themselves to obtain subscriptions (whether originals or renewals) to our Weekly and Semi-Weekly editions. We do not know that we could offer anything of similar value more generally acceptable and useful than a Gold Pen of the best quality and finish. We propose, therefore, to forward to each person who, during the two months ensuing, shall send us subscriptions and payments for THE TRIBUNE, as follows:

Weekly Tribune.

For $12, Eleven Copies Weekly Tribune, addressed to one subscriber, and Pens or Pens and cases to value of.... $1 00

For $100, Fifty Copies Semi-Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of.... 30 00

$2 25 each will be required in all cases where the Paper is to be addressed to each subscriber

The pens will be of the manufacture of A. Morton, whose make we are using, and we know them to be the best made. They will be furnished at the manufacturer's lowest prices. To choose as to the style and quality of Pens or Pens and Cases wanted for premiums, our friends are referred to the manufacturer's prices in another column.—See "The Pen is mightier than the Sword," and be particular and specify the number and quality of the Pens or Pens and Cases preferred.

Specimen Copies of the Tribune sent when requested.

When Drafts can be obtained, it is much safer than to remit Bank Bills. The name of the Post-Office and State should in all cases be plainly written. Payment always in advance.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES
FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FIFTEEN YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to Buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no traveling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

FINANCE AND BUSINESS.

At this moment, says the Boston Post, the Demand Notes of the United States are not received by some of the banks of this city; not from ill will or want of confidence, but from various minor obstacles of detail. Now by making Demand Notes "legal tender," these and all other obstacles would be swept away. Everybody would receive—everybody would pay, and we confess that we cannot conceive how the notes would be injured or their influence made more dangerous, by the two additional words. If increased like the French assignats, they would be another story; but this increase is impossible. And having United States notes at all, and as it is admitted that the Government cannot redeem in gold, we desire to have these notes entirely independent of bank favor. The banks can make, or ought to make, money from National loans, but they should not be allowed the option of taking or refusing the National currency, or of furnishing the additional circulation that war and taxation may render desirable.

But the grand fact of the whole subject is that the country is rich and ready for taxation. If a poor scheme of finance is adopted, it will speedily be amended.—Croakers need not expect the country, with its pockets full of money, to go to ruin, merely because those in authority differ as to the best process of extracting the cash from those who are ready to pay. In any case, there should be no fear of sudden inflation—it will be gradual, restrained by many things, and mainly measured by the extent and duration of Government outlay.

In each of the ten years ending with 1815, the expenditures of Great Britain averaged $360,000,000, with an army and navy of 300,000 men. With an army and navy of above 600,000 men, it is not strange that the United States is expending two millions a day.

The N.Y. Evening Post of Saturday says:

"Money is very easy to-day at 5 a 6 per cent. Choice paper has been done at 5 1-2 a 6 per cent. Gold is more active to-day at 101 3-4 a 102.

Flag Officer Commanding Squadron	$300
Captain on duty	200
Commander on duty	180
Lieutenant Commanding	150
Lieutenants	125
Surgeon, Paym'r, Insp. Machinery, and Prof of Mathematics, each	150
Chaplain and Master Engineer, each	125
Passed Ass't Surgeon, and Master, each	100
Ass't Surgeon and First Ass't Engr'r, each	80
Passed Midshipman and 2d Ass't Engr'r, each	70
Midshipman	40
Boatswain, Gunner, Carpenter and Sailmaker, each	30

A flag-officer, when commander-in-chief is allowed $100 in addition per month, and when not commander-in-chief $50 in addition per month. A fleet surgeon is allowed $25 additional per month. Officers on furlough are to have half pay. Officers attached to ships in commission are entitled to one ration in kind daily, for which they are charged 25 cents. The paymaster of a vessel having a crew of less than 100 is not entitled to a clerk, but may have a ship's steward, with pay heretofore allowed.

Another section of the bill establishes the new grade of inspector of machinery, substitutes for Chief Engineer a Master Engineer and reduces civil engineers to two classes to each squadron, having more than two steam vessels and to each Navy-Yard of construction; and repair one Inspector of Machinery is to be attached. The whole number of such inspectors is not to exceed fifteen, who are to be selected from. The grade of engineers is abolished. The remaining Chief Engineers are to be merged in Master Engineers. Not more than five engineers for any vessel are to be employed, except that to which an inspector of machinery is attached, which may have one additional.

From a tabular statement annexed, comparing present with proposed salaries, it appears that Captains commanding squadrons under the bill, receive annually $4,800 instead of $5,000, all other Captains $2,400 instead of $4,200, $3,600 and $3,000; Commodores $2160, instead of $2,162, $2,825, and $3,150.—Tribune.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Tuesday, the bill for the better defence of Washington was taken up and amended. The President was authorized to appoint two additional assistant Secretaries of War, at a salary of $3000 each, to remain in office one year. The resolution to expel Mr. Bright was taken up. Mr. Bright defended himself at some length; but no action was taken on the resolution.

In the House the bill in reference to the transportation of printed matter outside the mails, was taken up. An amendment instructing the Committee on Ways and Means to report a stamp tax, instead of postage was offered. The original bill was tabled. The Senate bill providing for two assistant Secretaries of War, was passed.

Some political Solons have petitioned for a heavy tax on dogs. Mr. Cary of Houlton suggests that such a tax would seriously affect the price of soldier's blankets, which, he says, are generally made of dogs' hair and hogs' bristles, and afford about as much protection against the cold as a fish weir!—Bath Times.

LETTER FROM KANSAS.

FORT RILEY, Kansas, 9th Jan.

Messrs Editors:—It is our misfortune to have but one line of communication with the loyal states: with the rebel states, we want none. When therefore a fresh outbreak of inherent vandalism on the part of the Missouri rebels takes place, some section of the telegraphic wire, or of the railroad that runs across Northern Missouri is destroyed, and merchandize, news and travellers are piled up in splendid confusion far to the east of us. This catastrophe has now become chronic. The paltering, aguish intellects that seem to have directed operations in Missouri have captured, sworn and released these marauders so many times that the simplicity of the captors has become at least equally sublime with the mendacity of the captured. At the last moment there is an assessment made on the wealthy traitors of St. Louis, and ten of the bridge burners are shot. The unapproachable sacredness of property in negroes appears to have all the potency of a self-evident truth in restraining or regulating the movements of our armies. There is a species of timidity more despicable than downright wickedness itself. It is when, after three hundred millions of Northern property has been confiscated by the rebels, and foreign powers are importuned to throw their sword into the scales of slavery, to the eternal humiliation of our proud republic, our rulers seem to make a trembling confession to the divinity of that institution, and even that its lightest menace, as of old makes them afraid.

'Who would be free, himself must strike the blow.'

But as I was going to say above, the telegraph is now completed thro' Iowa, and connects at Omaha, in Nebraska, with the line that runs down the Missouri to Leavenworth. So our news will rush to us on the flashing wings of the lightning without the leave of the traitors of Missouri.

The seriousness of Gen. Lyon's death, as a national disaster, has never been exaggerated. The events in Missouri, subsequent to his death, have been more eloquent than even the heroic deeds of his life, in teaching us the extent of our loss. Senator Pomeroy has well expressed this conviction of our people in his late eulogy of the dead hero. Kansas has a proud interest in his fame: her two first regiments were with him when he fell, in the victorious struggle of Springfield.

This reminds me of the recent sacrifice to the Moloch of this war. Gen. Philip St. George Cooke, whose death by his own hand was recently published was formerly in command at this post, as well as Gen. Lyon. He was a loyal Virginian, with a son and two sons in law in the rebel army.—One of these sons-in-law is now Gen. (formerly Lieut.) Stewart, holding a large command under Beauregard. He was a gallant and able commander. It is said that four years ago, he was struck by lightning while bathing in the Laramie river, and never was quite the same afterward. Gen. Stewart was mainly distinguished while in the U. S. army for having persuaded the government to pay him six thousand dollars for a new sabre-attachment whose utmost value is six cents. Floyd did not think it worth while to steal it when he left. And so the brave old soldier has rushed forward, impelled by we know not what horror, to taste of death. Every day dyes treason a deeper black.

Our young State is now quite stationary. The villages are quite stripped of their young men. Our farmers have lost a large part of their cultivators. War prices press heavily on those who are left. In many parts of the State, two bushels of corn will buy one pound of coffee, or one yard of calico. Coffee is a peculiarly favorite Western beverage. But thousands of our settlers now use no better substitute for it, than roasted wheat—of which all that can be said is, that it is quite wholesome.

PORTSMOUTH ABROAD.

☞ The New York Atlas states that there is a highly respectable American family, residing barely a mile from the centre of the imperial city of New York, whose members did not taste food for three days last week, because they had not the means to purchase even a loaf of bread. The head of this family went into the West some time since, hoping to improve his prospects. He was prostrated by fever and ague, and has since been confined to a bed of sickness, whence he may not rise. The eldest daughter—who is now wasting under a quick consumption—was able until within a short time to work at making drawers, for which she received six cents a pair. But her strength failing, she was forced to abandon her labor, and now the family, which consists of a mother and four children, are utterly destitute.

FISHING BOUNTIES.—About $6000 have been paid, during the past week, by the Collector of this port, as bounties to fishermen. This is nearly the whole amount paid here.

☞ Gen. Zollicoffer had been an editor, a State printer, a comptroller, a Congressman, and a builder of the Nashville Suspension Bridge. He died a rebel General.

THE REBELLION.

Washington special dispatches state that several regiments were moving across the Potomac on Thursday.

The Louisville Journal says twelve cannon were captured at Somerset, Ky. It thinks the rebel army cannot escape, as from seven to ten Federal regiments were thrown across the Cumberland river to intercept their retreat. A letter dated Somerset, Jan. 19, says: "Zollicoffer is said to have been killed by Col. Fay, of the Kentucky 2d. We have taken many prisoners. The loyal Tennesseeans fought like tigers, and suffered severely; they took one battery at the point of the bayonet."

The latest intelligence from Western Virginia states that Jackson was near Romney, partially occupying that town, while Gen. Lander has fallen back a few miles toward Cumberland. Williams' Brigade remains at Hancock.

The Martinsburg, Va., Republican of the 17th appeals to the Governor to arm the negroes, saying that at the late battle near Bath the rebels were met by 700 negroes on the Union side, who killed three rebel officers, two privates and wounded 50 members of the German Southern regiment.

The latest Norfolk papers received at Fortress Monroe contain no information in regard to the Burnside expedition.

The Secretary of War has adopted the following rules:

1st. That in order to have room for promotions for gallant acts in the field, no further appointments to any rank in the army, unless of men in the field, will be made until the 1st of March.

2d. That all the nominations now pending before the Senate will be suspended until after the 1st of March

3d. That officers frequenting the city will be checked by dropping from the list those who frequent the city otherwise than on military duty.

4th. The department will be closed four days in the week against all other business than what appertains to active operations in the field.

7th. Business by mail or written communication will receive the personal attention of the Secretary on the morning of each day, before entering upon other duties.

☞ Russia has not presented a note to our government on the Trent affair and probably will not, and it is believed that this is the only foreign government refusing so to do at the bidding of England.

PLENTY OF SNOW.—The sleigh-riding and sled-using people of Portsmouth, were supplied, up to Friday, with a hard and solid path of ice and crust, say six inches more or less. Since that date, we have had about a foot and a half added to our stock, giving us enough and to spare of this New England luxury. The white, clean snow is really beautiful; and the clothing of the earth in the Winter months, is no mean addition to its fertility in Summer.

☞ The weather and the "travelling" this week, would not seem very well adapted to induce much pleasure riding; but there has been considerable, nevertheless. Among the rest, a horse trot, appointed at Greenland on Tuesday, drew quite a collection of single teams out there—but the race was forfeited by the non-appearance of one horse. And it well might be, or drawn, or postponed, for the iron horse himself could hardly get along through the drifts.

On Tuesday evening, also, the great sleigh Ivanhoe, with four horses, took out a merry load of ladies and gentlemen, to Greenland—the gentlemen mostly clerks in the dry goods house of Jones & Mendum, in this city, with their friends, who spent a pleasant social evening at the residence of Mr. Mendum, in Greenland.

We also hear of an other sleighing party, which did not happen on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday—but will come off—when they get ready, and the storm gets ready to let 'em.

☞ The Richmond Examiner says:—"Resolutions have been introduced in the South Carolina Legislature recording as infamous, for the execration of posterity, the names of William Bradford Shubrick, Cornelius Stribling, Captains in the United States Navy; Percival Drayton, Henry K. Hoff, John J. Misroon, Chas. Steedman, Ed. Middleton, Henry Lorando, Commander in the United States navy; Henry C. Flagg, John F. Hammond, C. S. Lovell, United States army. These men still claim to be citizens of South Carolina."

☞ Paul, the apostle, speaks of Luke as the "beloved physician," and few endear themselves to us more than those who like "ministering angels" bring to us the healing balm in sickness. So it is with medicines that cure; though we never see the maker yet we become attached to him through them. How many have reason to bless Dr. J. C. Ayer, of Lowell, for his invaluable preparations, so good and yet so cheap. If anybody is a public benefactor it is surely he who cures the suffering body and thereby animates the drooping spirit.—Com.

TO FAMILIES OF VOLUNTEERS.

The wives or mothers of volunteers who enlisted either as three months' men or for three years or the war, who have ever received or are at present receiving any bounty from the city, (agreeably to ordinance No. 72) are requested to call at the store of Messrs. J. Rider & Son any afternoon the present week, from 2 o'clock till 5 o'clock P. M.

☞ Orestes A. Brownson spoke in Boston, Tuesday evening, at the Tremont Temple, under the auspices of the Emancipation League. Dr. Samuel G. Howe presided. There was a large audience. Brownson advocated emancipation as a military necessity, as a duty to the slave, and as a benefit to the slaveholder. He was followed by a talented slave by the name of William Davis, who recently escaped from the vicinity of Fortress Monroe.

THE MENDELSSOHN QUINTETTE CLUB are about to start on a little tour. To our readers in the places which they visit, we need hardly say any more of the rich treat that is in store for them, for our columns have often reported the excellencies of their performances and we should be at a loss to find new terms in which to commend them to the audiences that are yet to listen to them. The best of music played as that Club play it, will be no small enjoyment in these times when pleasures are few.—Dwight's Boston Journal of Music.

The New York Tribune says the appropriations for the Navy being under examination Wednesday, Commodore Breese attended on invitation. The Committee struck out from the bill items contemplating permanent local expenditures, as for improvement of yards, &c., retaining only those necessary to put afloat and to enable us to reach and strike the foe.

☞ The trouble in the Philadelphia Navy Yard is about concluded. More men are reported to have been ready to go to work on Tuesday morning than were required. It is stated that the order for the Rhode Island to go to Boston has been countermanded.

Messrs. Editors:—If you will publish the following question in the Chronicle (to which an answer by some one of its readers is solicited) you will oblige

A SUBSCRIBER.

What is that problem, in which all mankind are most deeply interested; that may be proved beyond doubt or contradiction; capable of being shown by certain evidence, or by evidence that admits of no doubt, as the principles of Geometry are demonstrable, yet has never been demonstrated by any of mankind?

THE OLDEST NEWSPAPER.—The New Hampshire Gazette, published at Portsmouth, a copy of which is now before us, claims to be "the oldest newspaper in America." It was established in 1756, and is therefore over one hundred and five years of age. We had supposed others dated further back than the time when the Gazette was started.—N. Y. Argus.

No, we think not; there is no paper now living, which was commenced so early as the Gazette—though there are a few almost as old—one in Newport, R. I., we believe, and another in Hartford, Ct., but a few years younger.

A COMPLIMENT.—DIFFERENCE OF OPINIONS.—Some folks have thought, at times, that the Chronicle was rather inclined to harp on certain "reform" topics; but one of our old subscribers in the interior of the State, writes us as follows. We print his letter just as he sends it—but will assure him that it affords us no small pleasure to know our paper suits him so well.

Mr. Miller sur you be so kind as to send me your paper another year hear is a dollar to pafor it will you be so kind as to print more against the use of tobacco and against all the intemperance and against popary I dont take any ——— paper now become tha have no prise curent in them three papers printed heor but cant have a prise curent in one of them I take youre e becose of the prise curunt.

—— The Engineer at Cairo, and chief Aid of Gen. Grant on his way down the Mississippi, is J. D. Webster, born in Hampton, and a son of the late Rev. Josiah Webster of that town.

Special Notices.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, tho it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahnemann, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc., etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, cling much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curatives for family use are getting to be about as common as babies in a house, and every family should have one.—a case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq., and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. Brown & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. PHILLIPS, wholesale, Portland, Me.; or sent anywhere by American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my28dawâm

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Reverts, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice given in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full access to all patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

THE PATENT

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economizing Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to save a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it is a comfort on any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

BRITISH REVIEWS,

Great Inducements to Subscribe!

PREMIUMS and REDUCTIONS.

L. SCOTT & CO., NEW YORK, continue to publish the following leading British Periodicals, viz:

1. THE LONDON QUARTERLY (CONSERVATIVE)
2. THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (WHIG).
3. THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church.
4. THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (LIBERAL).
5. BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (TORY).

The present critical state of European affairs will render these publications unusually interesting during the forthcoming year. They will occupy a middle ground between the hastily written news items, crude speculations, and flying rumors of the daily Journal, and the ponderous Tome of the future historian, written after the living interest and excitement of the great political events of the time shall have passed away. It is to these Periodicals that readers must look for the only really intelligible and reliable history of current events, and as such, in addition to their well-established literary, scientific, and theological character, we would commend them upon the consideration of the reading public.

The receipt of ADVANCE SHEETS from the British Publishers gives additional value to these Reprints, inasmuch as they can now be placed in the hands of subscribers about as soon as the original editions.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE

Large Premiums!

TO OUR FRIENDS.

Hitherto, we have never offered any one a premium for helping to extend the circulation of THE TRIBUNE. We have printed the cheapest newspaper, considering the outlay by which it is produced, that was ever issued in any country, selling it for little more than the cost of the white paper; have employed no agents to canvass for subscribers, and have allowed no compensation (beyond a copy of our paper) to any of the thousands of generous friends who have annually taken care that the number of copies of our several issues, circulated in their respective neighborhoods, should be at least maintained, and if possible increased. We have been sparing even of verbal thanks to these friends, but have none the less realized the fullness of our obligation for their earnest, unselfish, painstaking, persistent efforts.

We propose for the present season only—in view of the hardness of the times, and the fact that we are enabled to buy white paper somewhat cheaper than we have hitherto done, or can hope to do after the close of the War—to make some small acknowledgement—not so much a recompense as a slight testimonial—to those friends who shall see fit to exert themselves to obtain subscriptions (whether originals or renewals) to our Weekly and Semi-Weekly editions. We do not know that we could offer anything of similar value more generally acceptable and useful than a Gold Pen of the best quality and finish. We propose, therefore, to forward to each person who, during the two months ensuing, shall send us subscriptions and payments for THE TRIBUNE, as follows:

Weekly Tribune.

For $12, Eleven Copies Weekly Tribune, addressed to each subscriber, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of.... $1 00

For $10, Eleven Copies Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of..... 1 00

For $80, Eighty Copies Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of..... 18 00

For $100, One Hundred Copies Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of.. 25 00

Semi-Weekly Tribune.

For $11 25, Five Copies Semi-Weekly Tribune, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of..... $2 00

For $100, Fifty Copies Semi-Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of.... 30 00

$2 25 each will be required in all cases where the Paper is to be addressed to each subscriber

The pens will be of the manufacture of A. Morton, whose make we are using, and we know them to be the best made. They will be furnished at the manufacturer's lowest prices. To choose as to the style and quality of Pens or Pens and Cases wanted for premiums, our friends are referred to the manufacturer's prices in another column.—See "The Pen is mightier than the Sword," and be particular and specify the number and quality of the Pens or Pens and Cases preferred.

When Drafts can be obtained, it is much safer than to remit Bank Bills. The name of the Post-Office and State should in all cases be plainly written. Payment always in advance.

IMMORTELLES.

GOD VISIBLE IN HIS WORKS

Thy guiding finger, Lord, I view.
Traced in the midnight planet's blaze.
Or glistening in the morning dew;
Whate'er is beautiful or fair,
Is but thine own reflection there

I hear thee in the stormy wind,
That turns the ocean wave to foam
Nor less thy wondrous power I find
When summer airs around me roam;
The tempest and the calm declare
Thyself—for thou art everywhere.

And when the radiant orb of light
Hath tipped the mountain-top with gold,
Smote with the blaze my weary sight
Shrinks from the wonders I behold;
That ray of glory bright and fair
Is but thy living shadow there.

Thine is the silent noon of night,
The twilight, eve—the dewy morn:
Whate'er is beautiful and bright,
Thy hands have fashioned to adorn:
Thy glory walks in every sphere,
And all things whisper "God is love!"

ANSWER TO THE RIDDLE

PUBLISHED IN THIS PAPER TWO WEEKS SINCE.

What's that? says the school-ma'am;
The pupil says O!
Do you find it in earth?
The urchin says No!
Is it ever in mountains?
Yes, always; in snow,
In gold and in nothing
You'll find me, O—O,—
Good wood in cold weather
Is handy you know;
And good double doors
Must be spelt with O—o.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES
FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.
We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travellers or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 24, 1862.

THE FRENCH COLONIES.—Besides Algiers, France possesses four colonies, Guadaloupe, Martinique, French Guiana and Bourbon, or as it is now called Reunion.—In these four colonies there were in 1848, 283,814 slaves and 139,089 freemen, in all 372,908 persons.

In 1840 the commission, headed by the Duc de Broglie, was appointed to examine into the results of English emancipation, and their famous report of 1842 was favorable to emancipation. But the slaveholders and their commercial allies in France had still power to delay the long discussed measures. Finally, in the generous enthusiasm of the early days of the revolution of February, the important law was carried—now almost fourteen years ago. It was by no means perfect,—for it contained some very unwise provisions.

Every planter had predicted three results of emancipation: 1st, The return of the blacks to barbarism through idleness.—2d, The complete ruin of the colonies. 3d, Murder and robbery. Every one of these predictions has been falsified.

Not a few planters were let down into poverty,—as indeed many were mortgaged over head and ears before. But the colonies have gained every way.

From 1843 to 1847 the yearly average exports and imports were 119,614,862 francs. From 1853 to 1857, a similar period of five years subsequent to emancipation, the average exports and imports were 271,730,711 francs, showing an increase in ten years of nearly 50 per cent. For 1858 the total exports and imports of the four colonies was still higher, viz: 172,355,814 francs. Thus it appears that free labor has brought an immense gain of wealth to these islands. It has also added to the population. In 1836 the whole number of persons was 376,296; in 1848, as we saw, 372,603; in 1856, 387,821. Decrease in twelve years before emancipation 3,393, or nearly one per cent. Increase in eight years succeeding emancipation 14,981, or 4 per cent.

The improved morality of the people is shown by the great increase in the number of marriages. More than five times as many as before freedom. A similar improvement is indicated by the criminal records. In 1836-8 9 the proportion of crimes against life and person was 48 in 100. In 1850-1-2 the proportion had fallen to 21 in 100. That the colonies are more peaceful appears from the fact that in 1840, 8,642 soldiers were thought necessary to preserve order there, while in 1860 only 4,791 were kept there; a decrease of nearly one half.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate on Wednesday, the resolution appropriating $10,000 for the expenses of the war Committee passed. Mr. Trumbull of Ill., reported back the House bill in regard to witnesses examined before committees of Congress, providing that their examination before committees shall not prevent their subsequent prosecution in a Court of justice.—Mr. Trumbull claimed that the object of the bill was to put witnesses on common law grounds. The law, as it now stands, enables the greatest criminals to escape if they can only get before an investigating committee and tell something. The clerk who stole two, millions Indian Bonds got clear that very way. The bill passed.—The case of Mr. Bright was then taken up, and without coming to a conclusion the Senate went into executive session, and there confirmed a large number of nominations, among them that of John Lothrop Motley, as Minister to Austria, and Robert Pruyn of New York, as Minister resident at Japan.

In the House, the Committee of Ways and Means reported a bill for the issue of $100,000,000 of Government notes, and $500,000,000 of six per cent. bonds. A resolution was adopted requesting the Sec. of War to inform the House whether and in what time a sufficient military force can be extended over the line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, in order that it may be repaired.

☞ Vera Cruz dates to the 10th inst. have been received via Havana. The invading Spanish troops had been almost in a state of siege, all supplies having been cut off by the Mexicans. No vegetables or fuel can reach the city, and many articles of prime necessity are sadly needed. Many Spanish soldiers are sick, and there are many desertions. There are great fears of an attack on Vera Cruz. A regiment of Spaniards which attempted to penetrate into the country was driven back to the city. The French troops had disembarked, and measures would be taken to open the communications and obtain supplies.

☞ The President has nominated Noah A. Swain of Ohio as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice McLean.

☞ On account of the high price of cotton, and the greater durability of hemp, the Post Office Department is substituting mail bags made of hemp for those of cotton, which have been heretofore wholly used.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Thomas's official report of the battle at Mill Spring fully confirms the first accounts of the completeness of the victory. He says:—

"The enemy after succeeding in getting two pieces of artillery across the river, and upwards of fifty wagons, abandoned them with all the ammunition, in the depot at Mill Spring. They then threw away their arms and dispersed through the mountain by-ways in the direction of Monticello, so completely demoralized that I don't believe they will make a stand short of Tennessee. The property captured is of great value, amounting to eight six-pounders and two Parrott guns, with caissons filled with ammunition, about 100 four-horse wagons, upwards of 1200 horses and mules, several boxes of arms which had never been opened, and from 500 to 1000 muskets, mostly with flint locks but in good order, sustenance stores enough to serve the entire command for three days, and also a large amount of hospital stores. Our loss was 39 killed and 127 wounded. Among the wounded were Col. McCook of the 9th Ohio, commanding a brigade, and his Aid, Lieut Burt of the 18th U. S. infantry. The loss of the rebels was Zollicoffer and 114 others killed and buried, 116 wounded, and 45 prisoners not wounded, 5 of whom are surgeons, and Lieut. Col. Carter of the 17th Tennessee regiment."

The prisoners say that George B. Crittenden was first in command and Gen. Zollicoffer second. Gen. Crittenden fled to the woods, but took the wrong road, and it is supposed he will be captured. Sec. Stanton has issued an order thanking the troops for their conduct in the engagement. The Federal forces actively engaged were the 10th Ind., 48th Ky., 2d Minn., and 9th Ohio regts. They were reinforced after the first and severest engagement by the 10th and 12 Ky., 1st and 2d Tenn., 14th, 31st, 35th and 36th Ohio regts., and Standart's, Whitmore's and Kenney's batteries. The rebel forces were estimated at 10,000.

A private letter from Somerset, Ky., says that citizens and soldiers are straggling in loaded with trophies of the battle. Our bullets were sent with unerring aim; the rebels were shot in the forehead, breast and stomach. The Union people there flocked to the field in droves, and are jubilant at the result. It is thought that Gen. Crittenden is taken, disguised as a surgeon.

FOREIGN.—Steamship of New York, from Liverpool Wednesday 8th, via Queenstown 9th inst., passed Cape Race Thursday morning. There was considerable disappointment expressed in England at the non-reception of definite advices from America relative to the Mason and Slidell imbroglio. The pirate Sumter has arrived at Cadiz where she landed forty-five prisoners taken from three Federal merchant vessels that she had destroyed.

P. S. Later dispatches say news of the adjustment of the Trent affair reached England on the 8th, and was received with the greatest satisfaction. The vessels destroyed by the Sumter were the ship Vigilant, of Bath, Me., the barque Eben Dodge, a New Bedford whaler, bound out, and sch. Arcade, of Maine, engaged in the West India trade. U. S. gunboat Tuscarora, was at Southampton to watch the Nashville, then ready for sea.

☞ The annual report of the New York City Superintendent of Puplic Schools, shows that $820,000 was last year paid to the teachers of the public schools—that $76,000 was expended for school apparatus—$259,000 for building, remodeling and furnishing school houses—$150,000 for the support of evening schools and the free Academy, including the incidental expenses of the Board of Education.

☞ It is stated that none of the evidence adduced by Gen. Patterson before the War Committee will vindicate his fame or relieve him from the responsibility of the disaster at Bull Run. The Committee will make no comments on the testimony of witnesses in that affair, but will let the facts as presented by Patterson go forth to the world,

☞ It is now said that Gen. Sherman simply obeyed orders in not advancing immediately into the interior, after landing at Port Royal. It was the purpose of the Government to make a permanent and impregnable base of operations about Beaufort.

About ten nights ago some youngsters in Chatham got an old gun and fired it twice. The report suggested distress at sea, and the stout-hearted citizens mustered in numbers, got out their boats and started on a search for the ship in peril, which they kept up till morning, of course without success. The youths in question should read the fable of the wolf, and profit by it.

☞ It looks now as though the Spaniards might find considerable trouble in their Mexican campaign. President Juarez has avowed his determination to make the best fight possible against the invaders of Mexico, declaring that the Mexicans will never yield to Spanish domination unless completely subjugated.

☞ There are in Boston 98 churches, viz.: 28 Unitarian; 14 Baptist; 12 Orthodox; 12 Methodist 12 Roman Catholic; 11 Episcopal, 5 Universalist, and one Freewill Baptist, Friends and Union.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Orders have been received at Manchester for the 8th Regiment to report at Fort Independence, Boston harbor, to-day, Friday.

—— Horace W. Badger, of Company A, 7th New Hampshire Regiment, died in New York on Wednesday.

—— The Newburyport Herald tells the following story of what it calls "a romantic marriage":

A member of one of the companies comprising the 8th Regt. of N. H. Volunteers having deserted, a sergeant was sent in pursuit. He was fortunate enough to overtake the object of his search in Chester, where he arrested him. The delinquent assigned as a reason for deserting that he was deeply enamored of, and wished to wed one of the fair daughters of Chester. Not wishing to mar his anticipated connubial bliss the sergeant consented to grant sufficient time prior to his return to allow of their marriage. The ceremony was performed. But to their great dismay when about to retire for the night the cruel sergeant presented a pair of handcuffs, which he requested the newly made bridegroom to wear that night in remembrance of his friendship, as there was some doubt in his captor's mind in regard to his safety. This somewhat took the prisoner by surprise. But after discussing the question for some time they agreed to a compromise, which was to chain one of the hands of the bride to one of the bridegroom's. It was done, and the happy pair were left for the night. In the morning the bracelets were taken from their wrists and the prisoner taken to his Regiment, where he had plenty of leisure to reflect upon his romantic marriage.

—— The Manchester American says:—

"A printed circular has been issued by the Union men of the Democratic party, who repudiate the nomination of Stark and Cheney, and are ready to strike for a new organization, and labor for the upbuilding of a new Union constitutional party.—Thursday, the sixth day of February is assigned for a mass meeting of the freemen of New Hampshire, who do not acquiesce in the course of policy adopted by the Democratic party or by the Republican organization. The call is carefully written, is free from mere verbiage and the exciting appeals which too often characterize political declarations. It is receiving the signatures of many patriotic democrats, and of republicans who do not fully acquiesce in the action of the State administration the past year."

A Manchester correspondent of the Boston Journal says:—

Among those who are heartily in favor of the call may be mentioned, Wm. C. Clark of Manchester, Paul J. Wheeler of Newport, James F. Briggs of Hillsboro', Samuel M. Wilcox of Exeter; H. P. Rolfe of Concord, Samuel M. Wheeler of Dover, Edwin D. Rand of Littleton, George Foster of Weare, George N. Eastman of Farmington. Many Republicans all over the State have responded to this appeal, and, waiving all party preferences, will unite in this crisis with men of every shade of opinion in all constitutional efforts to save the National Government. It is understood that Hon. Ira Perley of Concord, late Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Hon. Geo. Y. Sawyer of Nashua, late Associate Justice, and Hon. Aaron W. Sawyer of Nashua, have already declared themselves in favor of the new movement.

—— A correspondent of the Manchester American, from the Third New Hampshire regiment, at Hilton Head, Port Royal, S. C., says:—"By the way, it is pretty well known here that a certain Captain from Manchester has been sent out as a spy, and has been all through Savannah and ascertained everything in regard to the situation of the rebels in that quarter that he wished, and returned in safety. Said Captain is an excellent officer, and knows nothing of the article called fear, and although young in years is as brave as the oldest veteran upon the tented field. Further information deponent hath not liberty to divulge."

Messrs. Editors:—The request in your paper of Thursday morning, that some one should solve the problem proposed by a subscriber, is easily answered by any careful observer, in the word selfishness or self-glorification. N.

Uncle Toby,—Sir:—An answer to the problem in the Chronicle of Thursday—"Life."

A GOOD THING.—The American Stock Journal, published by D. C. Linsley, 25 Park Row, N. Y. City, at $1 per year, is just beginning a new volume. It is considered a very excellent publication and certainly is worth the cost of subscription.—Maj. Waite of Claremont, well known as a writer in this line, is associate editor.

☞ The Richmond Dispatch says it cannot be doubted that there are in that city men who are the instruments and allies of Abe Lincoln. These men, it adds, must, from the nature of revelations made to the Federal Government, be actually in the employment of the Confederate Government.

☞ The American Consul had sold the coal brought to Nassau for Federal vessels, but which they were not allowed to take, to the British authorites.

Many hundred years ago Seneca, the philosopher, dropped a maxim which is worthy of the attention of nineteenth century readers:—"There is as much greatness in the owning of a good turn as in the doing of it; and we should no more force a requital out of season than be wanting in it."

Special Notices.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, tho it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahneman, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc., etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting diseases, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curatives for family use are getting to be about as common as babies in a house, and every family should have one.—a case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq., and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. BURN & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. TRULLEN, wholesale, Portland, Me.; or sent anywhere by FIRE.—The interior of the building No. 11 1-2 Fleet street, the first story of which was occupied by Mr. Wm. C. Hatch as a carriage and sleigh manufactory, and the second by Mr. S. D. Scriggins as a paint-shop—was damaged to considerable extent by fire on Wednesday night. It appears have caught from Mr. Hatch's close wood stove, on the floor underneath — though nobody knows how. The premises were closed about 5 o'clock, and though there was probably a bed of coals left, yet there wore several inches of ashes in the stove,—and it is singular a fire should burn, undiscovered, there, for four hours or more, and not break out. A friend in Mr. H.'s shop, about 5 o'clock, however told him he smelt burning wood,—but in vain they hunted for danger; and a man passing by about half past 7, smelt the fire, but could see nothing out of the way. The alarm was given soon after 9 o'clock.

The total loss, including the damage to the building, (which belongs to Mr. Geo. W. Plumer,) the stocks, tools and work of Messrs. Hatch, Scriggins, and W. B. Grogan and Jos. H. Gardiner, (who had a considerable amount of pants, &c., in Mr. Scriggins' shop,) probably amounts to $500 or $600—and we hardly know whereso small an amount of destruction would inconvenience more mechanics. The three painters named have for many years been prominent, active and public-spirited members of our excellent Fire Department, (Mr. S. is one of the veterans in the service) and without doubt, they have been personally instrumental in preventing a thousand times greater losses for others, than that which has now come upon themselves. It is a little singular that not one of the five losers named, had any insurance, on building or contents. There is not a man among them, but has the sympathy of their fellow-citizens for their loss, even though small, and the interruption of their business; but it would be comforting also, to have the "realizing" sympathy of some good insurance company.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.—The January Term of this Court commenced its session in Exeter on Tuesday, Hon. Samuel D. Bell, Chief Justice, presiding. 302 civil suits are upon the continued dockets. The whole of Tuesday was occupied in calling the Docket, and the first case found ready for trial was

No. 109—Chas. C. Smith v. Joseph Mace Jr., and Trustees. The action is Assumpsit for $700, and interest from Jan. 10, 1856, for certain lands in Clarksville, Coos County. John B. Rider of South Newmarket is foreman of the jury to try the case. Collins and Hatch for plaintiff, Towle and Christie for deft.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, Thursday evening, a new ordinance relating to the Police was reported but did not pass. In executive session the following appointments were made for the current year:—Asst. Engineers—Wm. B. Grogan, Daniel Neal, Stephen D. Scriggins, C. C. Jackson, Benj. M. Parker, John H. Folsom. Surveyor of Highways, Dist. No. 1—Walter Scott.

☞ It will be seen by our advertising columns, that Mr. Edward D. Coffin has taken the well-known, convenient paint-shop in Chestnut street, so long occupied by the Messrs. Bufford—from which Hon. M. Bufford has recently been promoted (or at least transferred) to the City Clerk's office. This is a good place to get painting done, and Coffin is a good man to do it.

☞ We learn that Wm. Cole, about 21 years of age, and son of Mr. Abner Cole, of Eliot, shot himself in that town, on Thursday, inflicting so severe a wound that he died before the fact was known by his friends. It is thought he was partially insane.

☞ For the benefit of those who could not attend the first lesson of Messrs. Newell & Foss' Writing School, they have concluded to continue the School twelve evenings more, of which the first Lesson will be this (Friday) eve. Ladies and Gents are solicited to attend,—at the Court House School Room.

☞ That grand S. R. P. to the A. H., at R. B., is to come off this (Friday) P. M., if tolerable weather. Meet "on 'Parade,'" at half-past 2, armed and equipped.

☞ The fourth of Rev. Mr. Lord's course of lectures, it will be seen, is announced for this, Friday, evening.

A RICH ROORBACK.—The London Morning Advertiser asserts that Gen. Scott, during his stay in Paris, offered to the Emperor Napoleon, Lower Canada, if he (the Emperor) would side with the United States.

PROLIFIC.—A heifer, four years old, owned in Portsmouth, has had five calves.

LOST,

On Thursday evening, two $5 BILLS,—one a U. S. Treasury Note. The finder will be suitably rewarded on leaving them at the Chronicle Office

WILD DUCKS.—Mr. Robert Floyd, of Newburyport, on Tuesday, killed ten wild ducks in Plum Island river; seven of them were brought down at one shot. A few days ago, he secured fifteen. Within range his gun never fails of its aim. We want about a hundred thousand just such men in the army, o try their skill on the rebels.—Herald.

☞ The Sutlers in the Potomac army have printed and are circulating in the camps, a paper denouncing the allotment law of Congress as a swindle by the Government. It is ruining the sutlers' profits to have the soldiers save their pay and send it home to their families.

TO FAMILIES OF VOLUNTEERS.

The wives or mothers of volunteers who enlisted either as three months' men or for three years or the war, who have ever received or are at present receiving any bounty from the city, (agereeably to ordinance No. 72) are requested to call at the store of Messrs. J. Rider & Son any afternoon the present week, from 2 o'clock till 5 o'clock P. M.

THE NEW-HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE and Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, published Thursday, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room. Price 3 cents. Only $1 per year, in advance.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.—The notices of yearly advertisers in the Daily Chronicle, are also inserted in the Weekly once, without extra charge; but subsequent Weekly insertions must be paid for, if ordered.

☞ Having made arrangements for furnishing good custom-made BOOTS and SHOES for the people; also for all kinds of repairing in the same line, an invitation is extended to all who are in need of something good to wear to call at No. 6 MARKET SQUARE. D. R. AMBROSE.

N. B.—Newspapers and Periodicals as heretofore. dec30

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors o apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE

—AND THE—

BRITISH REVIEWS,

Great Inducements to Subscribe!

PREMIUMS AND REDUCTIONS.

L. SCOTT & CO., NEW YORK, continue to publish the following leading British Periodicals, viz:

THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (WHIG).

3.
THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church.

THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (LIBERAL).

BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (TORY).

The present critical state of European affairs will render these publications unusually interesting during the ensuing year. They will occupy a middle ground between the hastily written news items, crude speculations, and flying rumors of the daily Journal, and the ponderous Tome of the future historian, written after the living interest and excitement of the great political events of the time shall have passed away. It is to these Periodicals that readers must look for the only really intelligible and reliable history of current events, and as such, in addition to their well-established literary, scientific, and theological character, we urge them upon the consideration of the reading public.

The receipt of ADVANCE SHEETS from the British publishers gives additional value to these Reprints, inasmuch as they can now be placed in the hands of subscribers about as soon as the original editions.

Subscribers wishing also the Nos. for 1861, will be supplied at the following EXTREMELY LOW RATES.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no traveling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 25, 1862.

LETTER FROM PORT ROYAL.

HILTON HEAD, Jan. 11, '62.

Affairs in general at this post are about the same as when I last wrote. The only movement of much importance that has been made, was a reconnoissance in force, made in the vicinity of Port Royal Ferry on the first and second days of this month, by a part of Gen. Stevens' Brigade and two Regts. (the N. Y. 47th and 48th) of our Brigade. We had orders to have our blankets packed and one day's rations in our haversacks ready for a start at a moment's notice. The Regt. was formed in line on the parade ground, arms stacked, and then we were dismissed to our quarters, with a caution to be "ready." We were "ready" but the order to move did not come,—we waited until night, when Col. Fellows reluctantly gave the order to fall in, take arms, and go to our quarters.

Probably you are aware that the N. H. Third is a "reserved Regt;" everybody thinks very highly of us, and so we are very carefully kept at a safe distance from the enemy, for fear we might get hurt. I am aware that a "good name" is said to be worth more than "great riches," but after all, we could not help feeling a little jealous of the New Yorkers when we saw them "taken" and we "left." When you enlist, reader, try by all means to get into a "crack" Regiment.

The expedition was entirely successful, capturing several prisoners, a large amount of equipments and ammunition, and one long rifled cannon,—the only gun left in their fort at Ferry Point. Our loss was only one man killed and a very few wounded. The rebel loss is not known, but they must have suffered severely from the fire of our gun-boats.

Maj. Bedell went with the N. Y. 47th as their Lieut. Col., and after his return, he, one evening gave us an account of the trip, and of Duffie's exploits. (Duffie is to the Major what an Esquire was to a Knight in the days of Chivalry).

Major Bedell's frank, open-hearted manner—if it is a little rough—makes him very popular with the men.

Capt. Clark of Co. A, and Lieut. Dearborn of Co. D, have gone to New Hampshire to recruit for this Regt., it being about one hundred short of the number allowed by law. Lieut. Cornelius, of Co. D, also expects to leave for home soon, on a furlough, his health being very poor. As this would leave Co. D with no acting Lieut. the Colonel has detailed Lieut. Fogg of Co. B. to assist Capt. Dunbar in taking care of the Da. It is said that our late Sergeant Major, now Lieut. Jackson, is to be attached to Co. B. 2nd Lieut. Smith of Co. I is said to have sent in his resignation. Quartermaster Nesmeth has been appointed acting Brigade Quartermaster, and Sergeant Brainard now acts as Regimental Quartermaster.

Last Thursday Capt. Eldredge of the Atlantic was presented with a beautiful Silver Trumpet, by the officers of our Regt., as a token of their high esteem of him as a man, and of their gratitude for his kindness to them on their passage to this place. Col. Fellows made the presentation speech,—it was neat, brief, and to the point. Capt. Eldredge responded briefly:—he said that sailors were noted as being very poor at making speeches, and taking his own as a sample, I don't feel inclined to dispute that position. However, the affair passed off very pleasantly to all concerned.

Yesterday, our Regt. after dress parade, and two hours of battalion drill, were marched over to Seabrook and back;—distance ten miles—object unknown. To show you how jealously the good name of our regt. is cared for by our officers, let me relate to you an incident that transpired at Seabrook. When just ready to return, complaint was made that some one of the regt. had stolen two white shirts from a negro. The regiment was halted, ranks opened, and every man in the regiment searched;—but it turned out the shirts hadn't been stolen at all, but were in the old darkey's house all the time.

About half way from our camp to Fort Welles, three buildings have been erected, about three hundred feet in length and twenty-five in width, each building being divided into forty apartments, and each room having one door and one window. These are the quarters of the colored population. The soldiers think themselves fortunate if they can get a bundle of dry grass or rushes to keep their blankets off the wet ground, but there, we soldiers are nothing but white folks, who are, just now, of much less consequence than niggers.

This afternoon, a balloon has been inflated with gas, at Fort Welles, and this evening, a gunboat took it in tow, and left for "somewhere," to take an observation.

Gen. Viele has for some time past been giving us a pretty thorough brigade drill; this, taken in connection with various little incidents that have occurred, indicates that here, as well as in Virginia and Kentucky, "something" is about to take place.

Since my last report to you, there have been two deaths in our regiment, as follows: Rufus F. Palmer of Co. E, aged 19, from Concord, died Jan. 4. John Hansman of Co. A, from Manchester, aged 42, died Jan. 8. Palmer died very suddenly, he was on duty in the forenoon and died before the next morning of congestive fever. The number in hospital this morning was twelve. The health of the regiment is better than it was.

Enclosed I send you a copy of the Camp Kettle, published by the Penn. Roundheads, which may be of interest to you on account of the circumstances under which it is published, rather than from its size or contents.

"ROCKINGHAM."

THE REBELLION.

The rebels at Bowling Green are suffering terribly for money. It is reported that Gen. Buckner's children are running about there barefooted; Gen. Hardee, who is second in command, could not pay a colored woman employed by him, and gave her a pass through the rebel lines, as the only means he had of liquidating her demand. The Louisville Journal learns that General Hardee has arrested Gen. Hindman for burning houses at Cave City and other places on the Nashville railroad. It also learns and credits that Gen. Buckner has resigned his commission.

The Hilton Head correspondent of the New York Commercial says, under date of the 20th inst., that a report reached there that Fort Pulaski had been abandoned by the rebels, and intimates that a movement will soon be made in another direction.

The Savannah Republican learns from a gentleman from Florida, that Cedar Keys was captured by the Federals on Thursday Heavy firing was heard in that direction the same day.

The correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial says Camp Beauregard, at Feliciana, Ky., was captured on Friday last, by Gen. Smith, the rebels (60 days' men) taking flight on the approach of our men.—All their tents and equipments were captured.

The Burnside expedition was in Pamlico Sound, at the last accounts from it, through Southern sources. It appears that an attack on Newbern is feared, and the women and children were leaving the town. The Norfolk Day Book says a draft has been made in Wake county, and also that there is much excitement in Raleigh in regard to it. It is for one-third of the enrolled militia.

The Montreal Advertiser, which is thoroughly in the interests of the rebels, says the vessel at Cadiz is not the Sumter, which is in her old beat, but one of the new vessels for which the Nashville took officers to Europe.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate on Thursday, a remonstrance was presented of the underwriters, ship owners and others of Boston, against any measures impairing the efficiency of the coast survey. The resolution in regard to Ward A. Lamon, Marshall of the District of Columbia, declaring that in an order he transmitted to the Senate he was guilty of the breach of privilege and contempt of Senate, and the that Sec. of the Senate report the resolution to the President, was passed. The Senate in Executive session confirmed the promotion of Brig. Gens. Schoepff and Ord for meritorious services in the field,—the former at Mill Spring, Ky., and the latter at Drainsville.

In the House, a bill authorizing the President to appoint Light House Inspectors during and for one year after the present rebellion, was passed. A bill was reported authorizing the Sec. of the Treasury to settle with the States for supplies furnished their troops, who were called out to suppress the rebellion. Postponed. Mr. Mallory of Ky., reported a bill for a Military and Mail Railroad from Kentucky to Tennessee.—The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Military Academy bill.

☞ As Mr. Joseph Morrill, a resident of Salisbury, Mass., and one of the representatives to the General Court, was getting on the cars at the Amesbury depot, Friday morning, his foot slipped from the step and he fell under the wheels; the train having got under some headway before he could recover himself, it passed over him, killing him instantly. Mr. Morrill was about 50 years of age, a carpenter by trade, and was esteemed by all who knew him as a worthy man and a good citizen. He leaves a widow and several children, who will be in comfortable circumstances so far as the means of livelihood are concerned.

☞ The printers in the Government printing-office, who "resolved" that eight hours should constitute a day's work, and were consequently only paid four fifths of their established daily wages, have been unsuccessful in an appeal to Congress.

☞ The President is said to have declared that he appreciated the very great services rendered by Gen. Sigel, and that justice will be done him, by creating him a general of division.

Recollections of Old Acquaintance.

BY UNCLE TORY.

TOBIAS LAKEMAN.—More than fifty years ago, on the old road between Ipswich, Mass., and Portsmouth, N. H., might be seen an old man of near ninety years, slight and thin, once erect but now bent a little by age; his grey locks covered with a flexible round hat, whose depending brim shaded and almost hid his face; his apparel old but neat and trim, worn but not ragged: with a strong staff strongly grasped, and with a step nervous but not feeble, he trod the highway with the air of a gentleman, and made the journey backward and forward between the two places three or four times a year.

Who was he? For what did he travel? And why did he walk?

His name is at the head of this article—he traveled, because being insane he had no other amusement—and he went on foot because he was poor. But to be more particular:—He had been, fifty years before that, keeper of the prison in Portsmouth, N. H., and when several Quakers or Friends, had been thrown into prison there to await their trial for some breach of the laws against heresy, he showed them great kindness; and he even went so far as to let them go to their homes, on their mere promise to return in season for the trial. They kept their word, and the humane jailor suffered no detriment. Emboldened by this, he suffered a "gentleman" debtor (not a quaker,) to depart in like manner on a like promise. But he came not back. The debt for which he was arrested was large: and the law stripped the jailor of his property, dismissed him from his office, removed his family from the County House, and made his children penniless. They sought and earned an honest living: but he became insane, quite harmless, but as to doing any work or business, quite useless.

And now began his wanderings. He was but the wreck of a man: but this wreck, like that of a noble ship, showed what the man had been. He was friendly by nature, and now that he could no longer do valuable friendly acts, he could at least make friendly visits. And so he did. He had lived in Hampton, N. H.,—he had relatives in Ipswich, and he had friends all the way—for every Quaker was his Friend in particular. And did not the Quakers' welcome tire and wear out in forty or fifty years? No: nor even flag for a moment. At their doors Friend Lakeman knocked often, but never in vain. He needed not to ask for food or shelter—their best of bed and board, was good enough, but not too good for him. The men whom he befriended, lodged him,—their children rose up and called him blessed, aye and their children's children also.

This simple story needs no moral; the moral is in the story. The good old man loved nature and loved man,—he enjoyed the sight of both—and though insane, was not miserable. At last, just as one winter set in, he returned from his usual journey feebler than usual—and when Spring returned, the pilgrim was missing from the road—the Friends enquired for him—but the way-worn traveler was at rest.

Probably no single pedestrian ever traveled that road so much. And no doubt his frame was strengthened and his life prolonged by the exercise and amusement; for the walk was both.

☞ Special dispatches from Washington to the New York papers state that it is rumored there, that facts brought out before a Congressional Investigating Committee implicate Governor Curtin of Pennsylvania in contracts so far as to render a legislative action in his own State, probable.

☞ The World's dispatch states that there seems to be no diminution of small pox in Washington. A debate in the City Council elicits the statement that there are some 800 cases among civilians. All the regiments on this side of the Potomac have been vaccinated.

☞ Col. Brown, the brave defender of Fort Pickens, is compelled by the state of his health to be relieved from his command. His illness, which is of a dropsical type, was brought on by exposure while in the discharge of his arduous duties.

☞ There was a crinoline flutter in the camp of Munfordsville lately, on account of Gen. McCook's ordering all the women out of the camp. One lady, an Indiana captain's wife, flatly refused to go, and the General had to succumb to her will.

HEAVY GIRLS.—There is a gentleman in Newburyport, who has three daughters of the ages of 14, 17 and 20, whose aggregate weight is 530 pounds.

☞ A letter from Darnestown, Md., of Jan. 21, says that Governor Sprague, in attempting to cross the canal two miles below Seneca, fell in, but fortunately scrambled out without much injury save a good ducking.

☞ The funeral of ex-President Tyler took place in Richmond on the 21st. It was attended by Jeff. Davis and his Cabinet and the members of the rebel Congress.

☞ The name of Gen. Schoepff is pronounced as if written Shepff, the sound of p being given.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— C. W. Fisher, a famous "mental calculator," and brilliant young mathematician, from New Hampshire, is now on a visit to Boston. He some two or three years since greatly astonished the learned in Boston and other cities by a wonderful exhibition of his very rare and remarkable power over numbers. He has, for instance, been known to extract the cube root of a number consisting of thirty-six places of figures. He has also multiplied together various numbers of thirty-six figures each, always giving the true product, and all this without even so much as a single mark to aid his memory. He is no seeker after notoriety, yet it is understood that a strong effort is being made to bring him in contact with a Massachusetts mathematician, famous for his calculating powers, in a trial of skill.

—— The amount received by the N. H 5th Regiment on the last pay day, was $36,000, of which over twenty thousand dollars have already been sent home to New Hampshire. The company from Concord sent $2500, and the company from Claremont over $2000. Col. Cross was officiating as President of a General Court Martial, but the other field officers said that the total sum sent home by officers and men was over $23,000. Pretty good for the Fifth.

Special Notices.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, tho it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahneman, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc., etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curatives for family use are getting to be about as common as tables in a house, and every family should have one.—A case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq; and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. BURR & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. PHILLIPS, wholesale, Portland, Me.; or sent anywhere by mail.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD REPORT fo six months ending Nov. 30, 1861, is published. The receipts for six months from

Expenditures	153,301 45
Balance of earnings	129,146.47
Net interest off	68,174.79
Corresponding months to 1860	150,505.17
Decrease	82,330.38.

The road and equipment have been kept in complete repair, and sundry improvements made upon the line. The relations of the Road to the Grand Junction R. R. & Depot Co. are discussed. The non-payment of dividends, (expected to be paid hereafter without omission) is accounted for in the results of civil war; and the effect of the Lynn Horse Railroad upon the receipts of the Company is also mentioned. A large appendix of statistics shows the operations of the Road in detail, and its indebtedness and assets.

The annual meeting (the time of holding which was changed last July) takes place in Chapman Hall, Boston, on Monday, Feb. 3d, at 10 1-2 o'clock, A. M.

CONCERT.—The celebrated Mendelssohn Quintette Club will give a concert in this city, next Monday evening. This club is now in the 13th year of its existence, and has long been justly celebrated, their selections being admirably adapted to elevate as well as to please the popular taste. The solos by Fries on the violincello, by Ryan on the clarionette, by Schultz on the violin, and by Goering on the flute, are said to be in the highest degree artistic performances. All true lovers of music will gladly avail themselves of the opportunity to hear music of so fine a character as is given by this club. See advertisement in this paper.

☞ Eighty-one men from the receiving ship Ohio, at the Charlestown Navy Yard, arrived at the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Friday afternoon, in charge of Acting Master H. Tibbetts of the Vermont. They will form a portion of the crew of the gunboat Kearsarge.

SUNDAY SERVICES.—Prof. Taylor, of Andover Mass., will preach at the North Church to-morrow.

Mr. Frederick M. Holland, of Dorchester, Mass., a member of the Senior Class at the Cambridge Divinity School, will preach at the Unitarian Church to-morrow.

Mr. Editor:—The question, "What is that problem, &c.," proposed in the Chronicle of 23d inst. is not answered in that of the 24th inst. A SUBSCRIBER.

A CARD.—At a meeting of the members of Engine Co., No. 1, a vote of thanks was returned to James H. Head, Esq., for the beautiful gift of an engraving of "L. Von Beethoven," the great musical composer, not exactly a jewel from the quarry of the mind, but a jewel which we shall keep in remembrance of the donor and the illustrious composer. GEO. M. AYERS, Clerk.
Portsmouth, Jan. 22, 1862.

☞ Mr. Noah A. Swayne, who has been nominated by the President as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the U. S. to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice McLean, the Boston Courier states, has been for years an eminent lawyer in Ohio. He was born in Culpepper county, Virginia, moved to Ohio when quite a youth, and in addition to devoting himself to the practice of the law, he has engaged largely in financial operations for the State and the banks. Mr. Swayne is a conservative Republican in politics.

UNTIMELY BRAGGING.—The following from a boasting editorial in a late Richmond paper, has an odd sound at the present moment:—

"Let us turn for a moment to the West. Price, Polk, Marshall and Zollicoffer have whipped the cowardly mercenaries at every point."

☞ The amount required for the use of the navy for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1863, as reported by the Committee of Ways and Means, is forty-eight millions four hundred and fifty-seven thousand six hundred and nine dollars.

☞ The Kennebec Journal has found another tall man in the Maine Legislature—taller than any of those it has previously mentioned,—Mr. William Hobbs, of North Berwick, whose age is 32 years, height 6 feet 6 inches, and weight 235 lbs. Don't tantalize us any more.

☞ One hundred and sixty thousand children between the ages of four and twenty-one have attended the schools in New York city the past year, besides about twenty thousand who attended the evening schools. The number of teachers employed was 1,700, of whom about 1500 were females.

☞ The chaplain of the Maine Third Regiment, Rev. Henry C. Leonard, performs his duties under difficulties which we trust do not beset all army chaplains. He was put under arrest for reproving one of the officers of the regiment for profane swearing.

TO FAMILIES OF VOLUNTEERS.

The wives or mothers of volunteers who enlisted either as three months' men or for three years or the war, who have ever received or are at present receiving any bounty from the city, (agereeably to ordinance No. 72) are requested to call at the store of Messrs. ☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

From the Journal

ARMY PAY.—The unequal pay in the army is complained of by "a commissioned officer," in a New York paper. For instance, the duties of an orderly sergeant, who receives but $20 a month, are far greater than that of a lieutenant, who gets his $105 and $110. Again, the sergeant major gets only $21, while the chaplain gets $146.50. The "commissioned officer," who gets of course a good haul per month, thinks the pay ought to be reduced essentially. Of the chaplains, while a few have from patriotic motives resigned more lucrative situations, he asks "how many of six or seven hundred ever received such pay before?" If the pay was reduced 25 or even 33 per cent., he thinks few if any of the commissioned officers would resign on that account. We never knew of more than one declination for Governor of New Hampshire, at $1000 a year, — and he lost his balance in the contemplation of the immense responsibility; while we have one hundred lieutenants, in seven regiments, who receive $1470, on an average, with rations for their daily bread.

The Concord & Portsmouth Railroad have declared a dividend of $1.50 per share. This dividend, is made from the rent for 3 months up to the year 1862, the new lease having commenced on the first day of the present year. The travel over this road since the opening of the Manchester branch has largely increased.

We understand the road is doing double the business the present month to that done in January last year. To the opening of the road to Manchester this must in a great measure be attributed. The early train takes many Boston passenger to the Newmarket Junction. It is proposed, when the spring opens, to run three trains a day.

The new depot in Portsmouth is now finished, and affords excellent accommodations to the travelling public. The extention of the track to the wharves gives facilities for freight which have never before been enjoyed here. Success to the enterprise, for the starting of which many of our citizens were heavy sufferers.

It is said that fraudulent contractors have in some instances sold the same horses twice over to the Government. They will turn up next time, we presume, in the shape of army beef.

Last week the rebel batteries on the Potomac fired twenty-six shots at an oyster pungy, but did not hit it. Were the oysters shelled?

If Mr. Seward is a prophet, without honor in his own country, Russell, of the Times, has'n't any honor out of his own country, and deserves precious little there.

The Philomenian Society of South Hampton purpose celebrating Washington's birthday by an oration in the Town Hall, etc.

The Newburyport Bridge corporation has declared a dividend of a dollar and a quarter a share, which, at present value, is 10 per cent. a year.

Popular Lectures.

A COURSE of five Popular Lectures will be given in the TEMPLE, commencing
WEDNESDAY EVENING, Jan. 29.
It has been our endeavor to present a Course of which every lecturer should be a living man, that the people would wish to hear; also to present such a combination of instruction and discussion of the great topics of the day with wit and humor as would preclude the possibility of dry and uninteresting logic.—We now have the pleasure of announcing the following distinguished gentlemen for four of the Lectures:
B. F. SHILLABER, Esq.
ARTEMAS WARD, the great American Showman.
Rev. J. C. FLETCHER.
Prof. CLARENCE BUTLER.
The fifth is not yet engaged. The above are well known and need no recommendation, with the exception of Prof. Butler. He is one of the many Teachers expelled from the South last Spring, having been for years a Professor in a Southern College. He comes highly recommended for his eloquence and ability.—He was tried by Lynch law and sentenced to death on refusing to enter the Southern army, but by the intercession of friends finally escaped with a coat of tar and feathers, and found his way North. This lecture will be a graphic description of the early scenes of the rebellion in an extreme Southern State, and his own experience in connection.
TICKETS for the Course 75 cents; for 1 admission 25 cents—to be had at Shores' Bookstore, Preston's Apothecary Store, and Davis' Daguerrean Gallery.
The opening lecture will be given by B. F. SHILLABER, Esq. Subject, Fun.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no traveling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

MONDAY, JANUARY 27, 1862.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— In the extraordinary amount of business which has occupied the different departments of the Government since the commencement of the war, it was, perhaps, to be anticipated that some slight matters should fail to receive that immediate attention which was their due. But it is difficult to understand why companies of Sharpshooters, composed of picked men, and of whom there has been such constant need in the prosecution of the war thus far, should be neglected, till the neglect has become so manifest as to demand the attention of the Government of the States in which the companies were raised. The company from this State, the Statesman says,—and all accounts agree in saying,—"have been mustered, and are not at present in a condition to do themselves credit or the State good service. They are not yet supplied with rifles,are neglected by their staff officers, and insufficient provision is made for their wants. About all the interest Col. Berdan seems to have in the matter is the retention of his position. It is the intention of Gov. Berry to go to Washington this week, and if some change for the better is not made in their position, he will endeavor to have them assigned to service with some New Hampshire Regiment."

—— The Statesman says the new order to the 4th N. H. Regiment, (requiring the commissioned officers at Port Royal, to select from the corporals and privates of their companies, every week, four who have distinguished themselves most for gentlemanly deportment, proficiency in drill, and attention to Military duty—to be honorably mentioned,) is all very well, but it "would be glad to hear that the corporals and privates of this regiment proposed to select two or three of the staff officers who should most distinguish themselves for gentlemanly deportment, sobriety and good conduct, to be also honorably mentioned."

—— The New Hampshire Third Regiment has had its gray uniform exchanged for handsome blue, and is said to be the finest looking regiment at Port Royal.

—— Mr. James A. Cook, of Sullivan County, is Quartermaster of the N. H. Second, and the officers of that regiment recently presented to him a sword and sash.

—— The eighth regiment struck their tents at Manchester at 8 o'clock, Saturday morning, in a brisk snow-storm, and took the cars for Boston. At the Boston depot they were met by a police force and escorted to Faneuil Hall, where a collation had been provided by the City Government. The regiment is composed of full one thousand men. It was not determined whether to send the regiment to their future quarters at Fort Independence Saturday afternoon or not, on account of the storm and the roughness of the water. There is room there within the works for five companies to live under cover, and the other five companies will have to take up their abode in tents.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Friday, the credentials of Mr. Wilson of Missouri, appointed by the Governor of that State to fill the vacancy occasioned by the expulsion of Mr. Polk, were presented, whereupon objection was made to his admission, on the ground that he had taken part in a disunion meeting in Missouri. Mr. Davis of Kentucky and Mr. Pomeroy of Kansas, however, bore ample testimony to the loyalty of Mr. Wilson, and the objection was withdrawn. The case of Mr. Bright was again taken up and discussed, without result.

The Senate, in executive session, confirmed the nomination of Noah H. Swayne, of Ohio, as Associate Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, and of P. H. Watson, as one of the additional Assistant Secretaries of War.

The House was engaged chiefly upon the Consular and Diplomatic Appropriation bill. They agreed to an amendment creating a consul-generalship at Florence, and struck out the provision for consuls at Hayti and Liberia.

☞ The Baltimore American has assurances that there is a strong Union sentiment in Richmond, and states that in Manchester, on the other side of the river from Richmond, the Confederate flag has never been permitted to flout the loyalty of the place, while on the other hand, only the threat of "shelling" the place from the Richmond side has sufficed to prevent the flag of the Union from being given to the breeze.

NAVAL.—The U. S. gunboat Aroostook, from Kennebunkport, where she was built, arrived at Boston, Thursday afternoon.—She has gone to the Navy Yard to be accepted by the Government, after which she will receive her armament and stores. She made the trip under her own steam, in charge of Capt. N. L. Thompson, one of the builders, Capt. William P. Stone, sailing master, and Stephen Ward, pilot.

☞ Of 17,136 persons employed in the construction of the Roman railways, 6,781 are women, who assist the masons.

THE REBELLION.

The total land forces of the Burnside expedition, according to the most authentic accounts published, may be summed up as follows: Fifteen full regiments and one battalion of infantry; one battery of six pieces of field artillery; forty-five rifled guns, distributed through the fleet, or a total of fifty-one guns at the disposal of the land forces. The regiments are, with two or three exceptions, up to the standard of 1000 men; and adding the gunners in charge of the fleet, the total fighting force amounts to fully 16,900 men, aside from the naval vessels.

A special dispatch Jan. 24th from Cairo says: "The river at this point has risen 25 feet and is still rising. Eleven of the boats forming the pontoon bridge at Paducah were stopped here last night. It is not known how many others have passed down stream. Orders were received last night to put the mortar boats immediately into condition for service. Capt. Constable, commander of the mortar boat fleet, went to Pittsburg this morning, to superintend the shipment of the mortar equipment and ammunition. Gen. Smith is expected to arrive at Paducah from his expedition, to-day or to-morrow."

Officers from Hancock report that the Potomac has risen from 20 to 25 feet, and that there is no possibility of crossing for the present. The rebel Jackson is supposed to be at or near Romney. Gen. Lander has fallen back to the mouth of Patterson Creek, near Cumberland. Gen. Williams' brigade occupied the houses at Hancock, deserted by the citizens on Jackson's approach.

A Nashvile dispatch of the 21st inst., says the sixty days' Mississippi troops have returned home from Bowling Green, Ky.

Gen. Sherman, in a communication to the Washington Intelligencer, proclaims the utter falsity of the statement that the projected plan for the continuance of the expedition at Port Royal was abandoned in consequence of a disagreement between Commodore Dupont and himself. He says the most cordial and friendly feeling and entire harmony have always existed between them.

RUSSIAN OPINION OF GEN. MCCLELLAN.—The following occurs in the report of the New Hampshire festival in New York, a short time since:—

"In response to a sentiment in honor of the Commander-in-Chief—Gen. McClellan—Maj. Roland stated that during a visit to Russia some time since, he was told by Gen. Todtleben, the renowned Russian engineer of the Crimean war, that he (Gen. T.) thought there were at least two great soldiers in the United States. One was Gen. Scott, whom he knew well by fame and warlike acts, and the other through his military works, and that was Capt. McClellan. Gen. Todtleben predicted that if ever the United States should become involved in war, Capt. McClellan would distinguish himself."

☞ The Oldtown, Me., Masons have voted unanimously, to remit the dues of all Brothers while serving in the army to crush out the present rebellion. This Lodge has in the army one General, one Quartermaster, one Chaplain, four Captains, two Lieutenants, one Brigade Clerk, and a large number of private soldiers.—Also one Senator and one Representative in the present State Legislature.

EARTHQUAKE.—Last Wednesday evening, about eight or ten minutes past eight o'clock, a heavy rumbling sound, like that of an earthquake, was heard in various parts of Salem, Mass., and all the towns surrounding.—Danvers, Beverly, Marblehead, Lynn, &c. In some locations the glass in the houses was heard to shake, while in others nothing could be perceived but a deep heavy rumbling. The shock lasted about four seconds.

☞ It is not quite the right season of the year for the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette to tell the following story:—

An insane man, named Lawrence, who, being entirely harmless, was allowed to go at large in Stanton, Vt., recently found a man named Lawton sleeping by the roadside. He procured a sabre and cut Lawton's head off, and, when found, was hiding behind a hedge, watching, as he said, "to see what Lawton would say when he woke up and found his head gone."

☞ Richmond papers of Thursday contain a dispatch from Nashville, dated the 14th inst., saying that it has been distinctly ascertained that considerable quantities of cotton and sugar have recently been sent in wagons through Kentucky to the Ohio river for the North.

A SOLDIER UPON THE POTOMAC FROZEN TO DEATH.—The body of a soldier belonging to a Pennsylvania regiment was found in a field near Gales's woods, one day last week, by some persons who were passing through the field. It is supposed that the man, while in a state of intoxication, lay down and was frozen to death.

☞ The Norfolk Day Book publishes the Federal account of the defeat of Zollicoffer, and says it does not believe a word of it.—It tells its readers that it is a Wall street lie, got up to raise their spirits after the defeat by Jeff. Thompson at Ironton.

☞ The copious rain which fell on Saturday night, thoroughly saturated the large amount of snow upon the roofs of many of the buildings in this city, and occasioned considerable injury. Two-thirds of the roof of the Middle Street Chapel was crushed in, and nearly a third of the one-story portion of the rope-walk at the South End was levelled with the ground.

☞ In a communication transmitted to the Senate on Friday, the Secretary of the Navy states that ship Alabama, on the stocks at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, and the Virginia, at the Charlestown Yard, may be taken to pieces and used in building new vessels. The Alabama was commenced in 1818.

It seems a little singular that among the appropriations for the improvement of the harbor defences of the New-England coast not a dollar should have been devoted to improvement of the fortifications of Portsmouth. That is an important naval station, with some millions of public property, and its defences are not half equal to those which Dupont so unceremoniously knocked to pieces at Port Royal. An English frigate might toss a few shells into Fort Constitution, drive out its little garrison, and burn the navy yard, before a horn could be blown on the back side of Kittery. It looks as if this point is of as much consequence as some others which obtain $100,000 for improvements.—Statesman.

☞ A San Francisco dispatch of the 17th inst. says:—

"During the past fifty hours it has rained here almost incessantly. Yesterday the storm still continued. Yesterday noon the water at Sacramento commenced rising again. The third complete inundation of that city is unavoidable. The area of land now overflowed in the State is twenty miles broad and two hundred and fifty long, making upwards of three millions of acres, mostly arable, a considerable portion being fenced and tilled. It is estimated that upwards of 4500 head of cattle and sheep have been drowned since the winter commenced. The unprecedented succession of tremendous storms have washed the mining regions where the ground was previously dug over, producing great changes, and rendering probable a large increase in the gold product from the placer diggings for the ensuing season."

WHOLESALE DESTRUCTION OF LIQUOR.—A brigadier general, while walking along the street in Alexandria, on Monday, having been shot at with a pistol in the hands of a drunken lieutenant, the provost marshal immediately issued an order for the seizure and destruction of all liquors found in the hotels and restaurants in the city.—The order was executed at once by the provost guard, who visited every rum-hole in the town. A large quantity of the ardent was destroyed.—Washington Republican.

☞ The Territory of Utah is preparing to ask admission into the Union as a State. Delegates assembled at Great Salt Lake City on the 22d inst., and drew up a State Constitution to be submitted to Congress.

☞ Ex-Governor Goodwin, Governor Berry, and Governor Andrew of Massachusetts, are all natives of the State of Maine; Gov. Goodwin of Berwick, and Gov. Berry of Bath.

☞ Harper's New Monthly for Feb., 1862, is received by J. H. Foster. The Coast Rangers, and Bank Note Company, are finely illustrated.

☞ Gen. Mitchell, the Cincinnati astronomer, has become a great favorite with the troops.—The men call him "Old Stars."

TO FAMILIES OF VOLUNTEERS.

The wives or mothers of volunteers who enlisted either as three months' men or for three years or the war, who have ever received or are at present receiving any bounty from the city, (agreeably to ordinance No. 72) are requested to call at the store of Messrs. NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.—The bulk of our readers desire their papers early: and those whose premises are not open till late, run much risk of having their papers stolen, blown away, or spoiled by storms, unless they have a drop-box cut for them in some door or shutter.

Our Carriers are expected to open every unfastened door at subscribers' residences, and place the paper inside; if door not unfastened, then to deposit paper in the safest place without,—and always to ring the bell, or knock. At stores, when open, to place the paper on the counter; when shut, in the best place outside. Any loss of papers, on account of failure to comply with these rules, we will make good; but when we are convinced that the paper has once been thus delivered, we cannot furnish second copies.

Carriers are not allowed to employ other boys to deliver any of their papers—and for information of any instances of such breach of trust, and violation of orders, we shall be much obliged to our subscribers.

Special Notices.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, tho it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahneman, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DR. SCHEFFER'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc., etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curatives for family use are getting to be about as common as babies in a house, and every family should have one.—a case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq., and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. BURR & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. PHILLIPS, wholesale, Portland, Me.; or sent anywhere by

ONE OF THE SLEIGHING PARTIES.—About the biggest and best thing in the way of a sleigh ride, which has occurred in this vicinity for a long time, (if indeed it was ever before equalled here,)or is likely to occur soon again, came off at the Atlantic House, Rye Beach, on Friday afternoon and evening last—also, somewhat, on Saturday morning. It had been talked of for a long while, and the committee to whom at last it was given in charge, had been trying for the whole week, to get the affair off—but obstacles (chiefly the storm) prevented until that evening; and even then the riding was not good, nor was the weather very promising, and "the moon is gone." But "put it through" was that committee's motto —and they did, every one concerned did. It was well the elements were not more propitious—else the thronging hosts would have outnumbered all accommodation.

Mrs. Grundy was not invited—and of the fifty couple or so who were, it was thought a quiet party of perhaps half that number might be gathered. Well,they went,in single teams, in double teams, and the Ivanhoe most sociably crammed—till our host of the Atlantic, (who agreed only to provide for from twenty to thirty couple, and would not promise to take care of more,) opened his eyes with astonishment, as did everybody else, when the register footed up forty couples, including musicians, &c. But "the more, the merrier," this time, sure; and they "made a night of it," which little heeded the angry roar of old ocean near, or the prospective dark ride "home in the morning."

The music (Lamprey's excellent quadrille band, with Mr. J. W. Turner substituted for Mr. L. himself—and almost the only regret for the evening was, that Mr. L.'s engagements elsewhere prevented his being present,—though all passed off admirably as it was,)—the band arrived early, and dancing in the long parlor was brisk until 8 o'clock, when another not less brisk performance (though employing less muscular christianity) was gone through with, to another kind of music, in the yet larger dining room—which was also soon after cleared for the benefit of the "trippers on the fantastic toe" —not all of which were so "light," however.

One singular feature, and as the landlord pleasantly remarked, a new one, was that the assessment for all expenses was made, paid, and all bills settled, before supper! before the party knew what they were to have—which we think, shew full faith in the old Atlantic—which all expressed after supper.

Well, 'nough said, perhaps—as the show's over, though it will be a good while before it is forgotten or excelled. Suffice it to say, everybody was satisfied — (except those chaps out of whom the worthy treasurer "took" 5 cts. each, on the plea that he "couldn't make change;") and it was a subject of wonder, how so bountiful a repast could be hurried up for double the number expected.

For the rest—how "the elephant" was seen—how the memories of J— S. C——and Elder M—— F—— were invoked for the amusement of the company—how the moon was, by and by, called for, but didn't come—how one sleigh load got lost going down, and another broke down after starting for home, and returned; and several more didn't start; and one which finally did, with that lantern,was promised all sorts of mishaps, which didn't happen—how all hands at last got home safe and sound;—is not all written in the memories of "the old folks," so that it needs no further chronicling? Never have we participated in a more entirely social and completely satisfactory excursion of the kind—never do we expect to; and we think the result of the affair,under the circumstances, demonstrates that "some things can be done as well as others."

As a memento of a pleasant time, we put on record the initials of the party, which all who were present will readily recognize:

Mr. & Mrs. C. J. C., Miss M. and Miss L. B. B., Mr. & Mrs. J. W. H., and Mrs. D. M., Mr. & Mrs. A. B. and Miss G. H. S., Mr. & Mrs. C. T. E. and Miss R. O. P., Mr. & Mrs. F. W. M. and Miss A. R. P., Mr. & Mrs. G. W. T., O. F. C., J. O. V., A. W. S., H. F. W., C. H. M., J. W., C. H. B., M. F., H. F. G., C. C. J., S. J. D., A. L. M., I. M. L., M. H. G., and J. H.
Mr. W. E. H. and Miss C. P.,
Mr. C. L. T. and Miss E. M. S,
Mr. W. W. H. and Miss I. S.
Mr. M. L. H. and Miss A. C.
Mr. F. D. W. and Miss L. J. L.
Mr. J. N. T., jr., and Miss E. S.
Mr. R. L. and Miss M. A. L.
Mr. J. W. S., Miss L. B. F. and Miss A. S. F.
Mr. J. L. J. and Miss L. J.
Mr. F. H. B. and Miss J. B.
Messrs. F. W. M. and W. W. C.—73.

And while we are about it, we will add, that the whole arrangements were most satisfactorily carried out by Mr. John C. Philbrick and lady, of the Atlantic; and also by the gentlemanly clerk, Mr. Lougee, and a remarkably neat and prompt corps of waiters and attendants. And not a little credit is due also, to the biggest and oldest (he says the youngest) man on the committee, for the smooth working of everything. The musicians also, (Messrs. E. H., A. W. P., J. W. T., and J. K.,) were genial and obliging as need be; while the pleasure of the long omnibus ride was in great measure due to the skill and good nature of the drivers, (Messrs. C. H.S. and F. C.) and the determination of the crowd to have a good time—which if anybody there failed of, it must have been because they didn't know how to have one. Capt. H., who we believe first started the party, has the floor—though we don't wish to be understood as saying the gallant Captain is floored—not at all.

☞ The soldiers at Fort McClary long since proved themselves to be most agreeable and hospitable gentlemen, and several parties from this city during the past few months have enjoyed and appreciated their hospitality. A few evenings since, as we learn from a correspondent who is enthusiastic in his praises of the condition of the garrison, and his description of the pleasures incident upon a sleigh-ride to the Fort, a party of eight young gentlemen, having accepted a kind invitation from Capt. Andrews, rode down. He says:—

"We enjoyed a social chat for an hour or so, and then were introduced to a surprise gotten up for us in the shape of a fine vocal and instrumental concert, interspersed with recitations from Shakspeare, and also jokes and witticisms original and appropriate to the times. These were listened to, by quite a large number of neighbors, invited guests from the vicinity, and our company, and added not a little to the pleasure of our visit. After the concert we were invited to a sumptuous repast, (which, as it appears, very nearly induced the whole company to go right off and enlist "for a soldier.") Another hour of pleasant was conversation, followed in turn by a pleasant ride home.

☞ The Mendelssohn Quintette Club, who are to give a concert at the Temple this, Monday, evening, are too well-known, at least by reputation, to require any detailed statement of their merits by us.—They gave a concert in Brunswick, Me., a short time since, and the editor of the Telegraph, whom we know to be an excellent judge and independent enough to critizise severely whenever he thinks such criticism deserved,—thus refers to it:

The concert was very numerously attended,—the audience comprising all the true lovers of melody in the village,—people who could well appreciate the excellent music given by the Club. It is needless for us to say that the concerted pieces were played with all the grace, delicacy, and expression for which this Club has been long and justly celebrated, and their selections were admirably adapted to please the popular ear, while at the same time they tend to elevate the popular taste. An almost death-like stillness prevailed while the mournful but pleasing strains of Pleyel's Hymn were so sweetly thrown upon the air. The solos were artistic in the highest degree. The quiet modesty of demeanor which characterizes these gentlemen attracts your good opinion at once; the tones which they produce upon their respective instruments, added to the great skill with which they are played, rivet your attention, and cause you to regret that music really so fine should so soon have an end. We have often heard Fries, Ryan and Schultze, but Mr. Goering we listened to for the first time on Thursday evening. For purity of tone and delicacy of touch his flute is not surpassed, and his taste is severe almost to a fault.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors — Can you tell why the banks in this city refuse to receive demand Treasury notes on deposit, when they are received in Boston at banks and elsewhere. We confess we "we can't see it:" the Treasury notes form the circulation about town, and the bills of banks of course are sent home all the sooner for that reason. It perhaps is as well, for Uncle Sam's paper now circulates instead of the banks'. V.P.

[We certainly cannot tell why, as we have not the honor to be a director in any of those useful institutions; but we presume it is because the managers do not deem it to be for the interest of their stockholders to take them—while the people do think it theirs to use them.]

For the Chronicle.

GAS.—The price of gas in Exeter is 4 mills foot, per Concord 3 1-2, Boston 2 1-4, in Portsmouth 4 1-4. The Co. in Exeter furnish without charge till next Spring, gas for a large number of street lamps. G.

[In Portsmouth 12 per cent is discounted for cash, which brings the price down to 3 3-4 cts. per foot, or $3.75 per thousand feet. We do not know whether such an arrangement exists elsewhere, or whether our correspondent gives the net price in the other places named.

☞ See advertisement of "Muscular Christianity." This seems to be the most in demand now-a-days; and it reminds Uncle Toby of Father Litchfield, who used to preach at Spruce Creek, Kittery, and a favorite petition in whose prayer, was, that "the Lord would give us a truly masculine piety"—marsculine, he pronounced it—which rendering will do for these times.

☞ See Mr. Pearson's advertisment of pianos from the celebrated and unexcelled manufactory of Hallett, Davis & Co. Mr. Pearson is fully competent to make selections, and will furnish pianos of any make at the lowest paices.

GYMNASTICS.

"MUSCULAR CHRISTIANITY" is the title of an illustrated lecture which Mr. Knowlton, graduate of Amherst College, for five years practical gymnast, and recently from the best gymnasiums of Boston and Cambridge, proposes to deliver in the Temple, next Tuesday evening.

Under the term "Muscular Christianity," Mr. K. includes the physical department of morality, which requires that care and culture of the body which make it the better servant of mind and spirit; furnish increased ability for every work imposed by moral and christian obligation, and insure the health, strength, happiness and long life which nature intended.

Illustrative exercises selected from the systems of Dr. Lewis and Dr. Windship, and adapted to both sexes and all ages, will be explained and exhibited by the lecturer; while a class of lads and misses from the public school will illustrate gymnastic and calisthenic games, suited alike for school recreation and home amusement.

We hope this physical culture, so long monopolized by pugilists and the sporting fraternity, will soon become a part of our regular education, until not even the ministers will be considered "thoroughly furnished" without well cultivated bodies.

Mr. K. invites attention to illustrative drawings at the post office, also to circulars containing a full statement of particulars.

Popular Lectures.

A COURSE of five Popular Lectures will be given in the TEMPLE, commencing

WEDNESDAY EVENING, Jan. 29.

It has been our endeavor to present a Course of which every lecturer should be a living man, that the people would wish to hear; also to present such a combination of instruction and discussion of the great topics of the day with wit and humor as would preclude the possibility of dry and uninteresting logic.—We now have the pleasure of announcing the following distinguished gentlemen for four of the Lectures:

B. F. SHILLABER, Esq.
ARTEMAS WARD, the great American Showman.
Rev. J. C. FLETCHER
Prof. CLARENCE BUTLER.

The fifth is not yet engaged. The above are well known and need no recommendation, with the exception of Prof. Butler. He is one of the many Teachers expelled from the South last Spring, having been for years a Professor in a Southern College. He comes highly recommended for his eloquence and ability.—He was tried by Lynch law and sentenced to death on refusing to enter the Southern army, but by the intercession of friends finally escaped with a coat of tar and feathers, and found his way North. This lecture will be a graphic description of the early scenes of the rebellion in an extreme Southern State, and his own experience in connection.

TICKETS for the Course 75 cents; for 1 admission 25 cents—to be had at Shores' Bookstore, Preston's and N. P. Thacher's Apothecary Stores, and Davis' Daguerrean Gallery.

The opening lecture will be given by B. F. SHILLABER, Esq. Subject, Pen.
Jan. 25. Per order of Committee.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., which we feel sure that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE, and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no traveling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 28, 1862.

☞ While at Concord, a few weeks since, we rode over the Merrimack, to the camp of the N. H. Cavalry. The scene in the vicinity was novel and strangely picturesque. It was afternoon watering-time, and as we rode up the nice, level road, deep cut in the mountain, there were several of the cavalry horses quaffing from the nice drinking-troughs at the roadside, the sparkling liquid with which they are constantly filled by the never ceasing stream from out of the hill-side. Their respective riders were mounted on each—and as the horses all wore blankets, and were ridden with cluttery looking halter-bridles, without saddles, and the men mostly had on their white rubber overcoats or gray colored frocks—the numbers of such, passing and repassing, singly or in squads of from five to twenty, (reminding one of a Mexican or California ranche,)—in that sloping mountain gorge, with the pure snow for a carpet, and the tall evergreen forest rising all around—presented a very beautiful spectacle. The County Fair Grounds are admirably fitted for an encampment—having good buildings to accomodate a large body of men and horses. And thanks to the enterprise and public spirit of Nathaniel White, Esq., and Mayor Humphrey, of Concord—these Fair Grounds are also the best for fairs, that we ever saw,—embracing also, a good half-mile track and thirty acres of land, in their enclosure.

But the rarest, most beautiful sight, was to be enjoyed on our way back to the city. As we descended again into the river valley, just before entering the long, covered bridge—as we looked up at the yet higher hills towering on the opposite side of the river, behind the city—it being nearly sun set, with a sky somewhat flecked with light snow-clouds,—the horizon, as viewed from our point of observation, just beneath and almost around the sun, became decked with what we must call a snow-bow, (not at all like a "sun-dog" or halo, but like a perfect rainbow)—of narrow span, but nearly completing the circle, and presenting colors almost as brilliant as the brightest rainbow. It was not snowing at the time, near us, and had not been; and having never, before or since, seen or heard of this to us strange beauty, we were not a little surprised and delighted. Can't our friends of the Portsmouth Journal, or the Boston Traveller or Transcript, tell us aught of it? At any rate, it was "a thing of beauty," and will be to us "a joy forever."

☞ The London Times has a strong editorial on the reception due to Mason and Slidell. It says they are about the most worthless booty it would be possible to extract from the jaws of the American lion, having been long known as blind and habitual haters and revilers of England. It sincerely hopes Englishmen will not give these fellows anything in the shape of an ovation, as the civility due to foes in distress is all they can claim. England has returned them good for evil, and even now, if they can, they will be only too happy to entangle her in a war with the North. England would have done just as much to rescue two negroes. Let Mason and Slidell therefore pass quietly on their way, and have their say with anybody who may have to listen to them. Other journals advise a similar course, and allude to Mason's strong advocacy of the fugitive slave law to prejudice the public against him

Two Sides to a Question.—Here is the first. The London Times reiterates its denunciation of the stone blockade of Charleston Harbor, and says that among the crimes which have disgraced the history of mankind it would be difficult to find one more atrocious than this. Even the fierce tribes of the desert will not destroy the well which gives life to the enemy. It protests in the strongest terms against such proceedings, and asserts that no belligerent has a right to resort to such warfare.

Here is the second. The Norfolk Day Book recommends the obstruction of the rivers and harbors of the rebel States.

☞ David Davis, formerly an officer in the British Army, was found dead in his room, in Bethlehem Hospital, on the last day but one of the old year, at the age of sixty-seven. After forty-four years of confinement as a lunatic, death mercifully came to his relief. A coroner's inquest developed the fact, which most men had probably forgotten, that in the year 1818 he had attempted to take the life of Lord Palmerston, the then Secretary of War, by firing a pistol at him in the street. He was arrested, and tried at the Old Bailey on the 1st of May, 1818. The jury acquitted him on the ground of insanity, and by the order of the Home Secretary he was removed to Bethlehem Hospital. The warder went as usual on Monday morning to give him his ordinary meal, when, on opening the door, he found the deceased leaning against the back of a chair, quite dead.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— With the departure of the Eighth Regiment the quota of troops called for from this State became full, and all will be in service. This force comprises seven regiments of infantry, a battery of light artillery, a battalion of cavalry and three companies of sharpshooters. One other regiment was raised for three months service, which is now disbanded. It is stated by those who have had the best opportunities for comparison, that the soldiers of New Hampshire are equal to any in the field; that they have been admirably equipped, and, what is of some consequence, this has been done at an outlay of money as moderate as that of any State. It is certainly creditable to the authorities of the State that this much may be said truthfully. We do not know but what the proportion of troops from some other states may all be in the field. If not the first, New Hampshire is certainly not the last to make full response to the call of the Government.—Statesman.

—— The Rochester, N. Y. Daily Union, asks if it "would not be well to raise a missionary corps and send them to Salem, New Hampshire, to give light to a deluded people who will tolerate such a nest of swindlers as it thinks must reside there." It says:—

"The lottery swindlers at Salem, N. H. continue to send out their confidence letters in manuscript. One was shown us this morning addressed to a citizen, and signed Geo. C. Burbank. The writer pretends that he can get a prize from the scheme of Gleason, Webster and Co., already drawn, by sending a certain sum of money. The object of offering him this prize is to secure his influence in this locality for the sale of tickets. We have been shown a score of letters like this, sent from the same source into Western New York, and we have no doubt they are sent to all parts of the country. That Salem must be a beautiful place to live in among such a pack of swindlers, provided they are as numerous as the signatures we have seen to their confidence letters.

—— The other day as the Colonel of a New Hampshire Regiment was taking a short walk outside of the camp, he met a soldier who was, to use his own expression, "pretty tolerably drunk." The soldier had a canteen of whiskey, which he handed to the Colonel upon being requested to do so. The Colonel drew the stopper, turned up the canteen, and poured the whiskey into the gutter. The soldier watched the fluid gurgling from the neck of the canteen, until the last drop had fallen, when he regretfully observed, "I suppose that's all right, Colonel, but I never could have had the heart to have done it."

—— The new Democratic Union Party in New Hampshire, consider "both the present political parties objectionable," and invite to their meeting, "all who esteem country and republican liberty above party, and are in favor of sustaining the Government in its endeavors to maintain the supremacy of the Federal Constitution and laws throughout the land, and in suppressing the present wicked and causeless rebellion, and in inflicting just punishment upon its promoters, aiders and sympathizers."

—— Nov. 19, 1787, a meeting of the proprietors of undivided lands in the town of Keene, was held, at which it was voted to lay out a tract, containing fifty acres, to be kept for a wood lot, for fire wood for the use of the Gospel Minister of said town forever, and to be under the care of the selectmen of the town, who should prosecute and prevent trespasses on the same. Some six or seven ministers are now annually supplied with wood from the lot, and heretofore there has been no trouble about the matter. But as the lot has been haggled all over, and the wood, especially the hard wood, has been pretty much all used up, the question arises, have the different societies all an equal right to the wood? or is it confined to one, who is the only minister settled by the town.

Foreign.—The Europa, at Halifax, brings intelligence from Europe to the 12th inst. The dispatch of Mr. Seward in relation to the Trent affair was considered in a Cabinet Council held on the 9th. According to the Times, it was decided to return an answer expressing gratification at the disavowal of Capt. Wilkes' act, and accepting the satisfaction rendered. The Government declines to enter into a discussion of neutral and belligerent rights at present. Perhaps the circumstance that the preparations for war, which the English Government have been induced to make on their own account, will cost some four millions sterling, will not tend to render the reception of the traitors remarkably cordial.—The U. S. steamer Tuscarora remained at Southampton, watching the privateer Nashville. It was reported that the Sumter had left Cadiz and was on her way to Southampton. There is no news of importance from the continent. In the Liverpool cotton market prices had advanced 3-4 a 1d. on the week, the market closing firm.—Prices of breadstuffs and produce generally had declined, but naval stores were higher. Consols closed on the 11th at 93 1-4 a 93 1-2.

THE REBELLION.

Special dispatches from Washington state that Asst. Sec. Fox, of the Navy, feels confident that the Burnside expedition had ere this struck a blow at a point which, with the advance of Gen. Buell into Tennessee, will cut off all rebel communication with Virginia and the States south of it. Gen. McClellan, it is said, interprets the absence of all news from the Burnside expedition by flag of truce to Fortress Monroe as favorable; as, if the expedition had failed we should hear of such fact through rebel sources. There is a report in many of the Southern papers that one of the transports belonging to the fleet had been run ashore and burned to prevent its falling into the enemy's hands, but where this disaster took place, if it has really occurred, is not stated.

Jeff. Thompson has again appeared on the Missouri border with 800 men, completely sacking the houses of Union men. An expedition would leave in pursuit of the marauders.

The Memphis Appeal says that the British residents of Mobile have organized into a company for home defence.

An expedition from Camp Girardeau, Mo., captured the rebel Lieut. Col. Farmer and 11 other officers and 68 privates, with a quantity of arms, horses, saddles, etc.—Most of the rebel officers were surprised and captured in a ball room.

A rebel dispatch from Knoxville, Tenn., says Gen. Crittenden (the rebel) has retired, and will make a stand at Monticello. The rebels at last admit their defeat at Somerset, Ky. Their account says:—

"Gen. Crittenden began the attack at 7 o'clock on Sunday morning. The enemy was supposed to be 1500, and was afterwards found out to be 14,000 strong. Gen. Zollicoffer was killed early in the action.—Gen. Crittenden was wounded. Col. Carroll took command of the forces and recrossed Cumberland river. Our loss was 300. The enemy lost 400 or 500. Rutledge's and McClung's batteries were left on the field. We marched seven miles.—The enemy were repulsed three times and fell back to their fortifications. They then outflanked us. We retreated to our breastworks, were surrounded and crossed the Cumberland river under fire at 8 o'clock Sunday night. We lost all our horses, tents, equipments, and eleven guns were spiked or thrown into the river. Colonels Powell, Butler, Stahn and Cummings were wounded. Major Fobb was wounded in the hip. Gen. Zollicoffer's body has not been recoverd. Our forces were 6000.—We are falling back."

Fire in Boston.—Fire broke out in Quincy Market, Boston, about 5 o'clock, Monday morning—from what cause is not yet known. Much difficulty was experienced in getting the engines to the fire, on account of the bad condition of the streets.

Owing to the great accumulation of greasy matter on the frames and bars in the different stalls, as well as to the thoroughly seasoned lumber of which they are built the flames made rapid progress along the section westerly of the centre or dome, until they were checked by the firemen. The entire length of the market is about 586 feet, and although the flames did not extend eastwardly beyond the centre of the building, yet the heat was so intense that the paint at the extreme east end about the fish stalls was scorched and badly blistered.

Every stall in the market, as well as the meats and produce in each, was damaged to a greater or less extent by fire, heat, smoke or water. Eggs and apples, at a long distance from the flames, were thoroughly roasted in some of the stalls, and almost every article of provisions, with the exception of fresh fish and other stock in refrigerators, was affected by the intense heat and smoke.

The flames worked up to the long hall above, occupied by dealers in agricultural implements and seeds, destroying a large lot of hoes, shovels, forks and other farming tools, together with a large quantity of recently imported and very valuable seeds of different varieties; and thence through the roof, of which some 25 or 30 feet in length was destroyed and fell into the room. The Traveller estimates the amount of damage done at over $100,000.

A Car Blown off the Track.—A tremendous gale prevailed all through the western part of Vermont on Saturday morning. As the train which left Troy, N. Y. for Rutland at 7:15 A. M., was five miles above Bennington, in the town of Shaftsbury, it encountered the gale while passing an embankment about 30 feet high. One of the cars was broken from its couplings and thrown by the force of the wind down the bank. Rev. Dr. H. G. O. Dwight, the missionary, of Constantinople, was instantly killed; the road master was injured. He will not survive. One other man and two ladies were slightly injured.

☞ John J. Crittenden is deeply affected by the news from Kentucky, and has not been in the House since the report of the battle of Somerset was received. Although he has two sons in the Union army, the presence of one in the rebel army, his eldest, overwhelms him with grief.

☞ A resolution was introduced into the Maryland Legislature on Saturday, requesting Senators Pearce and Kennedy to resign, on the ground that at this juncture the State should be represented by Senators whose hearts beat responsive to the throb of devotion to the integrity of the Union felt by the great popular heart of Maryland.

☞ The London Herald says that England and France have every inducement, on commercial grounds, to recognize the independence of the Confederacy, as unless the step is manfully taken by Ministers at once, it is certain to be taken by Parliament on assembling. The news now going forward to England will be a damper to rebel sympathizers.

☞ Destructive fires occurred in New York on Saturday night and Sunday morning, involving a loss estimated at seven or eight hundred thousand dollars. Among the property destroyed was the Fulton Bank and the storage establishment of R. H. Wyatt, Pearl street.

☞ In Roxbury, Mass., on Sunday morning, the body of an unknown man, about thirty years of age, was found in an alley way near Washington street and Guild Row. The body was removed to the almshouse. The man was probably intoxicated, and after crawling into the alley froze to death.

☞ The rebel newspapers advertise for Northern funds, for which a premium will be paid.

Special Notices.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, tho it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahneman, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc., etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curatives for family use are getting to be about as common as bibles in a house, and every family should have one,—a case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. ☞ All persons interested in the real progress of the human race, especially youth, and parents or teachers, should hear the lecture, and enjoy the teachings, on Muscular Christianity, advertised for this (Tuesday) evening, and noticed at length in the last column on this page.

That our citizens may have no misapprehension of this lecture and its accompanying exercises, we would say that our brethren of the press in the cities where Mr. Knowlton has already appeared, speak of him not only as a strong and skillful gymnast, but a hearty, wide-awake man and a lively and entertaining lecturer, presenting his subject in a refined and elevated manner, with great earnestness, abundant illustration, and much success.

We hope this physical culture so long monopolized by pugilists and the sporting fraternity, will speedily find its long vacant place in our regular education, until not even the ministry will be considered thoroughly furnished without well cultivated bodies. Old and young—male and female—citizens and soldiers—all need better health and greater strength in peace and war, and we may learn to get them in the Muscular Christianity Lecture.

☞ We are glad—everybody almost will be glad, that we are to have a short course of lyceum lectures, this season, after all. By the advertisement of "Popular Lectures" in another column on this page, it will be seen that Mr. Shillaber,—one of Portsmouth's favorite sons, and one who, though highly honored everywhere abroad, yet is not without deserved honor here at home also—will open the course to-morrow (Wednesday) evening, with his new lecture on Fun. Well, Ben. has made fun enough in his time, and ought to know something about it. We can add no attraction to the charm of B. P. Shillaber's name, for a Portsmouth audience.

Artemas Ward (who is one of Mr. Shillaber's wards, as well—and his hearty endorsement will do not a little to gain him favor here as a lecturer, in advance,) is in the list also; and Rev. J. C. Fletcher, who can and has so well spoken for himself to our readers; and another gentleman famous elsewhere but not known here—and one other first-class lecturer not yet decided on, make up the series of five entertainments, which are got up by responsible and public-spirited gentlemen, who are unwilling the winter should pass without something of the sort. We hope all who ought to care to provide instructive entertainment for themselves and the public, especially for the young, will procure season tickets, which are put at as low a price as they can be afforded.

☞ The following is a correct list of the officers of the U. U. S. steamer Kearsarge, which will probably sail from the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Thursday:

C. W. Pickering, Commander.
T. C. Harris, Lieutenant.
John M. Browne, Surgeon.
Jos. A. Smith, Ass't Paymaster.
E. M. Stoddard, Acting Master.
James R. Wheeler, "
J. H. Sumner, "
Ed. E. Preble, Acting Midshipman.
F. A. Graham, Acting Gunner.
James C. Walton, Boatswain.
Chas. H. Danforth, Master's Mate.
Ezra Bartlett, "
W. H. Cushman, Chief Engineer,
James W. Whittaker, 1st Ass't Engineer.
W. H. Badlam, 2d " "
Fred'k L. Miller, 3d " "
Henry McConnell, 3d " "
Sidney L. Smith, 3d " "
Charles O. Muzzey, Commander's Clerk.
Geo. A. Title, Surgeon's Steward.
Dan'l B. Sargent, Paymaster's Steward.

☞ We are pleased to learn that Mr. Charles C. Ricker, of this city, who went out as Master's Mate in the U. S. ship Santee, has been promoted to the position of Sailing Master. During the sickness of some of the officers of that vessel, he fulfilled the duties of that office—for which he is fully competent.

In the Supreme Judicial Court, at Exeter, the jury in the case of Smith vs. Mace, returned a verdict for plf., for $367.90

Wheeler & ux. vs. Woodbury was commenced, but taken from the jury, and judgment entered for the plf., by agreement, for $45 damages, and $35 costs.

Case of Joseph Smith vs. Lucy Smith was commenced on Friday. The defendant is the mother of the plf. The action is brought to recover a balance of $50.75, upon an account for board, lodging, nursing and attendance, and necessaries furnished the deft. by plf. The action was referred to an auditor, to state the accounts between the parties, who reported a balance of $98 due the deft. The plf., dissatisfied with the report, elected a trial by jury.

☞ Workmen employed upon the Navy Yard will be pleased to learn that payments on the December pay roll will be made on Thursday next, Jan 30th.

New Hampshire.—It is said that Judge Jackson, who presided over the Democratic convention at Concord, N. H., on Thursday, is eighty years old. He represented the party. Of late years few young men upon coming to be voters have joined the Democratic party. It is the reverse of what it was in former times. We believe it was Judge Story, who being taunted with a change in politics, said he deemed any man a fool who was not a Democrat before he was thirty, and any man a fool who was one after he was thirty. However that might be, young men generally have extravagant notions of liberty and equality; but as they grow older they acquire property, which has a tendency to render them conservative, and they have less faith in, as they have a better acquaintance with, the masses of mankind.

So under the old party organizations the young and active men were Democrats, and the older Federalists or Whigs. Lately the young have been Republicans and the older Democrats or Unionists. But we do not deem it impossible that the old man's party may look up in the coming New Hampshire election and possibly open the political year against the administration.—Very many of the young men equal to the entire Republican majority of that State, have gone to war and many others have obtained the little petty offices about the State, which injures their influence, while the idea of taxation is as startling as a midnight ghost to a farmer. These things, we imagine, leave parties in New Hampshire very nearly equal to-day, and if it should be an active canvass the Republicans will be forced to use the utmost exertion to save the State.—Newburyport Herald.

—— The Eighth Regiment of N. H. Volunteers were quartered in Faneuil Hall until Sunday afternoon, when they went down to Fort Independence. Lieut. Jacob C. Main, of Co. G, was an officer in the rebel army at the beginning of the war, but managed to escape, and has now accepted a commission in the Federal army. On Saturday evening, two privates—Michael T. Sullivan of Co. A, and James Doherty of Co. K—jumped from the second story window of Faneuil Hall and were severely injured, the latter probably fatally. A drunken corporal named Welch was arrested during the evening and committed, for making an assault on several persons with his bayonet.

☞ The number of horses in Massachusetts, one year old and upwards, is 90,000—barely enough, if all were in suitable condition, to mount the cavalry regiment of our army.

☞ Steamer Kate, formerly the Caroline, arrived at Nassau on the 18th inst., in 43 hours from Charleston, with 300 bales of cotton and eight passengers. She flies the rebel flag.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London; and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

DEATHS.

In this city, on Sunday, Jan. 26th, very suddenderly, Capt. Joseph W. Marden, aged 61 years. He was a large, deshy man, and in the enjoyment of his usual good health; but went to his chamber to take a nap after dinner, and one of the family going up, found him in a sort of apoplectic fit, which terminated his life in a few minutes. He had long been, and we believe was now one of the City Watch; and was a right down pleasant and companionable old gentleman.

Funeral on Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Friends and relatives are invited to attend.

In Kensington, Mrs. Catherine Blake, ~72.

GYMNASTICS.

"Muscular Christianity" is the title of an illustrated lecture which Mr. Knowlton, graduate of Amherst College, for five years practical gymnast, and recently from the best gymnasiums of Boston and Cambridge, proposes to deliver in the Temple, this Tuesday evening.

Under the term "Muscular Christianity," Mr. K. includes the physical department of morality, which requires that care and culture of the body which make it the better servant of mind and spirit; furnish increased ability for every work imposed by moral and christian obligation, and insure the health, strength, happiness and long life which nature intended.

Illustrative exercises selected from the systems of Dr. Lewis and Dr. Windship, and adapted to both sexes and all ages, will be explained and exhibited by the lecturer; while a class of lads and misses from the public school will illustrate gymnastic and calisthenic games, suited alike for school recreation and home amusement.

We hope this physical culture, so long monopolized by pugilists and the sporting fraternity, will soon become a part of our regular education, until not even the ministers will be considered "thoroughly furnished" without well cultivated bodies.

Mr. K. invites attention to illustrative drawings at the post office, also to circulars containing a full statement of particulars.

Popular Lectures.

A COURSE of five Popular Lectures will be given in the TEMPLE, commencing

WEDNESDAY EVENING, Jan. 29.

It has been our endeavor to present a Course of which every lecturer should be a living man, that the people would wish to hear; also to present such a combination of instruction and discussion of the great topics of the day with wit and humor as would preclude the possibility of dry and uninteresting logic.—We now have the pleasure of announcing the following distinguished gentlemen for four of the Lectures:

B. P. SHILLABER, Esq.
ARTEMAS WARD, the great American Showman.
Rev. J. C. FLETCHER.
Prof. CLARENCE BUTLER.

The fifth is not yet engaged. The above are well known and need no recommendation, with the exception of Prof. Butler. He is one of the many Teachers expelled from the South last Spring, having been for years a Professor in a Southern College. He comes highly recommended for his eloquence and ability.—He was tried by Lynch law and sentenced to death on refusing to enter the Southern army, but by the intercession of friends finally escaped with a coat of tar and feathers, and found his way North. This lecture will be a graphic description of the early scenes of the rebellion in an extreme Southern State, and his own experience in connection.

Tickets for the Course 75 cents; for 1 admission 25 cents—to be had at Shores' Bookstore, Preston's and N. P. Thacher's Apothecary Stores, and Davis' Daguerrean Gallery.

The opening lecture will be given by B. P. SHILLABER, Esq. Subject, Fun.

Jan. 25. Per order of Committee.

Portsmouth, N. H.,

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 29, 1862.

JAMAICA.—In this populous island there is a brisk demand for laborers. In its 6400 square miles, it contains about 400,000 people. Its exports, after being greatly diminished by emancipation, are now increasing especially in pimento and coffee. Its imports of dutiable articles, in the last 22 or 23 years, have greatly increased. The ad valorem duties increased from 6,000,000 pounds sterling in 1852, to 44,000,000 in 1855. And now the people of Jamaica are desirous of negro immigration from Canada and the United States. The Watchman, a Jamaica paper, says that the influx of escaped slaves and free negroes from this continent would contribute to the elevation of the people of Jamaica, as those people would prove more energetic, and on their arrival in the island, institute the free schools and self-sustaining mode of religious worship to which they have been accustomed in the United States and Canada. It suggests the appointment of competent and responsible agents of their own race, to explain the inducements which are held out to them in Jamaica, and guarantee that each family and single man should have 25 acres of available land at easy terms, say a dollar and a quarter per acre, and long payments.

PLAYED OUT.—"An Emancipationist," with a perseverance worthy a newer if not a better cause, persists in sending us frequent anonymous items, both original and selected, going to show slavery to be "the sum of all villanies." Now while we do not acknowledge that anonymous communications are entitled even to this negative notice, yet we should perhaps be inclined to publish some of the paragraphs sent, (since they are well prepared and interesting enough to a certain class of readers,) but for the fact that our columns have already been surfeited with such—and that while we are ready to acknowledge, if you will, that a nigger is as good as a white man, we won't allow ye he is any better; and we are tired of the everlasting wrangling about the matter, and mean to keep our papers out of it in future if we can. Let the polit cians and others fight the battle, whose interest it is, and whose delight—it is'n't ours. PUB.

MONEY AND JUSTICK.—If the demand treasury notes were made a legal tender in satisfaction of debts and receivable for all dues, they would speedily become a safe and convenient national currency. Meantime some of the army officers at Alexandria have arrested and committed to durance vile, a merchant who declined to take a demand note of a negro at par for goods. If there is any more certain way to bring discredit upon the Government notes than this ignorant, tyrannical, Turkish-Pacha sort of proceeding on the part of its military officers, we are at a loss to know what it is.—Wilkes' Spirit.

Now we very much doubted the truth of this newspaper statement of arrest,—but if true, it proves that this is getting to be a free country very fast—for niggers. F.

CONGRESS, Monday.—In the Senate, Mr. Hale, of this State, made a report from the Naval Committee, in relation to Secretary Welles' explanation of the Morgan contract. The Committee censure the Secretary and Mr. Morgan, and come to the conclusion that $70,000 of the public money, now in the latter's hand belongs to the Government, and should at once be restored to the national treasury, and reasonable compensation be paid him for his services.—Mr. Latham, of California, made a speech against the expulsion of Mr. Bright. Mr. Hale offered a resolution as to the cost of the ships Pennsylvania and Alabama, and whether they are fit for sailing vessels or can be made into steamers. Laid over.

In the House, the Congressional Investigating Committee, made their report, through Mr. Potter, the chairman. Charges have been investigated against over 500 persons. Mr. Colfax from the Postoffice Committee, reported a bill to render more uniform the postage on printed matter.—The West point Academy appropriation bill was under consideration in Committee of the Whole, after which the bill was reported to the House and passed.

☞ Thomas Dilworth of Solebury, Pa., shot his wife on Sunday last. She was about to join the Baptist church at Point Pleasant, to which he was opposed. She started to go to church, when he took down the gun and discharged its contents into her thigh, below the groin. The wound is not considered mortal.

☞ Cardinal Mathieu, being some time ago called upon to bless the engines of a new railway, took the opportunity to inveigh against steam and electricity as diabolical inventions. One of the engines, breaking away accidentally, "hissed" his speech, and provoked great laughter.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—A correspondent of the Boston Post in announcing the death of Col. Mark Gillis, the proprietor of the well known Indian Head Hotel in Nashua, between 9 and 10 o'clock on Saturday evening, says:—

Not more than ten or fifteen minutes before he expired, he was engaged in cheerful conversation with a few gentlemen, his guests, in the office of his hotel, and was excited to unwonted mirth, even to hearty laughter, by some remarks which fell from one of the party. He was observed to leave the room abruptly, taking with him a hand lamp, but nobody dreamed of his being ill. On the contrary, his appearance indicated the most robust health, and his conversation the highest flow of spirits.—Scarcely had he reached his private room however, when a low moaning sound of intense distress was heard from him, which instantly rallied us all to his aid. Once, for a single instant, he looked up, declared the crisis had passed, and that he would soon be better. Poor man, he was mistaken.—His pulse at once ceased to beat, his hands, were cold, and he was gone forever. It was disease of the heart. He had had premonitions for two or three years, of what would probably be the result, so that in some degree, he was not taken by surprise. Col. Gillis was a native of Hillsborough County, N. H., and fifty-six years of age. He was a man of much intelligence, and of great energy and activity. He was many years ago an officer in the customs, I think, an inspector. He has held also, for a time, the place of mail agent for the United States, fulfilling faithfully his duties. But he is better known to the public as the courteous, capable and obliging landlord of the Indian Head Hotel, in which capacity he made thousands of friends, who will read with unfeigned sorrow, this melancholy record of the close of his useful life. His funeral, on Tuesday, will be attended by his brethren of the Masonic Fraternity.

COAL OIL is becoming as remarkable for the variety of uses to which it may be applied, as India rubber. It is now employed as part of a charge of a new military shell, and highly successful experiments have been made with it, recently, at Meadville, Penn. The peculiarity of this novel bomb consists in the introduction of a small quantity of petroleum or native rock oil, which is exceedingly inflammable. The explosion of the shell ignites the oil, which is scattered far and wide in a blazing state. It is said to set in flames every combustible material within its reach, and that it is almost impossible to extinguish the fire. Water, we are told, has no effect upon it, and it can only be subdued by a smothering process, which is not readily applicable to a widespread conflagration. In the experiment at Meadville, piles of wood, and acres of grass and brush were consumed by the terrible contrivance. The government has ordered a trial of these shells, with a view to an extensive manufacture of them.

A SHARP BOY.—The Yreka Journal says that on Sunday evening at the Methodist Church in that place, while the minister was delivering a sermon, in which he mentioned big ships, and that a ship had been built that would carry ten thousand men, a youngster, who had been attentively listening, gave vent to his doubts in a slow, long drawn whistle, which created some merriment among the congregation.

☞ Angelo Chiarini, a noted rope walker, while walking with a wheelbarrow up a tight rope stretched from the ground to the top of Haye's Park Pavilion, San Francisco, fell to the ground, a distance of fifty feet, and died of his injuries on the 9th of December.

☞ A letter from Somerset, Ky., says the rebels have a story that Gen. Shoepff had been all over their camps in the disguise of an apple merchant, and had actually peddled apples to them, from a basket on his arm.

☞ Mrs. Catherine Arbin died in Baltimore, on the 21st inst., aged 118 years.—Mrs. Arbin was born in Philadelphia, in 1744, and lived to see her fifth generation, with great great grandchildren. Her youngest child is now living, at the age of about 78 years. Her father, who was of Baltimore, was at the battle of Bunker Hill.

☞ The Empress of France has decided that the court dresses of ladies must hereafter be increased two feet in width, and the same in length(?) A dance adapted to the new dress has also been invented. Meanwhile it is said that the married under-officials, who see in the changed fashions a new source of expense, are groaning over it.

☞ Advices from the City of Mexico, from distinguished sources, confirm the published accounts of the union generally of parties heretofore opposed to each other, who will make common cause against the European invasion.

☞ The Hartford Press says that about one boy a day, on an average, breaks his head, or leg, or arm, or neck by carelessness or recklessness in sliding down hill, in different portions of Connecticut.

THE REBELLION.

The Seventh New Hampshire Regiment, now at New York, is ordered to Tortugas, and will leave soon. It is believed that other regiments will follow.

Recent intelligence leads to the belief that most of the rebels directly in front of Washington are housed between Bull Run and Manassas. And it is believed that a large portion of the rebel army of the Potomac are distributed upon the lines of railroads converging at Manassas. A rebel deserter says ten regiments have gone South, but the position of the main body of the rebel army is unchanged. The rebel line of defence extends about sixty miles. They expect a sanguinary battle at Centreville.

A Richmond dispatch of Friday shows that the rebels are much perplexed about their defeat in Kentucky. The Dispatch says "we regret to say that the report of the Federal victory in Kentucky, is more than confirmed by intelligence received here at the War Department. It appears that our defeat was more decisive than Northern accounts had led us to believe." The editor goes on to say:—"this disaster and the apprehension it has excited for the safety of our connection with the Southwest, through Virginia and Tennessee and the East Tennessee and Virginia Railroad, and the possible interruption of our intercourse with the South via Wilmington and the Weldon Railroad, by Burnside's expedition, directs attention to the vital importance of completing the connection between Richmond and Danville and the North Carolina Railroad."

Memphis papers of the 21st inst. report 12,000 Federal troops in Kentucky, threatening Fort Henry, and the Memphis and Ohio Railroad.

By the steamer Eastern State, at Fortress Monroe, we have direct news from the Burnside expedition. It consisted of 125 vessels, sailed from Hampton Roads on the 11th and 12th, and arrived at Hatteras between the 12th and 17th, having been greatly retarded and crippled by severe storms, which continued after their arrival. When Gen. Burnside arrived at the inlet, he found that he had been greatly misinformed as to the depth of water there, so that only a small part of his fleet could go through. The rest had to remain outside, exposed to the full fury of the gale for several days. It is intimated that some of the pilots employed were rebels in disguise, and had volunteered for the purpose of breaking up the expedition. The steamer City of New York, in attempting to enter Pamlico Sound, struck upon the bar and proved a total loss. The captain and crew, after remaining in the rigging 40 hours, were saved. The gun-boats Zouave and Grapeshot, the steamer Pocahontas, and two schooners, were also lost. Six of the crew of the latter were drowned. Three steamers are also ashore: they may get off. Forty valuable horses, some worth $500 each, belonging to the R. I. battery, were lost, together with a large quantity of ammunition and military stores. Despite all these adverse circumstances, Gen. Burnside, unaided, succeeded in getting over half of his entire force inside the bar, and the steamer Spaulding coming to his assistance, nearly all had been taken through the Inlet by Sunday, the date of our advices. [We compile the foregoing from the reports to the Associated Press: a Washington dispatch says the official dispatches to Gen. McClellan show this account of the disasters to be greatly exaggerated.]

The Richmond Dispatch states that Gen. Beauregard takes command of the army at Columbus, Ky., and that Gen. Gustavus W. Smith succeeds him in the position at Manassas. He is to be subordinate to no one except A. Sidney Johnston. The change goes into effect without delay.

The Charleston Courier says that the Confederate steamer Calhoun, on her way from Havana with a large and valuable cargo, was chased by a Lincoln cruiser and abandoned and burned.

The Savannah News confirms the report of the capture of Cedar Keys. The Federals burned the town, wharves, five schooners, 50 bales cotton and 150 barrels turpentine.

The rebels on Saturday night, burnt the Long Bridge on the Hanibal and St. Joseph, Mo., railroad. It had just been rebuilt.

It is rumored that Gen. Lane has been authorized by Sec. Stanton, to arm the slaves, as a final resort.

A dispatch to the Chicago Tribune says rumors are rife that the expedition, which left Bird's Point on Saturday, had a fight with Jeff. Thompson, and that the guerilla chieftain is now a prisoner.

CALIFORNIA is a remarkably productive State, and almost every kind of fruit and farm produce there is abundant and cheap this winter. Potatoes are the only exception to the rule at the present time. Like other vegetables they are sold by weight, and are now retailed by the pound at twice the price of the best grapes.

☞ Wilkes' Spirit is now the only Spirit of the Times in existence, the "Old Spirit" and "Porter's Spirit" both having retired from the field, and become merged into the circulation of that excellent New York weekly journal.

☞ The President has approved the bill repealing the provision of a law which exempts witnesses who have been examined before an investigating committee of either house of Congress from testifying before a Court.

☞ The young men of the Union Church in Portland have presented Rev. Henry D. Moore, Chaplain of the 13th Maine Regiment, with a beautiful dress sword and fixtures.

TO ADVERTISERS.

The circulation of the BOSTON COURIER, which is large, and steadily and rapidly growing, makes it at least as valuable a medium for advertising as any other commercial and business newspaper in New England.

The publishers of the COURIER could easily fill their sheet with the unsought and most liberal commendations of the Press, throughout the country. But they prefer that it should now stand upon claim to public confidence, so well-known and established. They believe it has acquired this reputation by the candor, fearlessness, and independence with which it has been conducted, through times of extraordinary confusion of ideas on public subjects, and latterly of almost unexampled political crisis. It is now, and will be, as heretofore, the supporter of truly national and conservative principles, opposed alike to radicalism and fanaticism in whatever form, and devoted to the maintenance of good government, law, order, morals and religion.

The COURIER earnestly and faithfully upholds the principles of the Constitution, as established by WASHINGTON and the fathers of the Republic. These are not with it empty or inoperative words, sailed by undisguised foes, and by false pretenders to be supporters of the Union. The Government of the country with the aid of the people, must take care of the first—the others must be taken care of by the people of the free States, through the inculcation and diffusion of sound opinions upon questions vital to the very existence of the Republic. This is due to ourselves and our children; and especially the latter should be educated, as we and our fathers were, in true Constitutional Union principles. To this great object the COURIER is especially devoted. It has advocated these principles steadily, under every fortune, and often through obstacles and obloquies, such as the conductor of a newspaper rarely has to endure. Its friends are the friends of the Union, now, as ever before—its foes are the open or secret advocates of emancipation, with or without the Union—which is to be neither more nor less than opposed to the Constitution and Government of the country.

The publishers of the COURIER conceive, that it thus may render peculiar services and has peculiar claims upon all men by whom its principles are valued, and who look, by the proper means, to promote and secure the Constitutional restoration of the Union. These can best show their sense of our untiring efforts for this great and unparalleled cause, by sustaining this paper in all its business relations.

Special Notices.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, tho it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahneman, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headache, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc., etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curatives for family use are getting to be about as common as babies in a house, and every family should have one.—A case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. Local.

To-Night, this (Wednesday) evening, the lyceum begins—B. P. Shillaber, Esq., Mr. Shillaber, in fact our old Portsmouth friend Ben. Shillaber, a prince of good fellows, opens the course, at the Temple.—His theme is "fun," of which he has made so much for us all—and he ought to know how to tell us what it is.

There are at least four reasons for attending this lecture—because the speaker is one of our own folks, because he has proved himself worthy of all notice, because his lecture will be really worth hearing, and it is well to encourage the course. If more inducements are needed, one is, that you can't fail to enjoy it. So get season tickets for all bands, (only 75 cts. each,) and go early for good seats. As to Ward, Fletcher, and the other attractions, see the advertisement, and each in due time—all good.

Smart Old Men.—We have many among us, come to count them up,—more than one would think. One of the most indefatigable, now more than three score and ten, is Mr. S. M. Dockum, the well known excellent furniture manufacturer, whose notice of removal we chronicle this morning. Another is his neighbor, Mr. John Smith, whose skill and good taste as a painter are not one jot abated, as the new and beautiful sign in Mr. Emery's jewelry store, just painted by Mr. S. at the age of 76 years, clearly shows. Another, now four score, is Squire Drown, who after resigning the office of town clerk thirty years ago, when Mr. Bennett took it, has recently resumed his old business as justice of the peace, (see his card on the outside,) and is yet hale and hearty. Another, and one of the hardest workers in town, is S. B. Marden, who runs a daily race which would fag out many of the young men, and whose good nature never forsakes him. Another, who although upwards of three score, yet swings his blacksmith's hammer with good force and skill, is Mr. James Bartlett. Another, older than all, is Mr. B. Akerman, who, considerably upwards of four score, yet raps the lapstone daily.

There are many more—but these few have chanced within our notice of late.—We wish some one of our old friends would give us a complete list of all citizens of 70 years and over. We will give him a year's subscription to our Weekly, for the service.

☞ The Concert by the Mendelssohn Quintet Club, Wednesday evening, was a treat indeed—better, even, than we expected. The club have improved much since we last heard them; and while every member is a soloist, the whole form one of the best bands ever heard of its size; and their programme was judiciously selected—"popular" enough, and yet sufficiently "classic," if any body knows what that means. Their performance was "a pleasure, a delight," and as undoubtedly worth half a dollar as a Chronicle is two cents, to those who appreciate either. Their audience was of course "select," and was large, considering that the inevitable condition of the streets and sidewalks rendered riding impossible, and walking very precarious. We hope to hear the Quintet again here soon.

☞ The bound files of the New Hampshire Gazette, for the most of a century, have been sold to the Boston Athenæum,—a very proper place for their preservation. The Portsmouth Atheneum have a similar series of files, already.

The Mormon Practice Reversed.—In one of the neighboring towns, at an outskirt settlement which has not been particularly distinguished for the enterprise of its men, the probity and comeliness of its women, or the proper training of its boys and dogs, a case has recently come to our knowledge where the social doctrines of the patriarch Brigham have been slightly reversed. Some half dozen years ago a restless swain started on a whaling expedition, leaving his new made bride, alone and unsophisticated, to encounter the many besetting temptations of life. The circling years rolled on, but the lonely fair one did not let "melancholy sorrow drink her blood," for each returning round of the seasons brought a renewed pledge of fidelity and affection to her young bosom.—And it is but justice to say that the proclivities of these little annuals were decidedly Celtic. At length the woman was espoused by a brother of the truant husband, which was forthwith consummated in virtuous wedlock. Soon afterwards the wanderer returned and was received by his numerous family with much joy. They continued together a united and happy household until a spirit of patriotism called one of the fathers to the field in defence of his country, for which the family draws $12 per month, and has also the good fortune to have a loving father at home to counsel and direct its affairs.—Newburyport Herald.

The Paris correspondent of the London Star says of Archbishop Hughes that "No Yankee that ever lived was a stronger Unionist, or had greater faith in the Federal system of the United States. He can see only one fault in it; and that is, the fatal concession made to South Carolina, of granting a more-extensive electoral suffrage to her slaveholders than to other citizens."

What the United States Particularly Want Just Now. A Short Cut to the Pacific.—Punch.

If you want to get a brick in your hat, all you have to do is to moisten your clay.

Florida.—A Washington correspondent of the Tribune says:—

I met in the Ante-room at the White House a very talented and well informed Unionist from Florida, who owned a hundred slaves and several thousand acres of land, and who had through many difficulties gained Washington. His papers were indorsed by the Vice President of the United States. He had been at the White House for twenty days in succession, and had not been able to get his card in to the President! He said that he knew about three Unionists in the neighborhood of Talabassee, and they all believed it would be impossible to check this rebellion until its cause was destroyed.

☞ The resolution which Mr. Hale introduced in the Senate on Monday, probably referred to the ship Virginia, and not to the Pennsylvania, as reported by telegraph. The latter vessel was burned at Norfolk last April to prevent its falling into hands of the rebels.

☞ Prof. E. D. Hawes delivered a lecture on "Rasselas," in a country village in Iowa, recently, and the village paper in its next issue praised him very highly for his admirable discourse on "Restlessness."—How cheap fame is.

☞ Hon. Joe Holt says the appointment of Hon. E. M. Stanton is an immense stride in the direction of the suppression of the rebellion.

☞ A great deal of destitution is reported to exist among the poorer classes in Montreal, and the papers are calling for measures of relief.

☞ Preparations are being made to procure indictments against the individuals who participated in tarring and feathering Kimball, at Haverhill, Mass., a few months ago.

Pike of the Augusta Age for several years has been a reporter of the Senate.—At one time during the season of frolic, when no business was on hand, the President asked him to take the chair. The request was complied with, and Pike presided with grace. When the President returned, Pike said he should avail himself of a venerated custom, always observed by the retiring President, of stealing the inkstand! at the same time appropriating a splendid article which embellished the President's desk.

Got A Ducking.—The officers at Fort Preble recently discovered that a man, who had been supplying the soldiers with milk, had also smuggled in to them divers and sundry poor liquors. Yesterday the man went to the fort to collect his dues from the soldiers. To his great astonishment, he was seized by some half dozen of them, and treated to a copious effusion of water poured on him by order of the officers.—He was then ordered out of the fort and forbid any further admission.—Port. Adv.

Squatter Sovereignty.—There is a family at the north part of Newburyport, who have acquired quiet possession of a comfortable residence. During the entire twenty years of their occupancy they were never presented with a rent bill, or even knew the owner of the house. Since acquiring possession, steps have been taken by some of his heirs at law to eject the parties, but with out success.—Newburyport Herald.

The theatrical critic of a New York paper, puts forward certain claims to popular appreciation as follows: "The pedal extremities of M'lle Louise are alone enough to fill the house." On footing up this statement, it is apparent that the manager who has provided such "immense attractions" must be bothered to know what to do with his audience!—Albany Argus.

Down East Story.—There is a district school "not a thousand miles" from town, which has been proverbially a hard school to manage. A few weeks ago the boys undertook to drive a cow into the schoolroom at recess. The master, hearing the noise, came out and inquired what they were trying to do. "Why," replied a pert fraction of a stripling, "we noticed a rich crop of grass in your boots, and thought 'twas a pity to have it wasted!"

The New-Hampshire Gazette and Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, published Thursday, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room. Price 3 cents. Only $1 per year, in advance.

Notice to Advertisers.—The notices of yearly advertisers in the Daily Chronicle, are also inserted in the Weekly once, without extra charge; but subsequent Weekly insertions must be paid for, if ordered.

☞ Having made arrangements for furnishing good custom-made BOOTS and SHOES for the people; also for all kinds of repairing in the same line, an invitation is extended to all who are in need of something good to wear to call at No. 6 Market Square. D. R. AMBOSE.
N. B.—Newspapers and Periodicals as heretofore. dec30

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

Cards and Bill Headings are indispensable to the business man, and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

Popular Lectures.

A COURSE of five Popular Lectures will be given in the TEMPLE, commencing

WEDNESDAY EVENING, Jan. 29.

It has been our endeavor to present a Course of which every lecturer should be a living man, that the people would wish to hear; also to present such a combination of instruction and discussion of the great topics of the day with wit and humor as would preclude the possibility of dry and uninteresting logic.—We now have the pleasure of announcing the following distinguished gentlemen for four of the Lectures:

B. P. SHILLABER, Esq.
ARTEMAS WARD, the great American Showman.
Rev. J. C. FLETCHER.
Prof. CLARENCE BUTLER.

The fifth is not yet engaged. The above are well known and need no recommendation, with the exception of Prof. Butler. He is one of the many Teachers expelled from the South last Spring, having been for years a Professor in a Southern College. He comes highly recommended for his eloquence and ability.—He was tried by Lynch law and sentenced to death on refusing to enter the Southern army, but by the intercession of friends finally escaped with a coat of tar and feathers, and found his way North. This lecture will be a graphic description of the early scenes of the rebellion in an extreme Southern State, and his own experience in connection.

Tickets for the Course 75 cents; for 2 admission 25 cents—to be had at Shores' Bookstore, Preston's and N. P. Thacher's Apothecary Stores, and Davis' Daguerrean Gallery.

COMPROMISE:

A REAL UNION SPEECH.

Messrs. Editors:—Although I have read very many so-called Union speeches of late, yet nearly all were mere war harangues—cries for vengeance or victory. But the following extracts from an able address made at a Democratic meeting in New York, by Hon. Thos. G. Tomlinson, (if you are pleased to publish them,) will show, I think, that there are two sides to this question of responsibility—and that in our present unhappy national quarrel, as in almost all disputes, both sides are to blame.

A TRUE UNION DEM.

The patriotic men who founded the government saw that their heritage was a continent, composed of independent empires, sovereignties, states or territories, inhabited by men of various creeds, different habits of thought and pursuits. They found two kinds of civilization in apparent conflict, but really harmonious. The African was here. Some men were born slaves, and some slaveholders, and neither to blame for the fact. To make a constitution, to inaugurate a government that should be comprehensive enough, and grand enough to guard each citizen, and sustain a continent of empires, they sounded the depths of human nature, they exhausted philosophy, they scrutinized every example, they explored the past back to the days of earliest tradition, and discovered the divinity in whose temple liberty had ever found refuge; and they bowed down and worshipped "Compromise." They found it as ancient as creation, when the waters of the sea and the dry land compromised, when darkness with the light compromised; as ancient as the deluge, as strong and as beautiful as the covenant and the bow of promise, and as recent as the compromise between justice and mercy, illustrated by the Cross.

The patriots of the Revolution, realizing that conflicts usually terminated in treaties, began Government with a treaty, or constitution, compromising, in advance, all questions out of which war could grow. Most governments are founded on the fears or material interests of men, ours appealed directly to the divinity of our nature; it gave empire to the meanest citizen; it established Democracy through a Republican form of expression. Knowing that religion has been the excuse for the most cruel wars, it prevented any established religion. It elevated the poor African into an element of government; even made the slave a power in the land—provided a tribunal to interpret all that might be obscure and difficult, and vested all things in compromise, through which we can alone carry out the principles of our government. It is alone by compromise that we can treat each other as peers. It is by compromise alone that we pay tribute to each others' rights, independence, virtues and religion. Under the auspices of compromise the growth of our country has been unparalleled. A beneficent Providence gave for the labor of the black man, cotton, sugar, rice, a blessing to the whole earth, and wrung plenty from the fields of pestilence. It blessed the bondman by bringing the barbarian in close companionship with a higher civilization, and many of the imitative Africans have emerged from barbarism to refinement.—Some have learned the mechanic arts, others have adopted professions to become useful, if their destiny is not to perish—in some other land where the white man will not be permitted to govern.

A Southern slaveholder carried us thro' the war of the revolution. A Southern slaveholder wrote the Declaration of Independence. Southern Slaveholders have controlled and directed the government for fifty years, and during their administration, the blessings of heaven have been showered upon our country.

We were happy in this our political Eden, until the devil of Abolitionism entered. It is to be remembered that there were two parties—the Democratic party, and a party in opposition to it, known by different names. Both of these parties, though differing as to some measures of policy, were imbued with the spirit of the government—both were compromise and concession parties.

There has also grown up a new religion, opposed to nature and revelation. The religion of Abolitionism. It seized the pulpit, it took possession of the press, intruded itself everywhere, and always where most offensive. It was cruel, remorseless, unsparing; it was the pestilence of the soul. Its leaders, with horrid blasphemy, proclaimed themselves the vicegerents of God, and the exponents of His will. Abolitionism grew to a great power in the North.—Men ever want power and honor. Men like to be Mayors, Governors, Ambassadors, Senators, President. The only pathway to preferment in this country is Party. Disappointment and revenge, and desire to secure power, induced some leading men to seize hold of this Abolition element, and under the pretext of Free Soil to betray the Democratic Party. Last for power on the part of wicked and ambitious Northern men, caused them to adopt this Abolition element, and by destroying the Whig Party, and by forming a league with disloyal Democrats to get possession of the Government.

Slavery is not the cause, but the convenient pretext of our troubles. If the poor negro should pass away forever, unholy ambition would find some other pretext for power. The young Corporal does not call upon the mother to deliver up the flower and youth of the land, to place a diadem on his brow, but drenches the lily with blood, all for the glory of beautiful France. England does not extend her power all over the world, to sustain an arrogant aristocracy, and to swell the proportions of an ill gotten treasury, but only to advance Christian civilization.

The exclusive cause of the civil war was the success of the Republican Party. And paradoxical as it may appear, the exclusive cause of the civil war, was the Secessionism of the South. If two consummate a crime, that fact does not diminish the guilt of either. An act, innocent in itself, may be reprehensible by reason of its consequences. Parties are responsible for the consequences of their acts. The combination that created a sectional party in fact, produced the ruin, in the very moment of its success, that Washington prophesied. It furnished the pretext for the wicked leaders of the South to excite and enrage an already frenzied people. We pleaded with the Republicans in vain, they answered us with sneers and derision, and held the dissolution of the Union to be impossible.

It is true that the Secretary of State has tried to prevent disruption, but the puny hand that unloosed the avalanche, could not stop in midway its Alpine fall. A compromise by the Republican party could have saved the country, but it preferred Party to the country; it would not openly offend the Abolition element. Thus, while the Republican Party is responsible for the war, Secessionists are equally the cause of the war.

The people had the political and constitutional right to elect the President. That act was no justification for war. The soldiers of the nation were bound in honor to defend the flag of the nation at all hazards. The laws that the South had made were unrepealed, not one single act had been done to justify war. The Democratic party had done everything, suffered everything for the South, and would have been her ally if any of her constitutional rights had been invaded. She fired on the flag, menaced the capital, and we would have been a nation of poltroons had we not responded to the challenge.

The great fallacy of the South has been in mistaking the administration of the Government for the Government itself. A revolution against bad Government is comprehensible, but a revolution against an administration where there is an independent judiciary and popular sovereignty is absurd. This is more like a duel. Neither the South nor the North can gain anything, whatever the result. We might fight fifty years, and then make a treaty—it couldn't be as good as the treaty which now exists, the Constitution of the United States.

How shall this war be terminated? I was about to say by the destruction of the Republican party, but that is already accomplished. They followed a veiled prophet, and were stunned with horror when the veil was removed, and in their despair they invoke the Union. How are we to stop this war? By the success of the Democratic party. I have said that certain leaders in both sections do not want re-union.—They are just equal to distinction in inconsiderable provinces, but too insignificant to keep pace with the majestic stride of the great Republic. The people of both sections will have re-union, even at the cost of a war with secession and sectionalism. The reason that I say the success of the Democratic party is most important is, that it is recognized by the South as friendly to their rights under the Constitution, and its success would remove the miserable pretext for secession. The American party, which has been absorbed by the Republican party, for the sake of power, is as true to the Constitution as the South, or the Democratic party, and should unite with it now. I believe that a majority of the Republicans are willing to live up to the requirements of the Constitution in all its letter and spirit, and cheerfully abide by the decisions of the judiciary, and repudiate those wicked maxims that have poisoned the fountains of public morality, and have become the chief excuse for perfidy to the Constitution.

Did I believe that slavery was the sum of all villainies, an offence against God and man, or anything else that the vulgar vocabulary of Abolitionism might suggest;—did I even believe that the black man was superior to the white man, and that all the duties of life, and all the hopes of the hereafter, concentrated in the abolition of slavery, I would accomplish it by compromise.

I have called your attention to the Constitutional guaranty that there shall be no established religion. It is unnecessary to comment on this wise provision. Some men have made abolitionism, in violation of the Constitution, religion, and have attempted to force it on the country, and hold those who are compelled to submit to it in involuntary servitude. This tyranny can be prevented by the success of the Democratic party. The same men are authors of the mean oppression of the Maine Law.

The aristocrats of Europe have pronounced Democracy a failure, and that you are unworthy of self-government. Many of your enemies in this land declare you unworthy of suffrage. Then do not be misled; do not be betrayed. Let not the Republican party drag you to its feet. A party whose emblem is the dreadful torch! which has lighted a conflagration that will require the best blood of the Democracy to put out.

The Republican party is rent asunder; their extreme men want disunion. The secession party is breaking to pieces; their ambitious leaders want separation, and were it not for traditional hostility the Union men would unite with the Democratic party, that ever wants union. Then let every patriotic Republican and American come to the rescue of the Democratic party and the country. If the Democratic party could succeed, or, which is the same, the real Union party—not a party that has adopted that title to betray the country and re-establish a sectional organization,—we would extend to the South the olive branch in one hand, and the sword in the other.—We would re-affirm the Constitution, and for one, I would say, you shall share with us our common heritage—come back to the Union!

God grant that better days may come, that the traitors of the North and the traitors of the South, be smitten with the lightning of heaven for the blood they will have shed; that the people of the North and the people of the South may love one another more, because they know one another better, even through the embrace of war.—May the tempest that is beating on the head of my beloved country pass away, and out of the very rack of war the pillars of the grand old Republic emerge, and on its loftiest pinnacle may our long lost divinity again preside, with the bow of promise above her brow, the flag of the stars in her hand, the cross of Christ upon her heart.

Messrs. Editors:—Thinking that a description of Nassau and its inhabitants, might interest some of my friends in Portsmouth, I have attempted it in writing you. This island, with the group called Bahama, is situated nearly off the Southern coast of Florida; distant therefrom easterly about 100 miles, and about 200 to the northwest of Cuba: also 1000 miles distant southerly from New York, and from 4 to 5 days' sail from the latter place by steamer. The British Cunard steamer Karnak runs regularly between New York and Havana, Cuba, monthly, via this place. She is an English Clyde built screw steamer of about 1200 tons, and of fair accommodations for an English steamer: price of passage from N Y. $45, and through to Havana $60. The city of Nassau contains about 10,000 inhabitants—a mixture of whites, mulattoes and Africans. A portion, say about one half, are free blacks, and many of them are fugitives from Southern slavery. I was shown a small sail boat in which it was said eleven persons escaped from Key West, Fla., to this place. There are also some Africans who have either been wrecked in slave vessels, or placed here from off captured slavers. About a year since one ran ashore with a cargo of slaves, and now they are residents of the island.

This place is garrisoned by a few companies of blacks, well-built, athletic and noble looking fellows. These are from Jamaica and other of the West India islands. They are dressed in oriental costume, and withal make fine looking soldiers. They are commanded by whites.

The white inhabitants are mostly from England or of English descent (except a few Americans here on business or for their health,) and they are almost all of them in sympathy with the Southern rebellion and secessionists, and while in years past the South has had a great dislike for Nassau because of its being a place of refuge for slaves, yet this is now made a regular rendezvous for Southern vessels engaged in running the blockade; and vessels carrying the rebel flag or sailing under British colors are allowed to come and go at pleasure, either landing their cargoes or transferring them from one vessel to another under the protection of the English men-of-war.—One large steamer, the Gladiator, brought a valuable cargo from Europe—said to be valued at about $300,000, of arms, ammunition, boots and shoes, &c. She lay for several days in the harbor, and in the absence of the U. S. steamer Flambeau, which sailed on a cruise to Key West while the vessel was in port, she steamed up and sailed for the South port of the island and there discharged her cargo, as it is said, into small vessels, which can more easily run the blockade. Just previous to this, another large steamer, formerly the Isabel, which ran between Charleston and Havana, left port and succeeded in running the blockade at Charleston, as it is said. On Monday last the U. S. steamer again returned to port, and on Saturday another Southern steamer, called the Carolina, carrying the Confederate flag, came into port and passed the American steamer, and some said she saluted the U. S. steamer by dipping the flag—and I have heard it stated by two gentlemen from the state of Maine, a captain and his mate, that the captain of the American steamer said in their presence and before the U. S. Consul, that if he had been on board of his vessel at the time and had seen the flag dipped, he should have returned the compliment to him. If this be true such officers are unworthy of their calling, and it is not strange that so many vessels succeed in running the blockade.

The U. S. Government has shipped several cargoes of coal to this place for their own steamers, but this Government would not allow them to coal their steamers here or make this a coal depot. Some of the vessels therefore, have had to depart for some other place with their cargoes.

This place being situated under the tropics, we have here most of the fruits peculiar to those climates. Oranges, pine apples, cocoanuts, bananas, plantains and a variety of other tropical fruits are cultivated in abundance here. This is also a fine climate for invalids and consumptives—the temperature being even, with but little change, not more than about 3 or 4 degrees per week usually, the thermometer averaging from 73 to 77 degrees. But it is very expensive living here. Board is from 8 and 9 to 12 or 15 dollars per week as a general thing, as most of the produce is imported from the States. I may visit Cuba or St. Domingo before I return to Portsmouth and if so perhaps you may hear from me again in a briefer manner.

Respectfully, T. E. WOOD.

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE (L. Scott & Co's reprint) contains nine articles. That on "The Convulsions of America" is exceedingly bitter on the American Government and people. It thinks the South "deserve recognition, independence and sympathy." We would not commend the article to any Northerner, unless he is one of those calm men who can read, without irritation and exasperation, the falsest and foulest lies about the nation to which they belong.

THE REBELLION.

The official report of Gen. Burnside to Gen. McClellan shows that the loss by the storm at Hatteras was by no means so great as at first represented. The City of New York and one of the New York vessels were the only ships lost; although several others are aground, they will be got off by the tug-boats. The only lives lost, were from the swamping of a boat sent to relieve the City of New York. They were Col. Allen of the N. J. 9th Regt., his surgeon, and the mate in command of the boat. The men are in good spirits, and Gen. Burnside has full hopes of ultimate success. Newbern, N. C., is in a ferment of excitement, in an expectation of an attack. The town is under martial law, and every preparation is being made to reist our forces.

Rebel accounts of the Somerset, Ky., battle estimate our forces at 20,000 men. The town of Paris, Tenn., is in a state of great excitement, and the inhabitants are making every preparation to move southward. The redels congratulate themselves that no attack was made on Fort Henry, and, with their usual valor under such circumstances, declare their determination to hold it, at all hazards.

Jeff Thompson has not been captured.—Letters from Port Royal indicate an early attack on Savannah.—15 'contrabands,' at Fortress Monroe, from Norfolk, report that the Merrimac had been floated out of the dry dock, that she was mounted with 10-in. rifle cannon, and was to make a trial trip,—all of which may be true.—50 Union soldiers, Tuesday night, surprised 30 Texas Rangers in a house near the head of Occoquon bay, surrounded it and killed all but one, whom they took prisoner.

The Burnside expedition will not be seriously delayed by the loss of the steamer City of New York, there being a good supply of material on board the other vessels. Letters say Gen. Foster's brigade will soon move toward Roanoke Island or Newbern, as circumstances shall decide.

☞ The Muscular Christianity lecture at the Temple on Tuesday evening, was excellently attended and very cordially received. Mr. Knowlton lectures again on Saturday evening next.

☞ A daughter of Col. Shepley has gone with him to Tortugas. The wife of Captain Thornton also accompanies the regiment.

☞ Forty-two persons were killed by the city railroad cars in Philadelphia during the year 1861.

TO ADVERTISERS.

The circulation of the BOSTON COURIER, which is large, and steadily and rapidly growing, makes it at least as valuable a medium for advertising as any other commercial and business newspaper in New England.

The publishers of the COURIER could easily fill their sheet with the unsolicited and most liberal commendations of the Press, throughout the country. But they prefer that it should now stand altogether upon claims to public confidence, so well-known and established. They believe it has acquired the reputation by the candor, fearlessness, and independence with which it has been conducted, through times of extraordinary confusion of ideas on public subjects, and latterly of almost unexampled public excitement. It is now, and will be, as heretofore, the supporter of truly national and conservative principles, opposed alike to radicalism and fanaticism in whatever form, and devoted to the maintenance of good government, law, order, morals and religion.

The COURIER earnestly and faithfully upholds the principles of WASHINGTON and the fathers of the Republic. These are now either openly or insidiously assailed by undisguised foes, and by false pretenders to be supporters of the Union. The Government of the country with the aid of the people, must and will, upon vital questions, be taken care of by the people of the free States, through the inculcation and diffusion of sound principles upon which is the very existence of the Republic. This is due to ourselves and our children; and especially the latter should be educated as we and our fathers have been in true Constitutional Union principles. To this great object the COURIER is especially devoted. It has advocated these principles steadily, under every fortune, and often through obstacles and obloquies, such as the conductor of a newspaper rarely has to endure. Its friends are the friends of the Union, now, as ever before—its foes are the open or secret advocates of emancipation, with or without the Union—which is to be neither, now nor less than opposed to the Constitution and Government of the country.

The publishers of the COURIER conceive, that it thus may render peculiar services and has peculiar claims upon all men by whom its principles are valued, and who look to the proper means, to promote and secure the Constitutional restoration of the Union. These can best show their sense of our untiring efforts for this great and unparalleled cause, by sustaining this paper in all its business relations

This (Thursday) evening he delivers his lecture on Great Rebellions, at the same place. Tickets only 15 cents. This lecture reviews the great rebellions of history and compares them with the present. It has been well received in Boston and elsewhere, and without doubt, is interesting and instructive.

☞ By the advertisement of Messrs. Wm. S. Hadley & Co., this morning, it will be seen that they have returned to this city, and again taken the Stone Stable, for the livery business, &c. A year ago or more, that stable being rented to another party, Messrs. Hadley and Tilton removed their stock to Lewiston Falls, Me., where they built a nice new stable; but their old quarters here having recently been vacated, and Messrs. W. S. Hadley & Son having become proprietors of the Rockingham House, Messrs. H. & T. have sold their stable in Lewiston and returned, with their stock of horses and carriages, to their old place of business again.

Portsmouth was never before so well supplied with livery stables, as at present. Besides Hadley & Tilton's stock at the Stone Stable; and Messrs. Locke & Tucker's, on State Street; Mr. Nathan Jones has recently greatly enlarged and improved his premises, on Vaughan Street, as well as his stock; and Mr. Frank H. Blaisdell, at the old Somerby stand, has also greatly added to and improved his stock, which is now a very large and fine one.

It will also be seen that Mr. Dennett's hacking business remains at the Stone Stable, as usual.

☞ A pickpocket was recently arrested at a place of amusement in London, and on him were found watches, purses, snuff-boxes, and—queerest of all—a box of bugs.—What possible disposition could be made of such an entomological possession was a question that puzzled everybody. Subsequent developments showed that he would, unperceived, place one of his insect treasures upon the shawl or coat of a lady or gentleman, and then request permission to remove the disagreeable customer. While thus diverting their attention he would relieve them of their superfluous jewelry.

Horace Weaver of Winsted, Conn., writes home from Camp at Washington, that he has just "carried the log" three hours, as the penalty for shooting a hog while on sentinel duty. He had orders to let "nothing pass," and after a sharp tussle with the porker, he had to give in or shoot.

BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (TORY).

The present critical state of European affairs will render these publications unusually interesting during the forthcoming year. They will occupy a middle ground between the hastily written news items, crude speculations, and flying rumors of the daily Journal, and the ponderous Tome of the future historian, written after the living interest and excitement of the great political events of the time shall have passed away. It is to these Periodicals that readers must look for the only really intelligible and reliable history of current events, and as such, in addition to their well-established literary, scientific, and theological character, we urge them upon the consideration of the reading public.

The receipt of ADVANCE SHEETS from the British publishers gives editional value to these Reprints, inasmuch as they can now be placed in the hands of subscribers about as soon as the original editions.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Owing to the difficulty of procuring many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE. Consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Those who require Pure Liquors or Wines in small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. DOGS AND SHEEP.

Not that we hate good dogs, but that we wish cheap mutton and wool for the people—is one reason that induces us to kick out of the more than useless curs, occasionally, in the columns of our papers. Some of the dogs' defenders have told us we were mistaken in our views—and that mutton would be no more plentiful or cheaper, if there was not a dog in New Hampshire.—But others think differently—and among the rest, we copy the following statements from a long and carefully written article in the January American Stock Journal—the very highest authority:—

"The country is overrun with worthless dogs—and this is one of the chief reasons why many farmers do not raise more sheep. It is those men who own little else who keep the greatest number of dogs; faring scantily at home, these hungry curs roam the fields and make slaughter among the neighbors flocks.

"In the State of Ohio, as is shown by official reports, in the year 1858, no less than 60,536 sheep were killled, and 36,441 injured by dogs, making the whole damage to sheep in that State in one year, at least $148,748! We have no means of ascertaining the whole amount of this kind of injury throughout the country, but we are told by the Secretary of the Massachusetts Board of Agriculture, in his report for 1860, that among the reasons for the reduction of the number of sheep in that Commonwealth, from 378,226 in 1840, to 113,111 in 1860, was the destruction of sheep by dogs, by which the farmers were deterred from attempting to keep them. In 1845, the number of pounds of wool grown in Massachusetts was 1,016,230; in 1855, 410,156—a loss of over 600,000 pounds.—The value of sheep and wool together in 1845 was $923,429, while in 1855 it was $464,889 showing a depreciation in ten years of nearly half a million of dollars.

"There is no other department of husbandry now so important as sheep husbandry. In the Eastern States we can well afford to raise the long or middle-wooled sheep for mutton as well as wool, and it is believed by many good farmers, that a pound of mutton may be raised as cheeply as a pound of beef, and that the animal's fleece may be reckoned an extra profit.

We want to increase the products of our land, to raise wool to take the place of cotton in part, and to lessen our dependence on England. Let farmers see to it, that such laws are enacted as shall insure them against the loss of their flocks by vicious dogs, and a great step will have been taken toward the encouragement of the only art which can redeem a worn out country—the art of sheep husbandry.

LETTERS FOR PORT ROYAL.—Up to Wednesday night last, a mail of eighteen thousand five hundred letters had been made up for the troops at Port Royal, from New York city alone; and this, with a mail of over nine thousand letters for the same destination, made up in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, and other States, is now at the New York Post Office, awaiting the departure of a transport.

☞ Discontent is brewing among the rebels. The Memphis Argus, of January 2 and 5, handles Jeff. Davis without gloves, and styles him and his mock Cabinet "illegal wielders of authority." It compliments the Federal army, and admits that the rebels are hemmed in on all sides by superior forces.

☞ A boy named John Phair made a desperate assault by dropping as stone weighing eighteen pounds from the railroad bridge at Vergennes, Vt., upon the head and neck of Capt. M. D. Hall, on the 11th inst., severely bruising him. He attempted a similar offense before.

We double all the cares of life by pondering over them. We increase our troubles by grieving over them. A scratch becomes a wound, a slight an injury, a jest an insult, a small peril a great danger, and a slight sickness ends in death, by the brooding fears of the invalid.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 31, 1862.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

COMPROMISE AND UNION.

BY UNCLE TOBY.

The readers of the Chronicle and Gazette were regaled on Thursday, with the communication of "A True Union Democrat," covering and endorsing two columns of a speech by a Mr. Tomlinson of New York, at a late democratic meeting. The object of the speech when made, was to aid the democratic party in New York; and the object of its republication here can be no other than to aid the democratic party in New Hampshire, especially in the approaching election.

It is proposed in this article, briefly to examine some of the principal statements in the speech.

Its principal doctrine is that our Government is founded on Compromise. To this there is no objection—for all human Governments must be so formed, except those that are despotic.

In regard to our Constitution or compromise, as the speaker calls it, he makes these three points, which we give in his own words, brought together from different parts of his speech.

1. It elevated the poor African into an element of government; even made the slave a power in the land.

2. Southern Slaveholders have controlled and directed the Government for fifty years.

3. And during their administration, the blessings of heaven have been showered upon our country.

The first of these points does not mean that any power was given to the slave, but by using him, the slave power got the reins of government.

The second shows how this same power became paramount, and lorded it over the country, meaning to be perpetual. And from the third the orator wishes us to infer, we suppose, that these blessings of heaven came down upon the country because of the slave power and its rule.

If so, the inference is a non sequitur: it does not follow.

If he means merely to state a naked fact:—we will state another just like it. 1. There was the theft of arms and money by Floyd & Co. to get ready for rebellion and civil war; 2. there was actual rebellion and civil war, the creation of a rebel government, and the hostile array of two great armies; and 3. during all this confusion, the blessings of heaven have been showered down upon the whole country! Not, we suppose, in any wise because of the civil war or the rebellion, or the confusion.

We have no doubt Heaven would have blessed us quite as richly without the confusion,—nor can we doubt, in the least, that all the blessings we have ever had, under the rule of the slave power, would have been quite as great without it.

We pass over his ingenious plea for negro slavery, as the publisher says,—"we are tired of this everlasting wrangling about the matter, and mean to keep our papers out of it in future if we can."

And we pass on to take up some more points in the speech. The orator's Compromise or Constitution, and the 50 years' rule of the slave power were an Eden to him: but sad to say,—he tells us this brief story of the Fall.

We were happy in this our political Eden, until the devil of Abolitionism entered.

This is very bad history, and worse chronology.

Instead of this devil's coming in at the end of 50 years, he was there in the shape of Tom Jefferson, Ben Franklin, and their company, before the Constitution was formed;—and they kept the word slavery out of the compromise, tho' they let in a sprinkling of the thing.

The orator says, very confidently, "Slavery is not the cause, but the convenient pretext of our troubles. If the poor negro should pass away forever, unholy ambition would find some other pretext for power."

No doubt ambition would find pretexts, "if the poor negro should pass away;"—but he will not go! If the sky should fall, we should catch larks,—but it won't fall.—Four millions of blacks and colored people are not to be disposed of by one dash of anybody's pen; they were "made a power in the land," says the speaker,—and they will be a power, for good or evil. He says "The exclusive cause of the civil war was the success of the Republican Party. And paradoxical as it may appear, the exclusive cause of the civil war, was the Secessionism of the South." [Two exclusive causes—a paradox indeed.] "We pleaded with the Republicans in vain. A compromise by the Republican party could have saved the country, but it preferred Party to the country; it would not openly offend the Abolition element."

The people had the political and constitutional right to elect the President. That act was no justification for war.

The laws that the South had made were unrepealed, not one single act had been done to justify war. She fired on the flag, menaced the capital, and we would have been a nation of poltroons had we not responded to the challenge.

The war, then, is unjustifiable, by his showing, on the part of the rebels!—but it could have been prevented by Republican compromise, before the war broke out.—

If so, will he tell us why the Democratic delegates at Charleston would not compromise to save their party and the country! They could have kept the Republicans out by a compromise among themselves. Why didn't they do it?

We are as sensible as any one of the calamities of the war,—and desire as ardently as any one can, the blessing of peace. We have therefore great interest in the question put by Mr. Tomlinson, "How shall this war be terminated?" Let us have his answer: "I was about to say by the destruction of the Republican party, but that is already accomplished." "The reason that I say the success of the Democratic party is most important is, that it is recognized by the South as friendly to their rights under the Constitution, and its success would remove the miserable pretext for secession. The American party, which has been absorbed by the Republican party, for the sake of power, is as true to the Constitution as the South, or the Democratic party, and should unite with it now."

This is the practical remedy, and all the remedy that the speaker proposes. Let us see how to apply it, here in New Hampshire.

If the Republican party here should pass away, as he says it has, which Democratic party shall the honest voter join, to save the country? We have two democratic parties here;—one has made its nominations, and the other will shortly do so. How can we choose between them?

The orator gives us the clue, in our last quotation, by telling us to join that democracy that is recognized in the South!—and saying that good Americans are as true to the Constitution as the South and the Democratic party,—including, we suppose, Mason and Slidell, Cobb and Floyd!

To save the country, restore peace, and make all right, his advice is, when stripped of its verbiage,—Join the most pro-slavery branch of the democratic party you can find,—which will compromise by saying to the slave power, come and rule over us,—we will pay all the war debts on both sides, let you make all the laws,—and we will obey.

We do not believe a majority of New Hampshire freemen will subscribe to a creed like this. We shall soon see. U. T.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Wednesday, John B. Henderson of Tennessee appeared and took the oath. A resolution was offered, that ships Alabama and Virginia be taken down and eroken up. The resolution concerning secret sessions was discussed and passed; also the bill limiting the trade of sutlers. The case of Mr. Bright was taken up which led to a long discussion, but nothing more. In the House, the Legislative, Judicial and Executive Appropriation bill was passed; also a bill appropriating $3000 for the distribution of cotton seed through the Patent office. The Senate bill authorizing the President to take possession of railroads and telegraph lines, was passed.—The Treasury note bill was taken up, but not disposed of. The army bill was discussed, Mr. Gurley of Ohio making a speech strongly in favor of an immediate movement. The Senate resolution in relation to secret sessions, was passed.

☞ Mr. Hale offered a resolution in the Senate on Thursday, which was adopted, that the Sec. of the Navy inform the Senate when the ship Franklin was changed for use as a steamer, and whether the department intend to complete her for use the present year, or any definite time.

☞ The process of drafting for the Connecticut Militia has commenced in that State. The Hartford Times learns that in Stafford most of the men who were drafted paid the fine ($10) and that in some other towns in that vicinity there were a large number who paid rather than serve.—It is thought the fines received by the State under this draft will amount to a sum not less than $60,000.

☞ A Port Royal correspondent of the Manchester Union, writes under date of Jan. 16:—"Adjutant Hill, of the Third N. H. Regt., resigned a day or two since; for what reason I know not. His resignation has not been accepted at Head Quarters, I understand, as yet. He has been an efficient officer, and very generally liked by the regiment."

TALES OF THE DAY.—The February number of this beautifully printed collection of unusually good stories, with just enough fine poetry to give it a spice, is issued by Wm. Carter and Brother, Boston.

☞ The Tribune's dispatch says by direction of the Secretary of War an order has been issued prohibiting letters from being sent or received through our lines except by prisoners on either side.

☞ It is reported that Mason and Slidell, on their arrival at Bermuda, expressed their disappointment in being surrendered, as it blasted their hopes of war between the United States and Great Britain.

THE REBELLION.

Advices from Fort Pickens state that the rebels have withdrawn a part of their forces to Mobile, which they think is in danger. The force opposite Fort Pickens is now but from 7000 to 10,000, all counted.

Gen. Hunter announces in a general order that he intends to lead an expedition to the South, ["Gen. Lane's expedition,"] as soon as he can get his staff organized. The Government cannot furnish him with transportation, and so he will start without it. He says he shall take but one change of clothing in his valise, and no soldier will take more, as the spare room will be needed for ammunition.

An expedition, consisting of five regiments of infantry, two batteries of artillery, and three companies of cavalry, have started from Otterville, Mo., under Gen. Jeff. C. Davis. Springfield, Mo., is supposed to be their destination. Another division under Gen Turner was expected to leave on Thursday or Friday.

Several of Price's recruiting officers have been captured lately. His forces now amount to only 10,000; but as soon as he is appointed Major General, 30,000 will be ready for him. He is making ready for a speedy retreat, in case he is attacked.

A large rebel mail, containing several hundred letters, has been captured above Cairo, on the Mississippi. It contained important letters from Bowling Green and other rebel camps.

The N. Y. Times' dispatch says private letters from Kentucky, which have been shown Sec. Stanton, assert that at the battle at Somerset, an entire rebel regiment threw down their arms in the conflict, and declared their purpose no longer to fight against the government. This example was followed by companies and individuals of other regiments. Gen. Thomas is not pursuing Zollicoffer's defeated army, the roads and inadequate transportation not permitting. He is building a road 30 miles long, to render his advance into Tennessee easy and permanent.

FOREIGN. — Steamship Anglo Saxon, from Liverpool, 26th, and Londonderry, 17th, arrived at Portland, Thursday morning. The general news is unimportant.

The publication of the Trent correspondence had led to some bitter strictures on Mr. Seward's dispatch. Additional correspondence is published, including Lord Russell's dispatch, dated Jan. 11. It expresses much satisfaction at the conclusion arrived at, which is favorable to the maintenance of the most friendly relations. French journals generally compliment the Washington Cabinet on the Trent affair. The King of Prussia, in a speech opening the Chambers, rejoiced at the happy issue of the difficulty.

☞ We published on Thursday, an article on "Compromise," by a "Union Democrat;" and this morning give a reply or rejoinder by "Uncle Toby," Republican. We presume the first writer will have something further to say; and, as usual, our columns are open to the free discussion of any subject of public interest; though we must say we are rather tired of "the nigger question," and shall editorially take no further part in it, but leave it to the parties and politicians, whose capital and business it is.

PUB.

☞ The Tribune's dispatch says that certain prisoners released from Richmond state that of all the clothing forwarded them by Gen. Wool some months since in care of Gen. Huger, not one garment ever reached Richmond. It is supposed they were appropriated by the confederates.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

THE MIDDLEBORO GAZETTE

Old Colony Advertiser,

For 1862.

A Family Paper, devoted to General and Local News,

especially interesting to all who have friends or acquaintances in Plymouth Co.

EDITED AND PUBLISHED BY

S. B. Pratt,

Every Saturday Morning.

OFFICE—18 WATER ST., Middleboro, Mass.

Terms—$1.50 per annum.

SPECIMEN COPIES sent free to any address.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

This paper has a larger circulation than any other paper in Plymouth County, thus making it the best, (at the same time that it is the CHEAPEST) Advertising medium in the Old Colony. Advertisers will find our terms satisfactory.

Having placed the MIDDLEBORO GAZETTE on a footing with first class country papers in size and style of execution, (it being now worked on a cylinder press,) the proprietor hopes for continued liberal patronage, upon the following grounds:

It is the cheapest paper in Plymouth County.

It contains as large a portion of ORIGINAL matter as any other.

It is a better advertising medium than any in this vicinity.

It is largely devoted to LOCAL INTELLIGENCE, and so resembles a friendly letter that many now order it sent to "Dear ones far away" as a good substitute for frequent correspondence.

In politics it will be independent, with a strong leaning towards the principles of the framers of the declaration of our own glorious independence, viz.: that "all men have certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Special Notices.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, tho it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahneman, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc., etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curatives for family use are getting to be about as common as babies in a house, and every family should have one,—a case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq; and at corner State and Pleasant sts, Portsmouth; M. S. BURR & CO., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. PHILLIPS, wholesale, Portland, Me.; or sent anywhere by

MR. SHILLABER'S LECTURE ON FUN, at the Temple, Wednesday evening, was full of fun, but by no means devoid of sense or sentiment. In fact, it was his, like him —and his wit never runs in vain, (that is, in any vein but a pleasant one) or to an idle end; but always tends to "make men better" as well as happier "for the nonce," (or nonsense, if you will.) The weather was stormy, the walking fearful; but a fine audience gathered to greet him whom perhaps we may call Portsmouth's favorite son abroad. And well were they repaid by one of his happiest efforts,—about which we can now only say that it will be found eminently worthy a place in any lyceum course. To ourselves (who believe in the laughing philosophy) was it especially acceptable, coming in as a green spot amid the present barren desert of war talk and war thought.

The following was his very neat and heartfelt introduction:

I never am better pleased than when called upon to address a Portsmouth audience, but never as a 'distinguished lecturer.' Your invitation alone distinguishes me. I am pleased, because the favor with which I am received affords proof that a prophet, or in this instance, perhaps, one not so profitable as that, may be honored in his own country. I have always been honored more than my deserts warranted, but not in greater measure than my heart goes out ever for the scenes of my early childhood. Years take nothing from these—my first loves (that had, by the way, other loves mingled with them)—even though many of those scenes have changed with time, and forms then revered have long since passed away. As if to make this home-feeling stronger, I received the other day, from one greatly esteemed, the ferule with which I was instructed regarding the ways of the transgressor, a great many years ago.* Hence, it is easy for me to say "yes" when asked to go to Portsmouth, whether it be to give you a song or a sermon; and the smiles of my towns people send me back with a happy consciousness that in this I am distinguished—I am not an object of indifference to them. A generous praise has been mine from people and press; which I greatly prize, for it is to those we love that we turn for approval, and in their eyes seek we favor. It is encouragement like this that has been an incentive to my ambition, and led me on through ways that, but for this, might never have been mine. * * *

I am sorry that I cannot congratulate you, as Mr. Cutts did his auditors on an old time occasion, on the "salubrity of the weather." The weather deserves no favorable mention at our hands, but we will endeavor to be happy—weather or no.

POLICE COURT, Tuesday.—Patrick Creene, for an assault on John May, was sentenced to pay a fine and costs, amounting to $6.86, and for want of funds was committed to jail.

On Wednesday, Barth. Sullivan for being drunk was sentenced to pay a fine and costs, $6.86. Thomas Haley for being drunk,—to the House of Correction for 30 days and to pay costs, $3.86.

S. J. COURT.—No. 146, James Standeing vs. Samuel A. Felch. The parties reside in Amesbury, and the suit was brought to recover $175 and interest, money advanced to purchase for deft. the stock of a barber while the deft., who had married the plf.'s daughter, was a minor. The plf. alleged that deft. had ratified the purchase in terms and by retaining the property after he became 21. The defence was that the money was a gift, and minority and no ratification. The case was commenced Tuesday afternoon, and occupied the court till Wednesday noon. It was argued by Hackett for plf. and Tuck for deft., and verdict was rendered for plf. $185.50.

No 172, Wiggin vs. Smith et al., was on trial Thursday forenoon.

The case State vs. Dennis Dee was commenced on Monday morning. This was a case of alleged rape by the respondent upon Mary Bonner in Epping on the evening of the 10th of September last, in a public highway in the town of Epping. The parties were both Irish, and young, and intimate acquaintances. The evidence failed to satisfy the jury that there was such force on his part and resistance on hers as to justify his conviction on so grave a charge. The case was given to the jury on Tuesday afternoon, and on Wednesday morning they brought in a verdict of not guilty.

☞ We are indebted to Mr. T. E. Wood of this city, who is passing the winter at Nassau, for a copy of the Bahama Herald, by which we see that he is engaged in taking Daguerrean likenesses, which are highly spoken of in that paper.

This Bahama Herald, "is printed and published by Mary Treco, proprietress.' It is a semi-weekly, smaller than this paper, at 1£ 5s per year, in advance.

☞ We are pleased to learn that Lieut. G. Frank Towle, of this city, of Co. B, 4th Regiment N. H. V., has been promoted to the position of Captain of Co. F. The regiment is now at Port Royal.

ANOTHER COMPLIMENT.—One of the most famous of the Ex-Governors of New Hampshire, regularly sends every year, just double the price of his subscription to our weekly paper—"$2, one for the paper, and the other for the cause."

☞ The Muscular Christianity lecture at the Temple on Tuesday evening, was excellently attended and very cordially received. The different matters pertaining to the care of the body, the cultivation of the physical powers, and the attainment of the "athletic virtues," were presented and enforced in an interesting and practical manner, while various illustrative exercises were performed with great ease and skill.

The bean-bag games exhibited by young ladies of the High School, afforded the liveliest satisfaction and occasioned the heartiest and healthiest laughter. These excellent games are rapidly coming into general use in the best schools of our larger cities, and we are glad to know that the united interest and energy of the chairman of the committee and the principal have already made them somewhat familiar to the young ladies of our own High School.

Mr. Knowlton has concluded to give one more entertainment, which on account of other engagements, is appointed for Saturday evening, Feb. 1st, to commence half an hour earlier, and to consist of less lecture and more exhibition, introducing different games with the bean bags and several entirely new exercises with rings, wands, etc. See advertisement in another column.

☞ We ask those who are interested in the welfare of the Portsmouth Navy Yard—particularly those who believe that nothing will or can be done to injure it, to read the following extract from a letter written by the Augusta, Me., correspondent of the Portland Advertiser, and published in that paper on Wednesday morning:

"Is it not time for the people of Portland to bestir themselves more actively towards making that city a Naval Depot? No place in the world offers greater facilities; and yet perhaps by resting too surely on the advantages of the situation, the opportunity may be lost. My attention has been drawn to this more particularly to-day, by seeing a petition in circulation here, addressed to proper authorities at Washington, for the purchase of fifty acres of land in Kittery, to be added to the Kittery Navy Yard.—The price is $28,000, and it is urged that it should be bought to increase the capacities of the yard, and our members of Congress are to be stimulated to the measure by all practical means. Now I have not the least objection towards making that yard as capacious and efficient as land and money can do; but I do object to attention being diverted from the "key to the position"—the point made by nature for naval purposes, by any collateral issues; and I appeal to your business men to say, if it is not quite reasonable to suppose that if the strength be put upon the Kittery Yard—one step initiating another, the prospect of Portland will not be materially lessened."

Now we haven't the slightest objection to Portland getting all it can: it has a good harbor, and it might be inconvenient in case of war to have it in the hands of the enemy. But it is not the only good harbor on the coast; and is it not time for the people of Portsmouth, therefore, to bestir themselves more actively? Otherwise, it may be found that one step having initiated another, much of the business at present transacted here, has stepped out. We have before hinted at the way things were being done: perhaps the unexpected admission made by the above correspondent may convince others that such hints were not uncalled for.

☞ We have got that list of "old folks," over 70 years, and shall publish in a day or two.

THE FRANKLIN.—A recent number of the Boston Journal speaks of this ship at Portsmouth, as the finest specimen of naval architecture in the American Navy. We hope to avail ourselves of the invitation of the Editor of the Chronicle, and refresh our impressions of naval matters some day, perhaps before the Franklin is ordered into commission. Meantime, we are happy to say the Chronicle, both daily and weekly, is one of the most agreeable and pithy of our exchanges; and we hope to see its circulation increased hereabouts, to the better knowledge of the fine old sea-port of New Hampshire.—Manchester Journal of Agriculture.

Thank you, friend Journal; and we wish every farmer in the State (not to mention "any other man,") would subscribe for the Journal of Agriculture. All would be wiser, happier, and better for reading it—and in fact, we don't see how any of them get along without it. We couldn't.

ORDERS FROM THE POTOMAC.—Prices are so exorbitant in the sutler's stores, that the soldiers find it worth while to send home for many articles. Our neighbor Mr. Head informs us that he is weekly receiving orders from the Portsmouth Boys for flutinas, violins, books and other articles in his line. The last case forwarded contained a number of copies of the "Jewels from the Mind" ordered by the soldiers in company K. of our 2d regiment.

THE NEW-HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE and Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, published Thursday, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room. Price 3 cents. Only $1 per year, in advance.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

"THE LOVYERS."—Every one has heard of the story of Leander, who guided by a beacon lighted by his lady love, was accustomed to swim the Hellespont by night to Abydos, there having achieved his desire, to fall dripping and exhausted at the feet of Hero, whose tender caresses and words of honied endearment soon revived and amply rewarded him for his three miles swim. This story has been rendered after a different model and in a manner less calculated to dampen the ardor of youth, by a brace of lovers upon the banks of "our river." At early twilight a maiden fair is often seen wending her way to the water's edge, not to light a beacon but to launch her little skiff upon the silvery stream, and with the grace and dexterity of the dusky maiden of old, paddle to the shore where expectant and watching, her lover waits her coming. They return to her home, where "the golden hours on angels' wings" pass quickly and the small hours of the night find the boat again dancing upon the tide, bearing the swain homeward, when the damsel brings it safely back to its anchorage and flies to her room, there to revel in pleasant dreams until called to the duties of the morning.—Since nature has provided a free bridge across the river, this lively recreation has been in part suspended.—Newburyport Her.

THE COST OF FENCES.—The Maine State Agricultural Report presents some striking statistics in relation to the cost of fencing. The fences of the State have cost $25,000,000; the repairs require $2,500,000 annually; 6 per cent. interest is $1,500,000; and a renewal in 20 years would be $1,250,000; making the total yearly expense $3,250,000—or two-thirds the original cost of the Erie Canal. A strong argument in favor of soiling. Estimated cost of road fences, supposed to be at least one-sixth part of the whole, $3,125,000. The interest and cost of annual repairs and renewing would be $831,000; the tax paid annually by the farmers of Maine to make the highway a public pasture. To this sum is to be added $150,000, the yearly cost of breaking through snow drifts caused by such fences, and opening roads. These estimates will do to apply to other places besides Maine. The custom now is that every man shall fence out all intruders; the time may come when this will be among the things of the past, as much as that of walling towns to shut out human marauders.—Port. Adv.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not an sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be equalled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and Consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

THE BOSTON COURIER. 1862.

☞ The Publishers of the BOSTON COURIER invite the attention of business men, thinking men, and of all who are interested in the various occupations and pursuits of life, to the several editions of their Journal.

For the Union, the Constitution, and the Enforcement of the Laws.

THE BOSTON DAILY COURIER,

Established in this City in the year 1824,

Is issued every Morning (Sundays excepted) and contains the latest intelligence, by telegraph and otherwise, from all parts of the world, with carefully prepared articles on Government, Politics, Trade, Finance and Agriculture, Marine Intelligence, prompt editorial comments on the questions and affairs of the day, Prices Current, Reports of Public Gatherings, Foreign and Domestic Correspondence, Legal Reports, Reviews of Literature, Art and Music, Agricultural Matters, and discussions of whatever subject is of general interest and importance.

The Boston Semi-Weekly Courier.

The SEMI-WEEKLY COURIER is of the size of the DAILY COURIER, and is issued every Monday and Thursday. It contains the whole of the Ship News prepared for the DAILY COURIER, and nearly all the general reading matter. Hereafter the SEMI-WEEKLY COURIER will be sent to subscribers at the reduced price of THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR, payable in advance.

THE BOSTON WEEKLY COURIER.

Cheapest Paper in New England.

The WEEKLY COURIER is a complete compendium of the news of the week, and contains the chief editorials, the prices current and market reports, stock quotations, correspondence, and general news matter published in the DAILY COURIER. It also contains an editorial summary of the news of the week, and a great variety of other matter, rendering it in all respects a first class family journal and particularly adapted to the wants of farmers and mechanics. It has an Agricultural Department, under the supervision of a gentleman of long experience as an agricultural and horticultural writer.

TERMS—One dollar and a half per year, in advance. To Clubs of five or more, to one address, one dollar per copy per year. Twenty copies to one address one year for twenty dollars, and one copy gratis to the person getting up the club. All subscriptions to the Weekly Courier are discontinued at the expiration of the time paid for.

The Boston Courier Prices Current and Review of the Boston Market.

Printed on a letter sheet, for mercantile correspondence, is published every Tuesday morning at two dollars and a half per year, or five cents per single copy.

TO ADVERTISERS.

The circulation of the BOSTON COURIER, which is large, and steadily and rapidly growing, makes it at least as valuable a medium for advertising as any other commercial and business newspaper in New England.

The publishers of the COURIER could easily fill their sheet with the strongest and most liberal commendations of the Press, throughout the country. But they prefer that it should now stand altogether upon claims to public confidence, so well known and established. They believe it has acquired the reputation by the candor, fearlessness, and independence with which it has been conducted, through times of extraordinary confusion of ideas on public subjects, and latterly of almost unexampled public trial. It is now, and will be, as heretofore, the supporter of truly national and conservative principles, opposed alike to radicalism and fanaticism in whatever form, and devoted to the maintenance of good government, law, order, morals and religion.

The COURIER earnestly and faithfully upholds the principles of the Constitution, as established by WASHINGTON and the fathers of the Republic. These are now either openly or insidiously assailed by undisguised foes, and by false pretenders to be supporters of the Union. The Government of the country with the aid of the people, must take care of the first—the others must be taken care of by the people of the free States, through the inculcation and diffusion of sound opinions upon questions vital to the very existence of the Republic. This is due to ourselves and our children; and especially the latter should be educated, as we and our fathers were, in true Constitutional Union principles. To this great object the COURIER is especially devoted. It has advocated these principles steadily, under every fortune; and often through obstacles and obloquies, such as the conductor of a newspaper rarely has to endure. Its friends are the friends of the Union, now, as ever before—its foes are the open or secret advocates of emancipation, with or without the Union—which is to be neither more nor less than opposed to the Constitution and Government of the country.

The publishers of the COURIER conceive, that it thus may render peculiar services and has peculiar claims upon all men by whom the principles are valued, and who look, by the proper means, to promote and secure the Constitutional restoration of the Union. These can best show their sense of our untiring efforts for this great and unparalleled cause, by sustaining this paper in all its business relations.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

Official dispatches from Com. Goldsborough, dated Jan. 26th state that Gen. Burnside was preparing his forces to move in connection with the fleet. Com. Goldsborough says things now look hopeful, and he sincerely trusts they will soon be at the enemy: any decided approach now on the part of the rebels, with all the force they could muster, would to a moral certainty result in their speedy capture and destruction.

Dispatches of the 27th inst., published in the Western papers, say that Gen. Thomas was still in pursuit of the rebels, and had occupied Monticello, Ky. The rebels had not attempted to make a stand, but were still retreating in great confusion Troops are going forward to reinforce the Union army. The value of the munitions of war captured from Zollicoffer's army is estimated at $250,000.

In commenting on the recent capture of Cedar Keys by our naval and military forces, the Savannah Republican says, "with the Tortugas, Key West, Cedar Keys and Fort Pickens in possession of the Union army, there is nothing left of the State of Florida worth holding."

It is understood that Gen. Sigel is to go forward with the expedition which is now under way in Missouri.

Southern papers contain the following items:—

A steamer ran the blockade from Charleston on the night of the 13th, with 1000 bales of cotton on board.

The steamer Calhoun entered a Louisiana port on Tuesday night, where she accidentally burst a boiler and became unmanageable. The captain, fearing that she might be captured, burnt her. Her cargo was very valuable.

According to a letter from New Orleans in the Charleston Courier, three officers of the Federal fleet visited that city in disguise on the 8th.

The Sumter having been ordered by the Spanish Government to leave Cadiz, has gone to Gibraltar. It is said that she is leaky. She was forty-two days on the passage from Martinique to Cadiz.

In expectation of the success of Gen. Burnside's expedition, Taylor the Provisional Governor of North Carolina, has issued a proclamation ordering an election to ratify or reject the ordinances of the Convention of the 18th of Nov., and also for the election of two Representatives to Congress.

FOREIGN.—Steamship Africa, from Liverpool, Jan. 18th and Queenstown, 19th, arrived at New York, Thursday morning. It is reported that England, through Earl Russell, protested against the stone blockade, and that France and other European governments would do so: it is asserted that the recent prohibition against exporting munitions of war from England has been revoked. English journals are urging the intervention of England and France between the U. S. Government and the rebels.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Thursday, sundry bills and resolutions were introduced. The Secretary of War was authorized to procure from prisoners of war in the enemy's hands, an allotment of pay for the benefit of their families. The Military Committee were instructed to inquire into the condition of military hospitals, and propose measures for the reform of abuses.

In the House, the bill to repay to the States the expenses incurred in raising troops was debated. Objection was made to the passage of the bill, on the ground that it would open the way for the commission of enormous frauds on the treasury. The bill was finally laid on the table.—Mr. Cox of Ohio replied to the speech of his colleague, Mr. Gurley, on the conduct of the war, saying the latter was not a safe military critic, that Gen. McClellan, so far from restraining military movements in Kentucky and Missouri, has facilitated and expedited operations. He had no doubt that all his plans would be executed in good time, and through the young General-in-Chief the rebellion would be effectually crushed. The army appropriation bill was passed without amendment.

Growler would like to know if the women who bring knitting and crochet work to Lecture rooms are patterns of industry at home, with the pans and kettles, and dishes and chamber work.—Gloucester Tel.

Yes, sir; you never saw a confirmed, determined knitter,—one who always has her knitting-work handy to snatch up, any spare moment, and insists on knitting to the middle of her needle before she stops—but she was a smart woman. Mark that, Mr. Telegraph.

☞ Miss Chase, cousin of the Secretary of the Treasury, is called the Florence Nightingale of this war. She has devoted the energies of a life that was darkened in its early days by a great sorrow, to the nursing of Union soldiers. She is at Port Royal, has had the terrible coast fever, but is at her post again.

BRIEF COMMENTARY on ECCLES. XII.

BY ONE OF THE ELDERS.

Remember thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the sun or the light, or the moon or the stars be not darkened, nor the clouds return after the rain. Here the sun may be taken for a type or figure, to represent a man with a family circle around him, all in the enjoyment of health and prosperity in the light of the sun; and the moon to represent the woman or the mother; and the stars to be their children, all appearing to be happy and prosperous; and the clouds may represent sickness, sorrow or death of one of the family; and the clouds returning after the rain, the death of another of the family, and then it may be said that wordly prospects are all darkened, and we have no pleasure in them, but weeping and sorrow the clouds returning after the rain.

And in the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, or in old age feeble; and the nervous system is weak, and growing weaker as years increase. And the strong men bowing themselves, or stooping downward to their mother earth, or a walking bending forward. And the grinders cease because they are few; or the teeth are mostly lost, and those that remain do not match. And those that look out of the window are darkened; or the sight of the eyes fail, so that glasses are needed for help when nature fails.

And the doors shall be shut in the street when the sound of the grinding is low; or when the aged parent is sick and speechless, then the door or mouth is shut in the street, for the sound of the grinding is low; for he can take but little nourishment, and cannot take solid food. And he shall rise up at the voice of the bird, or at every sound he hears, he being out of his head, as it is called, and every noise that he hears is alarming to him, and so he rises up at the sound of the voice of the bird.

And all the daughters of music shall be brought low, or sorrowful; the young, the gay, the active, the lively children in their mirth and joy, when viewing an aged parent as above described, are brought low, and their mirth and joy is turned to mourning and sorrow, and when they shall be afraid of that which is high, and fear be in the way; and the almond tree shall flourish, or the hoary head which is a crown of glory if found in the way of righteousness. And the grasshopper shall be a burden, or the system becomes so reduced that it cannot bear the lightest food. All hope is gone because man goes to his long home, and the mourners go about the streets.

Our life contains a thousand springs,
And dies if one be gone.
Strange that a harp of thousand strings
Should keep in tune so long.

The preacher, in representing the inward part of the system, says:—Or ever the silver cord be loosed, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher be broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the cistern.

The silver cord being loosened may mean the pulse beating quick but not regularly, showing that something is out of order in the system, and that the body is not in a healthy state or as well as usual. And the golden bowl being broken may mean the lungs or the vital parts in the breast, which are decaying and wasting away by taking cold, or by coughing, or bleeding, or various other causes, so that the golden bowl or seal of life is broken or wasted away.

And the pitcher broken at the fountain may mean that the veins, that contain the blood in the human body, are broken, as sometimes persons die by the rupture of a blood vessel, or the pitcher broken at the fountain of life in the human body.

The wheel, broken at the cistern, may mean that the cistern is the human body and the nervous system revolves like a wheel, and sets the whole frame in motion, but by disease or misconduct, or some cause, the nervous system may be reduced, weakened or destroyed, and then the wheel is broken at the cistern. Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was, and the Spirit shall return unto God, who gave it.

And if these things are so, how necessary it is for us to remember our Creator now, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh when we should say, I have no pleasure in them. J. G. B.

☞ A San Francisco dispatch, Jan. 30, says the Legislature held its first session in San Francisco on that day, having adjourned from Sacramento on account of the flood. All the streets in the latter city are navigable for small boats, every house having water on the lower floors. The weather had been pleasant for two days.—If it continued for two weeks, stages may again run to the interior

☞ A late report says the Nashville at Southampton, has been sold to an English shipowner. Notwithstanding the rumored sale, she continued to fly the Confederate flag. No sale is registered at the Admiralty. It was understood that the Tuscarora's orders are never to lose sight of the Nashville, to blockade her at Southampton, and to chase her as long as she is at sea.

☞ The N. O. Picayune gives an account of the desertion of six rebel marines to the Union forces at Pensacola and says "it was very aggravating."

Recollections of Old Acquaintance.

BY UNCLE TOBY.

ANOTHER REMINISCENCE OF TOBIAS LAKEMAN.—"Yes! he was indeed a lover of nature;" is the response of a lady who remembers him well, and whose keener and finer perception of character may aid Uncle Toby in doing something like justice to the memory of a good man who is almost forgotten by those who ought to know his virtues best and admire them most. But poverty and insanity in a father, lasting for years and ending only with life, draw a cloud over the minds of children, who, born to expectations of ease and wealth, find themselves bound to toil and poverty. In their privations, caused by his misfortunes, they are tempted to forget the nobleness of soul which occasioned those misfortunes. Good traits, however, must not and shall not be forgotten. And therefore it is that we are greatly indebted to our lady friend for her recollection that "Grandfather Lakeman was fond of flowers!" So he was: the love of them in him was a passion. He would beg them of any body; and every body would give them to him. In the time of roses he would wear one in every button-hole of coat and vest, and have a bunch of them in his bosom; he would adorn his hat with a wreath of flowers, and carry a bouquet in his hand. Here, too, in the midst of this taste, he was not miserly of what he valued so highly, but would give the biggest rose he had to any one who admired it,—and carry and give away the bouquet he had just made up from his own garden or begged from his neighbors.

So also, was he fond of children, as every one is who really loves flowers. Many a one who loves show and fashion may have a kind of value for flowers because fashion prescribes such a value; and such an one may have no love for children unless elegantly dressed—but this is like a love for flowers only in golden vases. The love of our old friend for children and flowers, like his other feelings, was not of this kind, but simple and pure, as well as true and disinterested. He loved children because they were children, and loved flowers for their own sake. He carried cakes in his pockets for the former, and loaded his hands with the latter for the parents. And he loved his fellow-men, as his acts showed, not so much because they were rich, or great, or even good, as because they were brethren. Would that more were like him, for then the brotherhood would be better: would that all were like him in these traits, for then all would be happier.

His place of residence was on what is now called Chestnut street, opposite the N. E. corner of the Temple. The house was one story in height, with a high roof: it had four rooms on the lower floor, with a large chimney in the centre. It was black with age, as paint was not then common. He lived there ever after he left the jail, and died there. "Aunt Betsey," his daughter, kept school there in his latter days, and after his death during her life, or almost to its close.

☞ Bishop Ames, of the Methodist Episcopal church, and Hon. Hamilton Fish of New York, have been appointed by the Sec. of War as Commissioners to proceed to the South and attend to the wants of the Union prisoners. Bishop Ames belongs to Ohio.

☞ Capt. Semmes of the Sumter, has addressed a letter to the London Times, defending his ship against the insinuations of the Secretary of the Federal Navy, who, in an official report, described the Sumter as a piratical craft. The Sumter continued at Cadiz.

☞ The U. S. brig Perry having passed safely down the Potemac to Fortress Monroe, is to proceed to Aspinwall, to take the place of the brig Bainbridge, now there.—The Bainbridge is ordered to report at Key West for duty in the Gulf Squadron.

☞ Forney's Press says there appears to be no doubt that the Secretary of the Navy will soon resign.

Special Notices.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, the it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahneman, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc., etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curatives for family use are getting to be about as common as babies in a house, and every family should have one.—A case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq; and corner State and Pleasant sts, Portsmouth; M. S. BURR & CO., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. PHILLIPS, wholesale, Portland, Me.; or sent anywhere by

—AND—

Old Colony Advertiser,

For 1862.

A Family Paper, devoted to General and Local News,

especially interesting to all who have friends or acquaintances in Plymouth Co.

EDITED AND PUBLISHED BY

S. B. Pratt,

Every Saturday Morning.

OFFICE—18 WATER ST., Middleboro, Mass.

Terms—$1.50 per annum;

SPECIMEN COPIES sent free to any address.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

This paper has a larger circulation than any other paper in Plymouth County, thus making it the BEST, (at the same time that it is the CHEAPEST) Advertising medium in the Old Colony. Advertisers will find our terms satisfactory.

Having placed the MIDDLEBORO GAZETTE on a footing with first class country papers in size and style of execution, (it being now worked on a cylinder press,) the proprietor hopes for continued liberal patronage, upon the following grounds:

It is the cheapest paper in Plymouth County.

It contains as large a portion of ORIGINAL matter as any other.

It is a better advertising medium than any in this vicinity.

It is largely devoted to LOCAL INTELLIGENCE, and so resembles a friendly letter that many now order it sent to "Dear ones far away" as a good substitute for frequent correspondence.

In politics it will be independent, with a strong leaning towards the principles of the framers of the declaration of our own glorious independence, viz.: that "all men have certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Local.

☞ This morning's issue commences the 20th half-yearly volume of the Daily Chronicle. The close of this volume, will round out our first ten years in the service as newspaper publisher—at which time we are minded to have a sort of tin-wedding celebration of the event, if we then feel like it, using up some of the "tin" our experiment or enterprise has netted. For "the boys are bound to have a good time, and spend their money," you know, Mr. Bawl-at.

☞ The Independent Democrat has "taken time by the forelock" in making the following statement:

The Navy Yard at Portsmouth has already received an appropriation of $223,035.

It is true that an estimate has been made that that amount will be required to carry out plans suggested, but the money has not yet been appropriated. We hope the Democrat is more nearly correct in making the following additional statement:

The wants of our harbor at Portsmouth are receiving proper attention from our delegation in Congress.

In no quarter is our commerce more exposed than in the Mediterranean, and we are glad to learn that the Saratoga, now on her way from Africa, is ordered to the Straits, and that the Kearsarge, Wachusett and Constellation are ordered to the same place. Nothing has given more chagrin to the department than the non capture of the Sumter; but the commanders who are now on her track are live officers, and they will not be likely to play the Brooklyn or Iroquois game, or to return without her. This attention to our heavy commerce through the straits will give great satisfaction to our merchants.—Boston Post.

☞ The Exeter Ballot man, in speaking of the N. H. Gazette, alludes to the story of the jack-knife, which, while often changing blades and handles, was claimed to be the same knife still. Well, he is welcome to "the jack-knife"—the public generally award it to him. Wonder if he has "found that subscriber to the Weekly Chronicle" yet—or if he knows when the Daily and Weekly are to "eat each other up"—or if he can tell just when both are to "die out."

☞ The lecture by Mr. Knowlton, at the Temple this evening, on "Muscular Christianity," should not be forgotten, by the many interested in the subject. A large amount of useful information was imparted in his former lecture,—and that this evening will doubtless prove not less interesting and attractive.

☞ Only four weeks to a spring month, and as yet the mercury has not descended below zero this winter. The ground is well coated with snow. Although not drifted, the traveling is bad, by reason of the hard crust made by the rain. Unless there is much cold packed down for February, we shall have a very mild winter.

Police Court, Friday.—Susan Tuttle, charged with adultery, was held in the sum of $100, to appear before the S. J. Court; and failing to find bonds, was committed to jail.

John Stringer, for fornication, was held in the sum of $100 for his appearance, and also committed.

Sunday Services.—Rev. A. P. Peabody, D. D., of Cambridge, Mass., will preach at the Unitarian Church to-morrow.

Rev. E. H. Richardson, of Dover, will preach at the North Church to-morrow.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Manchester has a free public Library containing 8,300 vols. 30,000 were circulated the past year among the reading portion of the citizens.

——An Agricultral Library Association has been organized in Exeter, by the adoption of a constitution, and the election of the following permanent officers for the ensuing year:—Hon. John Sullivan, President; John E. Gardner, Secretary; Chas. H. Goodwin, Treasurer and Librarian.—The association was founded by Mr. John Reynolds of Concord, Mass., establisher of Agricultural Libraries. Certificates of stock are issued on the payment of $5. The amount already subscribed is about $150.

——The Laconia Democrat has been purchased by Mr. J. B. Batchelder, a practical printer of that vicinity, who announces that he will conduct it on Union democratic principles, the policy it has espoused heretofore. The Democrat has been conducted the last twelve years by S. C. Baldwin, who lamented death occurred not long ago. Mr. Batchelder is quite a young man.

☞ A little girl aged 12 years was fatally burned in a public school in New York the other day. She approached too near the stove to warm herself, her clothes ignited and such was the terror of mistress and scholars that she was unaided until mortally injured.

☞ It is reported that England has no objection to examine the question of a guarantee for the rights of neutrals by diplomatic correspondence, but would be opposed to a Congress on the question.

☞ The line-of-battle ship "Vermont" will leave Boston in a few days for Port Royal, there to serve in the double capacity of a store ship and a station ship.

The New-Hampshire Gazette and Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, published Thursday, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room. Price 3 cents. Only $1 per year, in advance.

☞ Having made arrangements for furnishing good custom-made BOOTS and SHOES for the people; also for all kinds of repairing in the same line, an invitation is extended to all who are in need of something good to wear to call at No. 6 Market Square. D. R. AMBROSE.

N. B.—Newspapers and Periodicals as heretofore. dec30

Cards and Bill Headings are indispensable to the business man, and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abroad reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

THE BOSTON COURIER.

☞ The Publishers of the BOSTON COURIER invite the attention of business men, thinking men, and of all who are interested in the various occupations and pursuits of life, to the several editions of their Journal.

For the Union, the Constitution, and the Enforcement of the Laws.

THE BOSTON DAILY COURIER,

Established in this City in the year 1824,

Is issued every Morning (Sundays excepted) and contains the latest Intelligence, by telegraph and otherwise, from all parts of the world, with carefully prepared articles on Government, Politics, Trade, Finance and Agriculture. The Boston Semi-Weekly Courier.

The SEMI-WEEKLY COURIER is of the size of the DAILY COURIER, and is issued every Monday and Thursday. It contains the whole of the Ship News prepared for the DAILY COURIER, and nearly all the general reading matter. Hereafter the SEMI WEEKLY COURIER will be sent to subscribers at the reduced price of THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR, payable in advance.

THE BOSTON WEEKLY COURIER.

Cheapest Paper in New England.

The WEEKLY COURIER is a complete compendium of the NEWS OF THE WEEK, and contains the chief editorials, the prices current and market reports, stock quotations, correspondence, and general news matter published in the DAILY COURIER. It also contains an editorial summary of the news of the week, and a great variety of other matter, rendering it in all respects a first class family journal, and particularly adapted to the wants of farmers and mechanics. It has an Agricultural Department, under the supervision of a gentleman of long experience as an agricultural horticultural writer.

TERMS—One dollar and a half per year, in advance. To clubs of five or more, to one address, one dollar per copy per year. Twenty Copies to one address one year for twenty dollars, and one copy gratis to the person getting up the club. All subscriptions to the Weekly Courier are discontinued at the expiration of the time paid for.

Printed on a letter sheet, for mercantile correspondence, is published every Tuesday morning at two dollars and a half per year, or five cents per single copy.

TO ADVERTISERS.

The circulation of the BOSTON COURIER, which is large, and steadily and rapidly growing, makes it at least a valuable a medium for advertising as any other commercial and business newspaper in New England.

The publishers of the COURIER could easily fill their sheet with the unsought and most liberal commendations of the Press, throughout the country. But they prefer that it should now stand altogether upon claims to public confidence, so well known and established. They believe it has acquired this reputation by the candor, fearlessness, and independence with which it has been conducted, through times of extraordinary confusion of ideas on public subjects, and latterly of almost unexampled public trial. It is now, and will be, as heretofore, the supporter of truly national and conservative principles, opposed alike to radicalism and fanaticism in whatever form, and devoted to the maintenance of good government, law, order, morals and religion.

The COURIER earnestly and faithfully upholds the principles of the Constitution, as established by WASHINGTON and the fathers of the Republic. These are now either openly or insidiously assailed by undisguised foes, and by false pretenders to be supporters of the Union. The Government of the country with the aid of the people, must take care of the first—the others must be taken care of by the people of the free States, through the inculcation and diffusion of sound opinions upon questions vital to the very existence of the Republic. This is due to ourselves and our children; and especially the latter should be educated, as we and our fathers were, in true Constitutional Union principles. To this great object the COURIER is especially devoted. It has advocated these principles steadily, under every fortune, and often through obstacles and difficulties, such as the conductor of a newspaper rarely has to endure. Its friends are the friends of the Union, now, as ever before—its foes are the open or secret advocates of emancipation, with or without the Union—which is to be neither more nor less than opposed to the Constitution and Government of the country.

The publishers of the COURIER conceive, that it thus may render peculiar service and has peculiar claims upon all men by whom its principles are valued, and who look, by the proper means, to preserve and secure the Constitution and Union of the Union. These can best show their sense of our untiring efforts for this great and unparalleled cause, by sustaining this paper in all its business relations.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.:

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1862.

For the Chronicle.

A NATIONAL FINANCIAL INSTITUTION.—We have remarked that the revenue from customs paid in specie into the public Treasury would constitute a solid basis for the redemption of Treasury notes of an amount sufficient for the present exigencies. A national currency expanded wide as the loyal states, based upon the annual payment to the Treasury of fifty millions of specie, would be deemed equivalent to specie, because at any time convertible into specie at the public Treasury and its branches at some of of largest cities. With such a vast expanded circulation, no sudden panic could be excited to induce the note-holders simultaneously or generally to demand specie.

The national faith would be solemnly pledged by the Government, representing the people, for the ultimate redemption of the Treasury notes. The alarm attempted to be excited by certain politicians in order to change the administration, who aver that the Government is on the eve of bankruptcy, is idle; for the Government cannot fail unless its constituents, the patriotic people, should choose to fail by repudiating their obligations, and their free institutions also. No other nation on earth has greater ability to bear the present burdens, although heavy. It has over two hundred and seventy five millions in specie, still rapidly increasing, four-fifths of which are in the free states, and amply sufficient to support the payment of the revenue in coin. The real and personal property of the loyal states and people is valued at not less than eleven thousand millions, and the surplus earnings are estimated at over three hundred millions.

We have estimated the aggregate annual value of the products of the nation at thirty-five hundred millions, of which twenty-seven hundred millions are in our free states. How preposterous, therefore, the idea that a people of such vast resources and accumulating wealth, with its representative Government, can become bankrupt, or refuse to pay the public creditors!

It is true that in the war of 1812, when there was but about thirty millions of specie in the country, and the Government had to resort to banks and capitalists for loans, the Treasury notes depreciated. But there has been a mighty progress in almost every thing since that period. Neither we, nor any other nation ever had a financial system like the one now proposed. Its novelty of itself is no valid reason against it.

We now see the necessity of a national currency, uniform and equivalent to specie in all parts of the country, to be issued without bearing interest, to the public creditors, and to be wholly independent of associated State banks or capitalists.

Loans bearing interest at six or seven per cent, for ten or twenty years, or any other time should not be resorted to except from immediate, extreme necessity. For the annual interest accumulates to a large amount, enabling stockholders and capitalists to live sumptuously in idleness, as in England, while the whole amount of the interest must ultimately be paid by a direct or indirect tax upon the laboring classes.—A national debt so created is opposed to our republican policy.

This country requires an institution adapted to her conditions, without regarding the financial schemes of arbitrary governments, which tend to make the rich richer at the expense of the common people.—Still stronger are the objections to forci n loans, as the interest must be paid in spe cie, and thereby withdraw the amount from our circulation.

State banks, which issue bills from ten to fifteen times the amount of coin in their vaults, could not be sustained without public confidence in the integrity of their directors. Would not the people place greater confidence in an institution of their own, conducted by faithful agents, appointed by their own public servants who administer the government?

Some State bank directors, from interested motives, may raise, perhaps, numerous objections to the proposed plan, for it would drive out of circulation the notes of unsound banks, while it would not essentially injure solvent banks, by promoting the public welfare and prosperity.

It is proposed in Congress to make the Treasury notes a legal tender. That would be against the spirit, if not the letter, of the Constitution, and by lessening the public confidence in the notes equivalent to specie, tend to depreciate them in the market. A direct tax to the amount collected, would be in aid of a national currency.

PRO PATRIA.

A Paris dispatch of the 17th says:—The Emperor Napoleon, while out shooting last week with the Duke of Magenta, was struck in the nape of the neck with two or three stray shots from the gun of his companion.

THE REBELLION.

It appears, by accounts puplished in the Southern papers, that several armed U. S. vessels, probably gun-boats of light draft, have entered the Savannah river at a point above Fort Pulaski, thus cutting off all communication between the fort and the city. There is another fort, called Fort Jackson, on the river above the point reached by the Federal vessels. There are probably, also, some small shore batteries of recent construction.

The Herald's dispatch says orders have been issued for the Constitution to sail from Hampton Roads with her troops at the earliest possible moment for Ship Island. It is thought that she would get away by Sunday morning.

A Washington correspondent says that Gen. Butler has received his instructions, and will at once send forward the remaining troops of his expedition, which will equal in numbers that of Gen. Burnside.

The Quartermaster's department at Cairo is represented as being exceedingly mixed up. Frauds to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars are said to exist.

The Times' dispatch says private letters received in Washington from persons abroad confirm the impression that the governments of England, France and Spain meditate an early recognition of the independence of the Confederate States. This recognition, it will be pretended, is made in the cause of humanity.

NAVAL.—A Washington dispatch says four Federal steamers and three sailing vessels are now on the al rt to catch the pirate Sumter, and the Constellation is fitting out at Portsmouth for a similar purpose. Several national ships are lying in port for want of seamen, about 4000 of whom are now wanted by the Navy Department, while Flag officer Foote is in want of about 1000 for service on the Western waters.—New England fishermen, it seems, have entered the army in large numbers, there being a slight increase of pay over that of the navy, but in other respects no advantage.

☞ There was a funny row in the Paris Bourse about the affair of Mason and Slidell. For several days the news had fluctuated in the most uncertain way, so that the speculating people were in a state of despair. M. de Rothschild received from a private source a dispatch which assured him positively that Messrs. Mason and Slidell would be rendered up, and upon the strength of this he went upon 'Change and bought everything he could lay hands upon, for a rise; while another Jew magnate, M. Pereire, for the Credit Mobilier, sold everything he could get off his hands. M. Rothschild, who had foreign, and consequently better sources of information, has been optimist from the start on the war question, and has realized therefrom what would be a fortune for any other man than he; while M. Pereire who relied on the falsehoods of the French Press, has been pessimist, and has paid dear for his lack of acuteness.—Thus between M. Roths hild who bought, and M. Pereire who sold, the small fry did not know what to do; and the Bourse was stormy to a degree beyond the recollection of the oldest habitue of the place.

TO MAKE FIRE KINDLINGS.—Gather the sweepings on the stages around a vessel after the superfluous pitch has been scraped off; put it in a kettle, and melt as hot as it will bear; then stir in pitch-pine saw dust (of which there is usually an abundance in most ship yards) just as one would stir meal to make hasty pudding. After stirring in as much as it will bear, pour out the mass on paper and spread it, about one-half or three-quarters of an inch thick. Let it cool, and then break into pieces to your liking. B.

☞ The English papers remark that notwithstanding the predictions of the impossibility of largely increasing the supply of East India cotton, yet in one year, for the last six months of which only was there a demand for cotton, Bombay has quadrupled its exports.

STAND FROM UNDER.—A sub-committee from Congress is now in Boston examining all the government contracts which have been made there since the commencement of the war.

☞ Have you got tickets for Artemas Ward's lecture?

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Littleton Journal says: Samuel B. Philips and Levi Sanborn, of Bethlehem, unloaded from a car, and carried into the store of Messrs. Eastman, Tilton & Co., of that place, three hundred bushels of salt, in three hours. They shoveled it all into bushel baskets and carried it a distance of forty feet, each basket full weighing one hundred and twenty pounds. The whole weight of the salt was ten tons. After this they moved the car from which they took the salt, back about forty feet and packed carefully into it three cords of four feet long green birch peg timber which weighed at least ten tons more, the last job occupying only two hours. Thus handling over and removing in small portions the enormous weight of twenty tons in five hours.

——Peterborough has furnished 89 soldiers for the War. She did just that same, in proportion to population, in the Revolutionary War.

—— The Concord Statesman says the following amounts have been subscribed in the several cities named, to the popular loan:—

Portsmouth	$64,311.50
Concord	59,982.64
Manchester	48,693.50
Nashua	35,971.59
Keene	25,724.86
Dover	15,307.08
Somersworth	8,923.86
Newport	1,800.00
	$260,715.03

It will be observed that Portsmouth heads the column.

—— At a meeting of the Bedford Light Infantry held at their Armory Thursday evening, Jan. 30th, it was unanimously voted that the services of the company be tendered to Gov. Berry, for 30 days, to defend the fortifications at Washington, and down in "Old Virginia" if necessary.—And the three first officers will immediately enlist men enough to fill up the ranks to 100. The Company will be ready for marching orders at three days' notice.

—— Mrs. Charlotte Neal, wife of W. Neal, was taken suddenly ill while near the Post Office, in Manchester, on Thursday afternoon, and was unable to reach home. She continued to sink until she expired, at about 11 o'clock, the next forenoon.

—— The Statesman says, probably three quarters of the people of this State are seated at dinner at 15 minutes past 12 M.

—— There is propriety in all things.—A letter was lately received at a post-office in this vicinity, directed thus: "For Mrs. J—, care of her husband."

WHAT'S THE MATTER?—The Statesman no longer sings the praise of Gen. Butler, but styles him the "grand mar-plot," and "an unmilitary bit of fustian," and it intimates that his Department of New England was "devised and adopted merely that a system of public swindling be introduced into the recruiting and outfitting service in New England." This latter suggestion probably explains the Statesman's bitterness towards Butler. That paper evidently believes that the "monopoly of "public swindling" belongs to its own political friends, and cannot tolerate the idea of allowing Butler and his friends to participate in it. No higher motives seem to actuate Republican politicians at this time of national calamity.—N. H. Patriot.

There is altogether too much sad truth in the Patriot's charge, as well as the Statesman's—but the trouble is, that it is never our party which is in the wrong—though we must allow, the Patriot does own up a little in this instance. Generally each one sees and tells the truth about the others, and never about his own. We don't see so much difference in parties, or rather in politicians—"no higher motive than 'public swindling' seems to actuate" the whole of them—though of course they never proclaim that, but sail under other colors. We don't mean to enlist with any of the wire-pullers.

NARROW ESCAPE.—As M. H. Foster, and wife, of Weathersfield, Vt., were returning home from Claremont, crossing the Connecticut river, the horse broke through the ice, into water fifteen or twenty feet deep. Mr. F. jumped out of the sleigh, caught hold of the bridle, and, pulling the horse's head on the ice, put his arm under its neck, and supported it in that position for three quarters of an hour, when help arrived, and they were extricated from their perilous position, with slight injuries.

USE OF A NEWSPAPER.—A respectable farmer and church goer of East Haven, at the commencement of the year caused his newspaper to be discontinued as a measure of economy. As a natural consequence he soon lost his reckoning, and last Sunday morning commenced a vigorous attack upon his wood-pile, fully believing it was Saturday. He did not discover his mistake till he saw his neighbors passing for church, when he became so much shocked at his involuntary desecration of the Sabbath, that he immediately expressed his determination to renew his subscription without delay.

☞ It is now confidently asserted that there are not ten Republican members of the House who are prepared to advocate immediate, unconditional emancipation of the slaves.

CONGRESS.—In the U. S. Senate on Friday Jan. 31, a bill passed, authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to strike from the pension roll all names of persons who take up arms against us or aid the rebels.

Also a bill to authorize the detail of naval officers for service in the War Department, for the inspection of vessels before the troops are put on board.

The joint resolution appropriating $35,000 for the World's Fair in London, was rejected, 17 to 20.

The bill to prohibit the Coolie trade by American citizens was taken up and passed.

The case of Mr. Bright was taken up and hammered a little,—but no action taken.

Mr. Fessenden made a report from the Committee of Conference on the civil and diplomatic appropriation bill, which was concurred in. So the bill stands passed.

In the House, several resolutions of inquiry were passed.

Mr. Stevens, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported the Indian and Post Office appropriation bills. Referred.

The Treasury note bill was postponed till Monday. The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Naval appropriation bill.

☞ The Southern Confederacy have ordered that all free negroes who do not volunteer shall be impressed into the public service.

☞ The late storms so blocked up the Androscoggin, Me., Railroad, that trains had not run over it last week up to Thursday.

☞ The Paymaster General estimates the annual cost of the bands in the army at over five millions.

☞ It is stated that Government has ordered thirteen 15-inch columbiads for Portland harbor.

☞ Senator Andy Johnson has received intelligence that the rebels have confiscated all his property—some $30,000 in value.

POPULAR LECTURES.

The Second Lecture of a Course of five Popular Lectures will be given in the

TEMPLE,

On FRIDAY EVENING, February 7th,

—BY—

"ARTEMAS WARD,"

(Editor of Vanity Fair, the "Punch" of America.)

MR. WARD is the best delineator of the comic side of the American character that has ever appeared. His Lecture is represented by those who have heard it, as being the most unique and comic "thing" ever listened to.

People in adjoining towns would do well to secure tickets early, as no more will be sold than can be comfortably seated in the Hall.

It has been our endeavor to present a Course of which every lecturer should be a living man, that the people would wish to hear: also to present such a combination of instruction and discussion of the great topics of the day with wit and humor as would preclude the possibility of dry and uninteresting logic. We now have the pleasure of announcing the following distinguished gentlemen for the next two Lectures:

Rev. J. C. FLETCHER.
Prof. CLARENCE BUTLER.

The fifth is not yet engaged. The above are well known and need no recommendation, with the exception of Prof. Butler. He is one of the many Teachers expelled from the South last Spring, having been for years a Professor in a Southern College. He comes highly recommended for his eloquence and ability. He was tried by Lynch law and sentenced to death on refusing to enter the Southern army, but by the intercession of friends finally escaped with a coat of tar and feathers, and found his way North. This lecture will be a graphic description of the early scenes of the rebellion in an extreme Southern State, and his own experiences in connection.

Tickets for the Course 75 cents; for one admission 25 cents—to be had at SHORES' Bookstore, PRESTON'S and N. P. THACHER'S Apothecary Stores, and DAVID Daguerrean Gallery.

Special Notices.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, the it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the course a protracted one. Such actuates the Homeopathic mode of treatment must, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahneman, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, billiousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc. etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curatives for family use are getting to be about as common as babies in a house, and every family should have one,—a case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq., and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. Rand & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excess and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try these. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my28dawtm

☞ A young man named George Tobey, of Eliot, Me., had his leg broken in two places at the Navy Yard, on Saturday morning last, by the falling of a heavy stick of timber. He was taken to the Hospital, where the broken limb was set by Dr. Dale any, and from there was conveyed to his home.

☞ The fourth lecture before the lyceum course at South Hampton was delivered on Wednesday evening last, by Mr. Jas. K. Medbery, of Portsmouth. The speaker gave a clear and forcible argument in behalf of the "Recuperative energy of Republics," with appropriate references to the present crisis of our country. The fair and thoughtful treatment of the subject secured attention of the large audience who were in attendance.

☞ Artemas Ward, Temple, Friday evening.

THE LONDON TIMES, speaking of the Mason and Slidell dispute with the United States, says:—

At this moment there is no great sympathy here for either party. The attraction we feel towards a weaker nation invaded by a stronger and a richer nation, is repelled by the very general detestation of slavery.

Speaking of Mason and Slidell themselves, the Times says:—

For the benefit of the discriminating,—for the guidance of the minority that prefers at least a respectable idol, and that does not wish to throw away its confidence and applause, we may as well observe that Messrs Mason and Slidell are about the most worthless booty that it would be possible to extract from the jaws of the American lion.

The hatred of this country has been their stock in trade.

Had they perished in the cell or on the scaffold, amid the triumphant yells of the multitude, memory would have suggested that their own bitter tirades had raised the storm, and that their death was only the natural and logical conclusion of their own calumnies and sophistries.

They are here for their own interest, in order, if possible, to drag us into their own quarrel, and, but for the unpleasant contingencies of a prison, rather disappointed, perhaps, that their detention has not provoked a new war.

Impartial as the British public is in the matter, it certainly has no prejudice in favor of slavery, which, if anything, these gentlemen represent. What they and their Secretaries are to do here passes our conjecture. They are personally nothing to us. They must not suppose, because we have gone to the very verge of a great war to rescue them, that therefore they are precious in our eyes. We would have done just as much to rescue two of their own negroes, and, had that been the object of the rescue, the swarthy Pompey and Cæsar would have had the same right to triumphal arches and municipal addresses as Messrs Mason and Slidell.

Poverty or necessity is often the bridle or halter, by which the rich lead or drive the poor.

PREMIUMS AND REDUCTIONS.

L. SCOTT & CO., NEW YORK, continue to publish the following leading British Periodicals, viz:

1. THE LONDON QUARTERLY (CONSERVATIVE)
2. THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (WHIG).
3. THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church.
4. THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (LIBERAL).
5. BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (TORY).

The present critical state of European affairs will render these publications unusually interesting during the forthcoming year. They will occupy a middle ground between the hastily written news items, crude speculations, and flying rumors of the daily Journal, and the ponderous Tome of the future historian, written after the living interest and excitement of the great political events of the time shall have passed away. It is to these Periodicals that readers must look for the only really intelligible and reliable history of current events, and as such, in addition to their well-established literary, scientific, and theological character, we urge them upon the consideration of the reading public.

The receipt of ADVANCE SHEETS from the British publishers gives editional value to these Reprints, inasmuch as they can now be placed in the hands of subscribers about as soon as the original editions.

SAGE CHEESE.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be guaged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'

PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors o apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in bar or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

THE BOSTON COURIER.

☞ The Publishers of the BOSTON COURIER invite the attention of business men, thinking men, and of all who are interested in the various occupations and pursuits of life, to the several editions of their Journal.

For the Union, the Constitution, and the Enforcement of the Laws.

Is issued every Morning (Sundays excepted) and contains the latest intelligence, by telegraph and otherwise, from all parts of the world, with carefully prepared articles on Government, Politics, Trade, Finance and Agriculture. It contains the whole of the Ship News prepared for the DAILY COURIER, and nearly all the general reading matter. Hereafter the SEMI WEEKLY COURIER will be sent to subscribers at the reduced price of THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR, payable in advance.

THE BOSTON WEEKLY COURIER.
Cheapest Paper in New England.

The WEEKLY COURIER is a complete compendium of the News of the Week, and contains the chief editorials, the prices current and market reports, stock quotations, correspondence, and general news matter published in the DAILY COURIER. It also contains an editorial summary of the news of the week, and a great variety of other matter, rendering it in all respects a first-class family journal, and particularly adapted to the wants of farmers and mechanics. It has an Agricultural Department, under the supervision of a gentleman of long experience as an agricultural and horticultural writer.

Twenty copies to one address one year for twenty dollars, and one copy gratis to the person getting up the club. All subscriptions to the Weekly Courier are discontinued at the expiration of the time paid for.

TO ADVERTISERS.

The circulation of the BOSTON COURIER, which is large, and steadily and rapidly growing, makes it at least as valuable a medium for advertising as any other commercial and business newspaper in New England.

The publishers of the COURIER could easily fill their sheet with the unsought and most liberal commendations of the Press, throughout the country. But they prefer that it should now and altogether stand on its merits to public confidence, as a well-known and established. They believe it has acquired this reputation by the candor, fearlessness, and independence with which it has been conducted, through times of extraordinary confusion of ideas on public subjects, and latterly of almost unexampled public peril. It now, and will be, as heretofore, the supporter of truly national and conservative principles, opposed alike to radicalism and fanaticism in whatever form, and devoted to the maintenance of good government, law, order, morals and religion.

The COURIER earnestly and faithfully upholds the principles of the Constitution, as established by WASHINGTON and the fathers of the Republic. Those are now either openly or insidiously assailed by undisguised foes, and by false pretenders to be supporters of the Union. The Government of this country with the aid of the people, must take care of the first—the others must be taken care of by the people of the free States, through the inculcation and diffusion of sound opinions upon questions vital to the very existence of the Republic. This is due to ourselves and our children; and especially the latter should be educated, as we and our fathers were, in true Constitutional Union principles. To this great object the COURIER is especially devoted. It has advocated these principles steadily, under every fortune, and often through obstacles and obloquy almost unknown to editors of a newspaper rarely as to endure. Its friends are the friends of the Union, now, as ever before—its foes are the open or secret advocates of emancipation, with or without the Union—which is to be neither more nor less than opposed to the Constitution and Government of the country.

The publishers of the COURIER conceive, that it thus may render peculiar services and has peculiar claims at all men of honest principles are valued, and who look, by the proper means, to promote and secure the Constitutional restoration of the Union. These can best show their sense of our untiring efforts for this great and unparalleled cause, by sustaining this paper in all its business relations.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1862.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

TREASON UNMASKE.—We reply very briefly to Mr. T. G. Tomlinson's speech as published in Chronicle and Gazette of Jan. 30th inst. He clothes his ideas in a polished style. He gives the public a poisonous pill coated with sugar. His text is—"COMPROMISE." No good work or result since the creation, except by compromise! The seas and the dry land would not have been separated, even by the Omnipotent Power without a compromise. And there was a compromise between christianity and sin!! We pass similar absurdities, and come to the gist of his argument, which, if it has any meaning, is that this war cannot come to an end except by a compromise between the South and the North. We carefully examine his two columns to see, but in vain, what kind of a compromise is proposed. Had he plainly stated the terms, he well knew that all Northern parties would have spurned it. And he well knows that the Southern tyrannical rulers, who have forced this war upon us, and now compel the masses to fight under their banner, would reject any compromise, except it should recognize their national independence and guarantee the privilege of extending their idolized institution over our free territories—for they freely admit that without extension it could not be perpetuated. The patriots of the revolution, he says, began Government with a constitution, compromising, in advance, all questions out of which war could grow. Then out of what did the Seminole, Florida, Texan, and Mexican wars grow, which cost the nation more than seven hundred millions, besides the sacrifice of life? Were they not waged unjustly to extend and perpetuate slavery? Out of what did this cruel and unjust civil war grow? Every intelligent person knows that it grew out of slavery, and was levied against Northern freemen by a proud and profligate oligarchy, in order to subvert the best government on earth—even our national existence, and establish upon its ruins an oligarchy based upon slavery.

Our Northern Democracy (none now exists at the South) by their delegates at the Charleston and Baltimore conventions, having patriotically refused to insert in the platform, the extension of slavery—and revolted from the nomination of the traitorous Breckenridge, thus inflaming the passions of the oligarchs, they, betrayed by their Northern allies, at once concluded to engage in hostilities under their previous plot to dissolve the Union. But they still had a lingering hope that our Democracy, in order that their leaders should share the loaves and fishes of office under Southern rulers, would rally under the rebel flag.—Fatal mistake! All former parties in our free States are now united in upholding the stars and stripes, the proud emblem of the liberties of our country, which were the fruits of seven years' sanguinary conflict with Great Britain. It is too true we have some traitorous sympathizers with the rebels among us, who would compromise freedom by a treaty upholding slavery: and if Mr. T. is one, a careful analysis of his speech will not deceive the public. He utters some truths, but artfully interwoven with flagrant falsehoods. He denies that slavery is the cause of our troubles—says that "the exclusive cause of the civil war was the success of the republican party," and in his next sentence avers that "the exclusive cause of the civil war was the secessionism of the South," thus leaving us to infer that the North was in the fault. What inconsistency! He admits that the election of the President "was no justification of war"—"that the soldiers of the nation were bound in honor to defend the flag of the nation at all hazards—and that the laws that the South had made (during more than a quarter of a century for the benefit of slavery) were unrepealed, and not one single act had been done to justify war."—How, then, can the North be amenable to censure, unless it be for long enduring the wanton aggressions upon Northern rights, mob violence, and even numerous murders of Northern men sojourning at the South, accused of the crime of being Yankees, and sometimes uttering their thoughts.

He affirms that "while the republican party is responsible for the war, secessionists are equally the cause of it," although he states no act, and cannot, which implicates the former, who scarcely dreamed of war until the palmetto and rattlesnake flag floated over Fort Sumter.

Northern abolitionists receive a full share of his abuse. Is he aware that it is levelled at the great body of our enlightened and virtuous people, whose eyes by this war are opened? All are abolitionists who are at heart opposed to slavery and therefore must be in favor of its abolition; an event which will probably be an incident of the war-power, unless twenty millions of freemen shall be conquered. Would it not afford general joy should Northern traitors migrate, like the tories of the Revolution, and in preference to publishing treasonable doctrines here, enrol themselves among the rebels?

Now we come to the pith and true intent of the learned orator's speech. He says that the war "can be stopped by the success of the Democratic party"—meaning that its ambitious leaders should be reinstated in the public offices. Would not crushing out the rebellion be as beneficial to the Democratic as to the great Republican party? Suppose that the Democratic party should succeed in giving the reins of Government to its leaders—what could they do more than what is now doing? If anything, let it be stated, and if wise policy, gladly would it be adopted. But is it not a plain inference from Mr. T.'s argument, that rulers embracing his doctrines would compromise with traitors with arms in their hands,—would surrender our free territories, out of which many States will be formed, to be cursed with slavery, forever, and consent again to be under the domination of slaveholders for the sake of sharing the spoils of office?

Such, we trust, is not the voice of enlightened freemen, irrespective of former parties,—for if such compromise doctrines, after many compromises broken, should predominate in the republic, its glory would soon fade away, and the grand pillars which support our temple of freedom, soon crumble to dust. VOICE OF THE NORTH.

THE REBELLION.

The Government have decided to withdraw the charge of piracy preferred against the rebel privateers-men now in custody, and to place them upon the footing of prisoners of war. An order has been issued removing them to military prisons, with a view to their exchange. This may result in the return of Corcoran, Lee, Woodruff, and the other officers now held as hostages for these privateers-men.

The President states that he appointed James H. Lane Brigadier General with the express understanding that he was to serve under Gen. Hunter.

Information has been received that nearly all the transports of the Burnside expedition are of heavier draft than their owners represented, and hence the difficulty at Hatteras Bar. One of the regiments which went out to Hatteras has returned to Fortress Monroe, the steamer on which they embarked not being able to cross the bar at the Inlet.

The Savannah Republican publishes a letter from Bainbridge, dated Jan. 27, which reports a fight at James Island, near Apalachicola, Fla., in which 60 Union troops were killed and 35 taken prisoners, and claiming a great victory for the rebels. No particulars, however, are given.

Gen. Halleck has found it necessary to adopt stringent and summary measures to preserve the discipline of troops in his department. Several companies of Missouri volunteers having exhibited a mutinous spirit, the non-commissioned officers and privates have been disarmed and sent to labor on the fortifications at Cairo. The commissioned officers, who showed a lack of energy in preserving order, are discharged from the service.

Another expedition—perhaps larger than the recent reconnoissance—is in the course of preparation from Cairo, but the real strength and destination are kept secret.

A deserter from the 1st N. C. cavalry confirms the statements of previous deserters. The term of enlistment of over 80,000 rebels at Manassas expires at the end of January. Of this number not one tenth will re-enlist, and if an attempt at coercion is made, he prophesies a desperate and bloody resistance.

A Washington dispatch says there is reason to believe that Gen. Butler was assured before he left Washington that he should have a Major General's command, as well as title. He will land several brigades at a point on the Southern coast not now occupied by Union troops. The capture will be more important than any yet made.—Secretary Stanton insisted that Gen. Butler should have what he wanted, although Gen. McClellan disapproved it.

Fort Pulaski is now thoroughly invested. Gen. Sherman has daily reports of all that is done there, and will take the place when he chooses to attack it.

The Times' dispatch says a movement is being made by the members of Congress from the West and Northwest, headed by Frank Blair and Mr. Arnold, to have Gen. Sigel made a Major General. It will probably be successful.

Capt. Fogg, of Zollicoffer's staff, has died of wounds received at the Somerset, Ky., battle.

Gen. Sigel left Rolla for Lebanon, Mo., on Sunday, whither the balance of his division will follow. Gen. Prentiss is advancing on Lebanon to unite with Gen. Davis' forces. Price, though so formidably menaced, shows no signs of falling back.—Should he maintain his position, within two weeks Springfield will be the theatre of another bloody contest.

——The following new commissions were issued on the 17th ult., for the 4th Regiment N. H. V. at Port Royal:—

——A correspondent informs the Boston Journal that a young man named Verry enlisted into the company of H. T. H. Pierce, Fifth New Hampshire regiment, asserting that he was 21 years of age, and he was so mustered, thereby committing a fraud upon the officer, obtaining bounty on false pretences, and imposing upon the government. After two months, having been once paid, he became sick of the service, and wanted a discharge. Hon. Thomas M. Edwards succeeded in procuring the documents and forwarded them to Col. Cross, who responded in the following pointed letter.

HEADQUARTERS FIFTH N. H. V.
Camp California, Jan 13, 1862.

Hon. Thomas M. Edwards, Washington:

Dear Sir:—Private Oratus J. Verry, Co. F, will be discharged according to orders; but allow me to say that his discharge is an outrage against military custom, against law, and cannot fail to have a bad example.—The young man is strong, and able-bodied and, if he is discharged, with equal reason might one-half our army be discharged.

I shall see that Oratus Verry is prosecuted for obtaining money and clothes from the U. S. under false pretenses. It seems to me, Sir, with all due respect, that at this crisis of our national affairs Members of Congress would do better service by attending to the public business, retrenching expenses, punishing corrupt officers, and providing means to pay those who are enduring hardships of the field, than to spend time and energy in getting men discharged from service. Such, sir, is the opinion of ——Mrs. Cleasby, of East Concord, while passing a few days last week, at London Village, with her son, was suffering from some slight illness, and mistaking the directions of the housekeeper, swallowed a dose of corrosive sublimate in solution, which had been prepared for the extermination of vermin. Although remedies were applied, she died on Wednesday.

Your ob't serv't, EDWARD E. CROSS.

——Abner P. Wadsworth, of Hartford, Conn., died suddenly in Exeter, Wednesday night. He had been as well as usual during the preceding day, but complained of a slight head-ache in the evening. In the morning he was found dead in his room. He was 63 years of age.

——A few evenings ago while a company of friends were assembled in a pleasant and hospitable mansion at Boscawen Plain, a rap was heard at the door, and on answering it, a nicely tied up band box was discovered on the door-step. Upon taking it into the house, a little bundle of humanity, snuggly wrapped up in flannel, manifested itself by a feeble cry. It was a girl baby, only two or three days old. Looking farther a card was found, on which was written: "For Heaven's sake take care of this child, and God will bless you for ever." The kind mother and daughter of the house took the little one in charge until another place for it was found.

☞ The English papers say that the news of the pacific settlement of the Trent affair was announced at an imperial ball at the Tuileries, given out from the stages of the English theatres, received everywhere with the greatest enthusiasm and, welcomed with joyful peals of bells in all the English manufacuring towns. This only proves that in spite of the British press, in spite of the machinations of Southern agents, the English people are at heart right towards this country and averse to anything like war.

The pulse of the loyal Briton beat quick when his national pride was touched by a supposed insult to his flag,—but the stone blockade does not move him much. That affects those only, who look for the pretext for a quarrel.

☞ We learn by dispatches from Washington, that "notwithstanding the alarms and croakings of our foreign journal and letter-writers about the stone blockade and other sinister reports, the dispatches received at the State Department are regarded as conclusive of a complete restoration of the entente cordaile between the United States and Great Britain, and of the best possible understanding with the Governments of France, Italy, and other Continental States. Saturday, Secretary Seward and Lord Lyons exchanged congratulations on the adjustment of the Trent affair, in a spirit similar to that which, in the same case, animated Earl Russell and Minister Adams."

A Paris letter to the Montreal Herald states that Prince Albert died in the Swedenborgian faith. Neither he nor the Duchess of Kent underwent the ministration of any clergyman, administration of the sacraments, &c. It is said that the Queen also, has adopted these peculiar views, which causes her to bear so calmly the death of her husband.

☞ Are you going to hear the A. Ward?

☞ In Congress, on Friday, Mr. Dunlap of Kentucky said he was opposed to making the war one of emancipation. During his remarks he stated that five Illinois regiments, when told that this was the object of the war, stacked their arms, saying that they were called out only to suppress rebellion. His declaration created quite a sensation, but it was confirmed by other members, on the authority of Col. Logan of Illinois.

☞ During the violent gale and rain of Saturday night last, the water communicated with lime stored in the lime shed of John Bird & Co., in Rockland, Me., The shed and casks were completely consumed, and nothing was left but the kilns and a heap of lime. There were about 2900 casks of lime in the shed, and it is supposed half of this lime may be saved. The loss is estimated at from $2,500 to $3,000.

☞ The Montreal Pilot construes Mr. Seward's offer for British troops to cross our soil, into an intended insult to England. A Philadelphia paper suggests that it will be dangerous for Jonathan to inquire after John Bull's health in the morning, lest it should be construed into an insinuation that he was drunk over night.

☞ Burleigh writes to the Boston Journal that quite a sensation had been created in some circles there by the rumor that Prince Albert was poisoned. The story is that he was in the way of a war with the United States; that his physician died ten days before he did; that the Queen is to resign; the Prince of Wales is to rule; he to be controlled, and then America must look out.

POPULAR LECTURES.

The Second Lecture of a Course of five Popular Lectures will be given in the

TEMPLE,

On FRIDAY EVENING, February 7th,

—BY—

"ARTEMAS WARD,"

(Editor of Vanity Fair, the "Punch" of America.)

MR. WARD is the best delineator of the comic side of the American character that has ever appeared. His Lecture is represented by those who have heard it, as being the most unique and comic "thing" ever listened to.

People in adjoining towns would do well to secure tickets early, as no more will be sold than can be comfortably seated in the Hall.

It has been our endeavor to present a Course of which every lecturer should be a living man, that the people would wish to hear: also to present such a combination of instruction and discussion of the great topics of the day with wit and humor as would preclude the possibility of dry and uninteresting logic. We now have the pleasure of announcing the following distinguished gentlemen for the next two Lectures:

Rev. J. C. FLETCHER
Prof. CLARENCE BUTLER.

The fifth is not yet engaged. The above are well known and need no recommendation, with the exception of Prof. Butler. He is one of the many Teachers expelled from the South last Spring, having been for years a Professor in a Southern College. He comes highly recommended for his eloquence and ability. He was tried by Lynch law and sentenced to death on refusing to enter the Southern army, but by the intercession of friends finally escaped with a coat of tar and feathers, and found his way North. This lecture will be a graphic description of the early scenes of the rebellion in an extreme Southern State, and his own experiences in connection.

Tickets for the Course 75 cents; for one admission 25 cents—to be had at SHORES' Bookstore, PERSON'S and N. P. THACHER'S Apothecary Stores, and DAVIS' Daguerrean Gallery.

Special Notices.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, tho it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahneman, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc., etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curatives for family use are getting to be about as common as bibles in a house, and every family should have one.—a case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq., and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. Hunn & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. PHILLIPS, wholesale, Portland, Me.; or sent anywhere by Local.

☞ Messrs. Wentworth and Prescott, who acted as Committee for the Navy Yard workmen, returned from Washington, Friday last, after an absence of two weeks.—They bring no definite report from headquarters in relation to matters which have of late interested the workmen on the Portsmouth Navy Yard in no small degree, viz:—the increaser number of hours per day, and the reduction of the wages.—Messrs. Wentworth and Prescott represent the Portsmouth Yard as being held in considerable esteem among the leading men at Washington, they having been assured by gentlemen holding office of distinction, that this Yard never failed to meet its requirements, either in the time allowed in which to complete the work, or the manner in which the work was performed. In fact, it was conceded that business had been, and could be done with "neatness and dispatch." Strong efforts are being made to make this Yard "first class."

☞ We regret to learn that Mr. Charles W. Gardner fell on the ice at the Navy Yard here, while running, a few days since, and fractured one bone of his left knee—and not being aware of the effect of the bruise, let it go without surgical attendance for several days—so long that it is now thought probable the joint will permanently be somewhat stiffened.

☞ After a long spell of non-intercourse with our old correspondents "Ion" in New Orleans, and "N. K. R." in Texas—we were very glad to get a word from the latter at New Orleans on Friday last, dated Jan. 6th, reporting both well, but giving no other particulars—which brief news from them we make public, for the satisfaction of their many friends and acquaintances in this city and State.

POLICE COURT, Monday.—Patrick Meade and James Welsh, for being drunk in the streets, Saturday night, were each fined $3 and $3.86 costs. Welsh paid up, but for lack of the ready, Meade went up to the City Farm.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT, Exeter.—Case Nathaniel Wiggin vs. Andrew W. Smith and James W. Bennett, was commenced on Thursday. Assumpsit on a promissory note, payable to Maria R. Scammon or order, and endorsed to plf., on which were several endorsements. At the Jan. term, 1861, the defendants confessed $110 due on the note,—and contended that a payment of $200 had been made on the note, but not endorsed thereon. The jury at that term returned a verdict for plf. for $1.07 over and above the amount confessed. The plf. reviewed the action, and at this term the jury found due on the note, $116.17.

Angeline D. Foss vs. John K. Young.—Plf. claimed to recover for six sheep at $3 per head, and interest; verdict for $23, the amount claimed.

Susan F. Stevens vs. N. K. Leavitt.—Replevin for oxen, cow and horse attached by deft. as the property of one Edwin A. Stevens, and claimed by plf., who is the wife of said Stevens. The jury found the oxen and cow to be the property of the pf.

On Saturday the Court adjourned sine die.

☞ The Thermometer managed to work down to two below zero on Monday morning—the first time it has been "below" in this city, during the winter.

☞ Artemas Ward, Temple, Friday evening.

☞ Service in Grace Church, Boston, was interrupted on Sunday morning by the sudden fainting of the Rev. Dr. Burroughs, of this city, who was officiating in the absence of the rector. Rev. Mr. Spear, the assistant minister, had begun the service, and Dr. Burroughs had read the "Declaration of Absolution." Immediately after, the Reverend gentleman was seen to sink down from his kneeling posture at the Communion table. Some of the congregation hastened to his assistance, and after a few minutes, during which he lay upon cushions on the Chancel floor, he was taken into the vestry room. His many friends in this city will be pleased to learn that in a short time he recovered sufficiently to enter a carriage, which conveyed him to his residence, and that he is now, as we understand, doing well.

☞ Orders have been received in Boston to make preparations for returning to Fortress Monroe all the military prisoners at Fort Warren, consisting of 386 rank and file and fifteen officers. After their departure Fort Warren will only contain the political prisoners and the Battalion of Infantry, Maj. Parker. Commodore Barron is not included in the release.

On Tuesday, firing was heard in the rear of Beaufort, N. C. On the same morning, heavy firing in the direction of Roanoke Island was heard, leaving no doubt on the mind of the captain of the U. S. vessel bringing the news, that flag officer Goldsborough was at work.

LITTLE CHILDREN.

The scattered crumbs upon the floor;
The rattling playthings by the door;
The finger marks on paint and pane
All are signals showing plain
There are little children here.

The tongs outstretched upon the floor;
A broken ark, and shipwrecked Noah;
A horse with tail, nor ears, nor mane—
All are signals showing plain
There are little children here.

The high chairs ranged against the wall;
The small coats hanging in the hall;
The little shoes, and little cane
Add to the signals snowing plain
There are little children here.

But now I must resign my pen;
The children have come back again;
They but run out in mud and rain,
To bring new signals showing plain,
There are little children here.

When a person is very ill, he says "God has afflicted me;" but if he feels very happy, and very well, how rarely does he say "God has made me happy." How prone are we to think God is at burials, but not at bridals; how prone to think God is in all that is dark, sepulchral and gloomy, but not in the midst of all that is bright, giving it great brightness, and in all that is joyful, adding to its intensity and its purity.

☞ A singular accident occurred to the Grand Trunk freight train, on Wednesday night. While descending a steep grade the engineer noticed by the movement of his engine that something was wrong and immediately signalled the train to break up, when it was found that one of the shackles had been broken. It was repaired, and the train proceeded, but on arriving in, the conductor counted his cars, and found to his astonishment that he was minus a car of grain. The missing car, which occupied a position third to the engine, had broken its shackles, rolled off the track and down a steep embankment, where it was found the next day.

SINGULAR BUT TRUE.—A witness in the Cincinnati Police Court refused recently to take an oath on the Bible, simply because he never read it and knew not its contents. This is indeed a singular case, but the cause assigned is one worthy of consideration.—The gentleman is possessed of considerable intelligence, knew full well the qualifications of an oath, and was satisfied that, when he held his hand up before God, and affirmed, he did that which was sacred and binding.

SAGE CHEESE.

Save Your Gas!!
A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.
It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.
The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.
Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.
Wood's Patent Carcel Burners
are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.
Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.
PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are
Orne's Patent
FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,
A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.
These burners are furnished with
SCHWARZ'
PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS
Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.
Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,
A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.
PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

Boys' and Girls' Sleds,

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

2d.—Is simple, strong, and durable, and will not get out of repair

3d.—Any servant will use it with safety to the machine, and with great saving of wear to the Clothes.

4th.—It is readily and firmly secured, to tubs of any thickness, and can be easily detached and set aside.

Advertising.
For a Square (14 inches) or less, one insertion 50 cents, three insertions $1, one week $1.50, one month $3, three months $5, six months $8, one year $15. These are Daily rates—and no advertisements receive more than one insertion in the Weekly (Gazette) without special order and charge.
Funeral Notices, and Advertisements of articles Lost and Found, &c., 50 cents.
Advertisements may appear both in the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, if ordered; and will thus receive the most thorough circulation both in this city and vicinity, and throughout the State. ☞ Liberal terms for yearly advertising.

COTTON AT PORT ROYAL.—A Port Royal letter of the 10th, says:—

"The Atlantic carries with her about fifty bales of ginned cotton and 300,000 pounds of unginned—making the aggregate value of the staple which has thus far been sent North at least $250,000. The quantity remaining here is worth not less than $1,000,000, and hereafter you may expect to receive the rest of the crop more expeditiously than has hitherto been the case.—Three weeks since the horses, mules and carts were carried away from the plantations and made use of in the Quartermaster's department. To replace these required much delay, and the negroes had to be found and organized into gangs for working. There are as many as 500 of them—women as well as men—now employed in picking cotton, bagging it, and carrying it from the plantations to the boats which bring it to Hilton Head. Col. Reynolds pays an average of 50 cents each per day or its equivalent in clothing or provisions. Few take the cash preferring the clothing and provisions, of which they are in need. Gradually matters are becoming systematized, and the work of preparing the cotton for market will be advantageously carried on."

☞ A cattle-doctor named Wilton, tells the following story. Not many months ago, a very learned Veterinary Surgeon was called from Boston to Stoughton to see three sick cows. He pronounced them bad cases of Pleuro Pneumonia. One died before he arrived, and two died in the course of the day. In the evening he delivered a lecture on this highly contagious disease.—The farmers were panic struck, and expected to lose all their stock.

The physician of the place did not believe the lecturer. The next day he made an examinat on of the cows, and found large quantities of white lead in their stomachs. The owner found he had lost part of a keg of white paint; the remainder was put out of the reach of the cattle and that stopped the disease from spreading.

☞ Hon. John Strother, one of the most eminent Unionists in Western Virginia, died at Bath, Va., some days since.—His property was recently destroyed and carried off by the rebels. He had previously suffered imprisonment at Richmond. He leaves a son, well known to the country as Porte Crayon, and his death is considered a serious loss to the Union cause in that section.

☞ It is said that a very deep and bitter feeling of resentment pervades the whole army of the Potomac against the defamers and persecutors of Gen. McClellan. Officers and privates alike respect and love him, and meddling Congressmen are severely denounced, for endeavouring to hamper his operations and mislead the public concerning his plans, views, &c., of which they know nothing.

☞ Thirty years ago Simon Cameron landed in Harrisburg from a Susquehannah raft, a barefooted boy, with only three cents in his pocket, but with a good reputation.—A few days ago he left the War Department worth probably more than half a score of millions, and with a reputation changed as marvelously as his fortune.

FLAX CULTURE DISCOURAGED.—In his late address before the Agricultural Society of Middlesex, Mass., Dr. George B. Loring of Salem, remarked as follows in reference to the flax culture:—

"I doubt whether we could compete with cotton-growers; and although we are quite indignant with cotton just now, still I believe some measures more strenuous and efficient than raising flax in Massachusetts, will be required to remove the difficulties which attend it; and I believe, moreover, that it is cheaper, and more manly, and more patriotic to fight for our cotton until we get it, than it is to undertake to supersede its use by the cultivation of a plant which has been rejected by every high system of agriculture, and is confined chiefly to regions where the soil is poor and the people are poorer."

Dr. Loring is probably right about fighting like a patriot, for cotton,—but he is all wrong about raising flax on poor soil, as we know full well by recollecting that when in our boyhood we used to pull flax, which was then raised by nearly all good farmers in this region, they always used to pick out a rich spot for the purpose, generally a little valley or flat between some hills. It is raised in Ireland, on their best land. Deane's New England Farmer says of its culture:—

"Flax requires more care and nicer culture than any plant we concern with. It should never be sown on a soil that is not rich, and well wrought. Sandy and gravelly soils are by no means suitable for flax. It is not a plant that requires much heat; therefore it answers well in cold latitudes. The cooler kinds of soil, such as clay and loam, and the black earth of drained lands are suitable for it. The land must be in good heart, either naturally or by the help of manures."

The New American Cyclopedia says:

"The rich soil of the valley of the Nile is well adapted for its cultivation, and the product of Egypt is increasing under the encouragement given by the English, who find it more economical to procure their supplies from foreign countries than from their own."

☞ Dates from San Francisco by telegraph, are to the 1st inst. Ship Flying Dragon, of Boston, which arrived there on the 29th ult. from Sydney, with a cargo of 1000 tons of coal, was run on the rocks in the harbor, and became a total loss. The wreck was sold on the 31st for $800. The weather was pleasant, and the inundation subsiding. Three-fourths of the city of Sacramento are above water. The steamship Golden Gate sailed on the 1st inst. for Panama, carrying 160 passengers and $750,000 in treasure for New York, and $30,000 for England. R. D. W. Davis, auctioneer, is reported failed for $50,000.—No assets.

☞ The Emperor of France has made a coup d' etat against the freemasons by appointing Marshal Magnan, a soldier, and a mason of only one week's standing, (during which time he was hurried through all the degrees,) their grand master for the term of three years. Always before, this officer has been elected, and the thrusting upon them a man not of their choice is a vexatious tyranny against which they protest stoutly.

BRITISH STONE BLOCKADE.—On the evacuation of the city and port of Alexandria, and embarkation of the troops, in 1807, five vessels laden with stones were sunk in the narrow passage by which the British squadron, under the command of Admiral Lewis had entered, and then sailed, concluding that it would be the last exit of any vessel from the port—erroneously, however, as it has subsequently appeared.

In 1804, the same power, England, did the same thing at Boulogne, viz., choked up the entrance of the harbor, in part.

☞ Messrs. Pike of Maine, Marston of New Hampshire, Baxter, Morrill and Watson of Vermont, were the only New England members, who voted against laying Colfax's bill on the table, which compelled newspapers to be sent through the mails.

☞ One day last week two young men skated on the river from Newburyport to Lawrence. They started at 7 A. M., stopped three hours in Lawrence, and reached home at 6 P. M. The distance by the by the river cannot be much short of sixty miles.

SIXTH REGIMENT, N. H. V.

CAMP WINFIELD, Hatteras Inlet, N. C., Jan. 20, 1862.

Messrs. Editors:—There are many persons in Portsmouth, I suppose, and in other places in New Hampshire, who would be pleased to hear from the 6th New Hampshire Regiment. They are, at present, located on Hatteras Island, which was taken by Gen. Butler last August,—and a rough place it is, too, for a regiment to be stationed at. We hear no news and "know nothing," so all we do is to write.

Quite a number of vessels have been wrecked since we came here, and we are using them up for fuel. The island is of nothing but sand and ignorant people, and the latter use most of their words right smart. But they are good-hearted and kind to the soldiers, supplying them with hot hoe cakes, and the boys say they are "high percoon." There are about seventy-five citizens on the island, and they think this place has no equal on the American continent.

There are on the island, besides the N. H. Sixth, the Pennsylvania 4th and the New York 9th, but these are to leave on Gen. Burnside's expedition. The health of our regiment is very good: we have lost but three men since we started, these having died on board the steamer Louisiana which brought us here. They were buried on the island.

The expedition still remains off the bar, and 'tis hard to tell when they will leave for their destination, though they will go soon, I presume. There are a large number of ships, although none have been lost in the storms. Our regiment lost eight horses by the wreck of the vessel on which they were. Eighty others were lost also.

It was rather hard getting here, for the transports were loaded pretty heavily; we were compelled to lie off the bar some five days, and the men were getting tired of their journey,—and were not much to blame.

There are three forts on the island, and it will be hard for the rebels to take them, I reckon, after they are completed.

They have some fine (?) specimens of horse-flesh here, and they can pull a very extraordinary load. Three tons (more or less—particularly less) are their average load. But they have some larger stock—musquitoes that can carry a mule some distance without laying him down. In short, 'tis the most "percoon" place, one ever settled in. There are many things you don't find in the Northern country. They make butter here right smart, and have a fine sandy road to travel on. It's knee deep.—The boys enjoy it and appreciate it, highly. "Will you ever get home?" is the cry.

But, although it is such an extraordinary place, your readers shall be posted in all things that transpire on our island, by one of the sports of Hatteras Inlet. A. J. S.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, on Monday, the joint resolution appropriating $3000 for the purchase of tobacco seed, was passed. A resolution that the Committee on Patents inquire into the expediency of an appropriation to aid in the experiment of the manufacture of flax as a substitute for cotton, was adopted. The resolution directing the removal of the armory bakeries from the Capitol was passed.

In the House, it was resolved that the Post Office Committee be requested to inquire into the expediency of establishing by law a system for the free delivery, by postmen, of all mail matter in cities of 10,000 inhabitants, in conformity with the European system. The bill making appropriations for the defence of Washington coming up, the Senate amendment providing for the disbandment of "home guards" was rejected. It was urged that this description of local force was required in the border States, to keep in order the disloyal portion of the population, in the absence of other troops. The House went into Committee on the Treasury note bill.

☞ For the following bit of human nature, we are indebted to the Rochester (N. Y.) Express:

"A gentleman, (whose name we suppress for 'obvious reasons,') while returning home with the family purchases one Saturday evening, stepped into an oyster saloon. A friend, who had followed him in abstracted from his groceries a package containing a pound of coffee, and having emptied it refilled the paper with sawdust, and restored it to its original place. The mistake was discovered the following morning, when the wife of the 'injured man' prepared his breakfast. Laboring under the misapprehension that the grocer had swindled him, the husband returned the sawdust in the morning, and indignantly demanded, and finally obtained an equivalent in Old Java. The unhappy grocer, who is notoriously subject to fits of absent mindedness, most solemnly declared that it was unintentional, and really, it was a little the worse mistake he ever committed! What renders the transaction still more perplexing is that 'for the life of him he can't remember where he got the sawdust!'"

When all the tax-bills shall have been passed, it is expected that the federal government will pass out of the hands of the Republicans into those of Publicans.—Trav.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— At Manchester, on Monday morning, the thermometer indicated two degrees below zero.

—— A new Post Office has been established at West Epping, Rockingham Co., for which Wm. M. Dorr has been appointed Postmaster.

—— The amount of snow that had accumulated on the foundry building connected with the Fulton Works in Bakersville, proved too heavy for the strength of the roof, and one day last week it fell in with a loud crash. The damage is considerable, though the building has been in disuse a number of years.

—— A letter from Pawtucket, R. I., the rendezvous of the New England Cavalry, says it is almost certain that the regiment will be changed to infantry or mustered out of service. Though this alternative will be unexpected to our New Hampshire boys, we think they will be willing to lay aside their sabres for the bayonet—the most effective weapon in firm, strong hands for dispersing rebels.

—— The call for the Third Party Mass Meeting is published, with about 500 signatures. Most of the names are from the Democracy, though a few Republicans are embraced in it. The meeting will be held in Concord, Thursday, Feb. 6, and Hon. Ira Perley, Hon. Wm. C. Clarke, Hon. Geo. Sawyer, Hon. Charles R. Morrison, Edward D. Rand, Esq., Henry P. Rolfe, Esq., and others are expected to address the Convention.

—— A letter signed J. D. Wyman, mailing Manchester, was discovered at the time when the Southern mails were suspended, offering to the consideration of the editor of the Richmond Inquirer, a cannon of peculiar construction, to be brought to the notice of the southern executive. It was given by Senator Hale to Senator Clark, and by him to Judge Upton, Manchester. All means have failed to arrest or discover the author.

—— There are only three revolutionary pensioners now in this State. One died recently aged 101.

—— A young man named Amos Dean, a member of Co. D, 8th N. H. Regiment, died about 6 o'clock Monday morning, of measles, at Fort Independence. Deceased was first taken with the disease some days since, and got up and about, but taking cold, a relapse followed which resulted fatally. He belonged in Ossipee.

THE REBELLION.

The steamship Bavaria at New York from Southampton brought 2000 cases of arms, containing 4000 sabres and over 45,000 stand of fire arms, equipments, &c.

The Senate in executive session on Monday confirmed from 400 to 600 appointments and promotions in the old army and between sixty and seventy gentlemen as Brigadier Generals of Volunteers. Among the latter were: Francis E. Patterson, Maj. Abner Doubleday, N. J. T. Dana, Thomas F. Meagher, and Capt. John G. Foster.

A special dispatch says twelve steamers laden with troops in charge of Com. Graham, left Cairo Monday morning, to join a still larger force at another point. The expedition has every indication of genuine active movement.

A Leavenworth, Ks., dispatch says Commissioner Wm. P. Dole had an interview, on Saturday, with the various Indian Chiefs, including the loyal Creeks and Seminoles. He promised to aid the loyal Indians against the rebels, and the Chiefs agreed to take the field with their warriors.

Reliable information from Lebanon, Mo., says that Gen. Curtis is now in that place.—The number of troops there is constantly increasing. He intends to remain there until all his force arrive, which will be several days yet, as some of them have not started. A considerable number of them were under orders to march Sunday morning, and probably within two or three days all those going will have departed. There is a rumor, but it is not generally believed, that Gen. Price has recently been reinforced by 12,000 rebel troops from Arkansas, and is preparing to give our army a hard fight.

The Tribune's dispatch says an order has been issued to the commanders of divisions in Virginia, directing that all supplies of baggage not actually needed for the troops on the march, be sent to Washington and warehoused. Another order has been issued to surgeons in charge of the hospitals in that city, to send the convalescent patients to Annapolis and elsewhere, and otherwise to have ready as many spare beds as possible.

It is believed that large bodies of rebels have been transferred by railroad from Manassas, relying upon the utter inability of the Federal army to move against them on account of the impassable condition of the roads.

The World's dispatch says: A rumor reaches me, in which the names of parties are distinctly stated, that orders have gone forward to New York, to compel the parties who sold or chartered improper vessels for Gen. Burnside's expedition, to return the sums received or go to prison.

☞ The Boston Christian Messenger says that the First Congregational (Unitarian) Church in Sandwich, Mass., has a fund of several thousand dollars, left by a colored man named Titus. He was once a slave of Rev. Mr. Williams, a pastor of the church, of which Titus was a member. When Williams died he gave Titus his freedom. He engaged himself as steward on board a vessel, and his savings for many years were given to purchase an excellent clock for the tower of the church where he loved to worship, and to form this fund for the support of the Gospel, the income of which amounts to between $200 and $300 annually.

☞ It is said that Mr Peabody, the London banker, was quite successful in stock operations, based upon the result of the Mason and Slidell affair—as much so as the Paris Rothschilds.

☞ Drafting for the militia has been suspended in Connecticut, it having become evident that the number required by law will be fully made up by the formation of volunteer companies.

POPULAR LECTURES.

The Second Lecture of a Course of five Popular Lectures will be given in the TEMPLE, On FRIDAY EVENING, February 7th, —BY— "ARTEMAS WARD,"

(Editor of Vanity Fair, the "Punch" of America.)

MR WARD is the best delineator of the comic side of the American character that has ever appeared. His Lecture is represented by those who have heard it, as being the most unique and comic "thing" ever listened to.

People in adjoining towns would do well to secure tickets early, as no more will be sold than can be comfortably seated in the Hall.

It has been our endeavor to present a Course of which every lecturer should be a living man, that the people would wish to hear: also to present such a combination of instruction and discussion of the great topics of the day with wit and humor as would preclude the possibility of dry and uninteresting logic. We now have the pleasure of announcing the following distinguished gentlemen for the next two Lectures:

Rev. J. C. FLETCHER.
Prof. CLARENCE BUTLER.

The fifth is not yet engaged. The above are well known and need no recommendation. This lecture will be a graphic description of the early scenes of the rebellion in an extreme Southern State, and his own experiences in connection.

Tickets for the Course 75 cents; for one admission 25 cents—to be had at SHORES' Bookstore, PRESTON'S and N. P. THACHER'S Apothecary Stores, and DAVIS' Daguerreian Gallery.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, the it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahneman, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc., etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." In case of these Curatives for family use are getting to be about as common as babies in a house, and every family should have one.—a case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. WASHINGTON'S BIRTH DAY.—Messrs. Editors:—I believe you are always on hand for a holiday, and go in for a strict observance of all National days. How is it about the coming 22d of February? In opposition to the Jeff. Davis Union-breakers, would it not be well for us to make a demonstration, close up our stores, and have some good programme through the day and evening, which will keep our memories fresh in regard to one who was "the first in war, the first in peace, and the first in the hearts of his countrymen?" H.

[Yes, we think it would be decidedly a good plan. Who will take hold of the matter?]

☞ The U. S. steamer Kearsarge is expected to sail to day, Wednesday, for Fayal, Western Islands, for coal. It is generally understood that she is to go in pursuit of privateers. Should she fortunately fall in with any of the craft, it is doubtful, from the well known character of the Kearsarge's officers, if they would be able to give her the slip.

☞ A barn, owned by Mr. Langdon Whidden, situated on Lafayette road, was destroyed by fire between 1 and 2 o'clock Tuesday morning. The stock was saved.

Messrs. Ball, Black & Co., New York City, have at their store a genuine curiosity. It is the wedding ring of Martin Luther. It is in a capital state of preservation, —contains Luther's name in Latin—the date of the marriage, 25th June, 1525—and the ornamental parts show the coil, the ladder, the mitre, the crucifix, and other religious emblems. It has been repaired repeatedly on the inside, and the identity of the ring is complete. Several documents are connected with it to prove that it is genuine. It belongs to one of the chaplains of Gen. Blenker's division.—Tribune.

A few weeks since, we saw either this same ring, or one just like it, in the hands of Mr. Charles T. Emery, jeweller, of this city, for "repairs," as above; and it also shew marks of having been "repeatedly" thus treated. It was a fine piece of work, and a rare curiosity of itself; but we had little faith then, and have not much more now, (though Mr. E. and other good judges had more,) that Luther ever saw it—and presume duplicates can be had to order, where that came from,—like most other similar holy curiosities and mementoes.

☞ The ship Arkwright, of Portsmouth, (previously report ashore at Long Branch, N. J.,) lies broad side on, very easy, and in eight feet sand (not water). The tide at high water hardly reaches the sea side of her. Captains Merritt and Warden are discharging her cargo (of salt) by Raritan & Delaware R. R. They have about 2000 sacks out. They are making exertions to get her off as soon as possible. The anchors are laid out and cable on board. The vessel will draw eight feet of water light, but she now lies so far on the beach it will be hard to get her off.

☞ Pork is cheap enough now to induce a Jew—if he is poor—to make his peace with the swinish multitude. Prime Western hogs were selling in Boston, on Saturday, at four dollars per hundred pounds.—Pork is retailing around town for five and six cents. Now is the time to purchase, while it is low; it cannot long remain at such prices.

PALPABLE TRUTH.—An exchange paper very aptly and truthfully says: "Before you go shopping, take the advertisement of a newspaper. The man who advertises liberally is a liberal dealer; he sells more goods than old fogies who hide their light under a bushel, and is, therefore, able to sell cheaper."

☞ Artemas Ward, Temple, Friday evening.

☞ The Chairman of the Committee o Ways and Means will bring the House to a vote on the Treasury bill on Thursday.

The Secretary of the Treasury, in a letter to the Committee on Ways and Means, says the general provisions of the bill seem well adapted to the end proposed; that the provision making the notes a legal tender was doubtless well considered by the Committee, and their reflections had conducted him to the same conclusion, and that he felt great fear as to making anything but gold and silver legal tender, but owing to the large expenditures and bank suspensions, the provision is indispensable. The Secretary has suggested amendments providing against counterfeiting and directing the manner in which the notes are to be executed.

Secretary Chase, in a note to Mr. Spaulding, says: "Immediate action is of great importance. The treasury is nearly empty. I have been obliged to draw for the last instalment of the November loan. As soon as it is paid, I fear the banks generally will refuse to receive the U. S. notes. You will see the necessity of urging the bill through without delay."

☞ The Northern Light from Aspinwall 24th, arrived at New York Tuesday. She brings intelligence of the total loss of the steamer Columbus Dec. 8, on Point Remedios. She had a cargo valued at a million and a half, mostly English goods. Her passengers arrived in the Northern Light.—U. S. ship Cyane was at Panama. The Lancaster had sailed for San Francisco. The British steamer from St. Thomas states the Sumter was seen by the steamer from Havana cruising close to St. Domingo. Capt. Ritchie of U. S. steamer Saranac, is reported to have all his officers under arrest; cause not stated.

☞ The Times' dispatch states that Gen. Scott is going in the frigate Richmond to Mexico, accredited by the government with powers of a delicate and responsible nature, and that the probable results of his mission are of the most important character.

According to a letter in the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser, the iron-clad steamer Merrimac is actually to be put in service, if the rebels can accomplish her deliverance from Norfolk, and a sharp naval engagement is imminens.

☞ Among the articles found in General Zollicoffer's camp at Mill Spring, Kentucky, were sixty thousand pounds of sugar, twenty six thousand pounds of coffee, and twelve thousand pounds of tobacco.

☞ During the month of December, 1861, four thousand five hundred emigrants reached Liverpool on their return to their homes. They were principally natives of Ireland.

☞ Have you got tickets for Artemas Ward's lecture?

☞ Having made arrangements for furnishing good custom-made BOOTS and SHOES for the people; also for all kinds of repairing in the same line, an invitation is extended to all who are in need of something good to wear to call at No. 5 MARKET SQUARE. D. R. AMBROSE.

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE
— AND THE —
BRITISH REVIEWS,

Great Inducements to Subscribe!

PREMIUMS and REDUCTIONS.

L. SCOTT & CO., NEW YORK, continue to publish the following leading British Periodicals, viz:

2. THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (WHIG)
3. THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church.
4. THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (LIBERAL).
5. BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (TORY).

The present critical state of European affairs will render these publications unusually interesting during the forthcoming year. They will occupy a middle ground between the hastily written news items, crude speculations, and flying rumors of the daily Journal, and the ponderous tome of the future historian, written after the living interest and excitement of the great political events of the time shall have passed away. It is to these Periodicals that readers must look for the only really impartial and reliable history of current events, and as such, in addition to their well-established literary, scientific, and theological character, we urge them upon the consideration of the reading public.

The receipt of ADVANCE SHEETS from the British publishers gives additional value to these Reprints, inasmuch as they can now be placed in the hands of subscribers about as soon as the original editions.

SAGE CHEESE.

Save Your Gas!!
A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year a use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be guaged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1.25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent
FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,
A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'
PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS
Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

Boys' and Girls' Sleds,

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a valuable collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

KILLICKINICK SMOKING TOBACCO
150 POUNDS, five pound packages. For sale by dec9 H. F. GERRISH,
14 MARKET SQUARE.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ The Providence Journal says there is not a shadow of foundation for the report that the Navy Department has decided to remove the Naval School from Newport.—No order to that effect has been given, and none is contemplated.

☞ General McClellan last week ordered Berdan's sharpshooters to be furnished with one thousand Colt's rifles and one thousand Sharpe's rifles. The sharpshooters will not be employed as infantry but as first contemplated.

☞ Says the Commercial Bulletin: Variety is the spice of life, but the variety of tariff has given life to spice, one merchant having realized, on the rise of pepper alone, $80,000.

Gen. Scott is going in the Richmond, sloop-of-war, to Key West, for the benefit of his health. A few friends and his physician will accompany him.

THE GREATEST LABOR-SAVING MACHINE NOW IN THE MARKET!

Will more than pay for itself in the Wear of Clothing.

FOUR REASONS

Why no one should be without one of them:

1st.—It will wring four times as fast as can be done by hand; much drier, and with one-fourth the labor; and wrings anything from a silk glove to a heavy Blanket.

2d.—Is simple, strong, and durable, and will not get out of repair.

3d.—Any servant will use it with safety to the machine, and with great saving of wear to the Clothes.

4th.—It is readily and firmly secured, to tubs of any thickness, and can be easily detached and set aside.

No House should be without one.

STACK ARMS!!

In the days when Uncle Toby went soldiering, we used to stack arms every day when the company went to dinner, and at other times when a company had a short dismission for any purpose: and it is only in time of war, and then only in cases of extreme danger, that the men sleep on their arms. So the order "Stack arms!" is no strange sound to the soldier, and does not suggest any thing extraordinary to his mind.

Now, however, when 500,000 stand of arms are stacked every day by the two great armies, one particular stacking makes a noise in Congress, as may be seen by the statement that in the House of Representatives on Monday, Mr. Lovejoy offered the following:—

"Whereas, it has been asserted in this House that five Illinois regiments, did, on the occasion of learning the contents of the report of Secretary Cameron, lay down their arms in token of their refusal to fight: therefore

"Resolved, That the Committee on the conduct of the war inquire into the alleged fact, and report to Congress."

Mr. Fouke, of Ill., desiring to discuss the subject; it went over under the rule.

Perhaps it may never come up:—but the inquiry may be pursued here, perhaps, as well as any where. The statement made in the House was, that the "five regiments stacked their arms when told that the war was to be one of emancipation."

Of course we cannot say positively that the story is true, but admitting it to be so, some questions arise, e. g.

Who gave the order to Stack Arms, or Ground Arms? on this occasion. Did the Major Gen.? or Brigadier? or the five Cols.? It can hardly be supposed that five Cols. would do it simultaneously without concert. Did they have a caucus of demagogues, and resolve to do it? Or was their General a demagogue, and did he order it?

Did the men, unanimously and simultaneously lay down or stack their arms, without orders? This is wonderfully improbable.—but let us suppose it to be true: and then ask, How came they to do it?

Was it because the Report of Sec. Cameron was read by them? or because some demagogue, in the camp or hanging round it, gave his version or view of the report?

In the absence of any positive and reliable answer, we may take our own choice of the answers. But whichever we take, if the story be true in the main, it establishes this curious position, viz: that white men of the North, many of them, are not prepared for emancipation. This has often been said of the blacks, but there is not a word of truth in it, says Uncle Toby, as all our experience in this rebellion goes to show,—and as England and France have found in their colonies.

There was in the English and French colonies, among the whites, and in their home trading circles, a dreadful fear that the world would be convulsed when the chains fell,—but nothing of the kind took place. And now among some classes of our own white citizens, worthy men too, and patriots, there is a blind and stupid devotion to the slave system, as if it conferred some great benefits, or was a sacred thing, which must not be damaged in the least.

There are, no doubt, some good men risking their lives to crush out the rebellion, who would think it a great calamity if slavery should fall down with a crash.—The rebels despise these men, and demagogue traitors use them;—but their hesitation protracts the war,—and the longer it lasts the more certain ultimate emancipation must be, with a large amount of confusion, distress and suffering in the mean time, which might be avoided by decided action for freedom, letting slaves and slavery take care of themselves if they can.

☞ A counterpart to the saddest feature of the Ball's Bluff disaster—the drowning of our retiring troops in the Potomac—was enacted by the retreating rebels after the late battle in Kentucky. When they reached the bank of the river, after their precipitate flight from the battle field, they rushed in crowds upon the flat-boat that, with a steamboat, formed their means of crossing. So great was the rush upon the former that many were pushed overboard. Others hung themselves in such numbers in the water, holding on to the sides of the boat, that they threatened to upset the boat and compelled those upon it to loosen their hold by force. A large number rushed headlong into the river after the boats had stood off the bank, and tried to swim across. Over 150 are thus supposed to have found a watery grave.

☞ A sad picture was lately presented in England at a great Temperance demonstration by the Methodists at Preston Corn Exchange. It was authoritatively stated that sixty thousand drunkards annually die in England.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— At a pastoral visit in East Weare a few evenings since, several tableaux were exhibited, representing Mischief, Forest Maiden, and some others. The last and best was entitled "The Flower of the Family." A general laugh followed the rising of the curtain to see a barrel of flour, which a few of the Pastor's friends presented in this way.

—— The famous Flowage case of Arthur M. Eastman of Manchester, vs. the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company, which has been dragging along in Court for three years, was terminated last Saturday after a tedious trial of three weeks. The Plaintiff claimed damages to the amount of $8000. Verdict for $206.03.

—— The Winter Term of the Supreme Judicial Court for Sullivan county was commenced on Tuesday last, at Newport.—In consequence of the storm, Judge Sargent, jurymen and others were delayed until the next day. Only four indictments were found by the Grand Jury and they all against one man for selling liquors.

—— A case is now on trial before the Supreme Judicial Court at Manchester, in which the pltf. claims $7.20—$7.00 of which the deft. admits he owes, and claims to have tendered, but he denies owing the odd twenty cents.

—— The passengers on board the Great Eastern during the terrible storm of Sept. 12, 1861, have presented Mr. Hamilton E. Towle, of Exeter, civil engineer, with a costly watch, suitably inscribed, as a token of their appreciation of his skill in devising and his untiring and successful labor in constructing a steering apparatus by means of which the ship and the lives of all the passengers were saved.

—— According to the Manchester American, within a few months past there have been erected in that city more dwelling houses than for an equal length of time for a long period.

☞ A correspondent from Missouri mentions that while the Union forces were marching from Melville to Springfield, they passed a fine brick house over which waved the Stars and Stripes, while above the door were painted the arms of the United States. At the gate several ladies were engaged in waving handkerchiefs, to which the "boys" responded with cheers which certainly came from healthy lungs. Not seeing any men around, I naturally concluded that the husband must be in the Home Guards "at Springfield, but the reason leaked out on coming into camp at night. The husband, whose name is McKenley, is, or was a prominent secessionist, while the wife is strong for the Union. He turned her out of doors and commenced an action for a divorce, when she went to Springfield and had him arrested for treason. Having seen him safely committed to jail, she returned home, hoisted the Stars and Stripes, and would like to see anybody take them down.

☞ Artemas Ward, having been invited by his fellow citizens of "Baldinsville, Injiany, resently to norate to 'em on the Krysis, peared be4 a C of upturned faces in the Red Skool House, and delivered his grate orashun which koncludes nearly as follers:"

"Feller Sitterzuns, I am in the Sheer & yeller leaf. I shall peg out I of these dase. But while I do stop here I shall stay in the Union. I know not what the Supervizers of Baldinsville may conclude to do, but for one, I shall stand by the Stars & Stripes.—Under no circumstances whatsomever will I secesh. Let every Statt in the Union secesh & let Palmetter flags flote thicker nor shirts on Square Baxter's close line, still will I stick to the old flag, and next Summer, when I start out on my campane with my Show, wharever I pitch my little tent, you shall see flotin prowdly from the center pole thereof the Amerikan Flag, with nary a star wiped out, nary a stripe less, but the same old flag that has allers floted thar! & the prince of alenis on will be the same it allers was—13 cents, children half price.

"Feller Sitterzens, I am dun."

"Holders of the bonds of the United States payable three years from date, the coupons of semi-annual interest thereon being due on the 19th inst., are hereby notified that provision is made for the payment in coin of all such coupons agreeably to their tenor, at the office of the Assistant Treasurer of the United States, in the city of New York. All such coupons must be presented at that office, accompanied with schedules showing the number and amount of each coupon, together with the aggregate sum of each parcel, three full days for examination and verification before payment.

"Notice is hereby given of the readiness of this Department to redeem the Treasury notes payable in one year from date authorized by act of Congress approved Dec. 23d, 1857, and the Treasury notes payable in sixty days from date, authorized by act of Congress approved March 2d, 1861. Interest on Treasury notes of the above issues will cease on the 7th day of April next, by the terms of those acts respectively."

☞ It is stated that Capt. Ericsson is confident that, with his new battery, launched on Thursday, he can sink the Merrimac in a given number of minutes.

It is often a nobler work to conquer a doubt than a redoubt.

☞ The Boston Transcript says:—"Portsmouth might organize a 'Veteran Association' that would outnumber, pro rata, any similar society in the country."

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Tuesday, a petition was presented of the manufacturers of steam machinery of Boston against the bill reducing the grades of engineers on ships. Mr. Sumner, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported a bill recognizing Hayti and Liberia by sending to each a diplomatic representative, styled Commissioner and Consul General. The resolution of inquiry in relation to the Kansas command was taken up and passed.—The bill to provide for the construction of twenty iron-clad steamers was debated, and then recommitted to the Naval Committee. The case of Mr. Bright was again considered, without coming to a conclusion. Mr. Bright defined his position, by reading two resolutions adopted by a political meeting in Indiana.

THE REBELLION.

The Kansas 7th, Col. Stevenson, left Lamine for Lexington, Mo., on Monday.—They will hold the post during the winter. They cannot reach that place too soon.—Information has been received that the day after that place was evacuated by the Kansas 1st Regt., the rebels cut down the American flag. On the Sunday following the notorious Joe Shelby with a gang of free-booters, took possession of the town.—All the troops along the line of the Pacific Railroad west of Jefferson City are under marching orders. A number of regiments are going South to join Gen. Davis. Gen. Steele's brigade is to be forwarded to Kentucky. Gen. Pope remains, and will make his headquarters at Jefferson City.

The Constitution sailed from Fortress Monroe for Ship Island, Tuesday morning. The Jamestown sailed for the Southern coast during the previous night.

The flag of truce from rebeldom covered an impudent demand,—that if the rebel bridge burners be hung, under the order of Gen. Halleck, the Federal prisoners, Col. Corcoran and others, held as hostages for the safety of the pirates, shall be immediately hung in retaliation.

FOREIGN. — Steamship Nova Scotian, from Liverpool 23d and Londonderry 24th ult., arrived at Portland, Wednesday. The Times' city article says "an uneasy feeling prevails, as it is feared that an avoidance of complications in connection with American affairs cannot be permanently anticipated; and the feeling will probably increase until the meeting of the French Chambers on Monday, at which some indication of the policy to be adopted by France, England and Europe generally seems to be looked for."

The privateer Sumter reached Gibraltar on the 19th, having burned an American barque and captured a brig—allowing the latter to proceed. Six of the Sumter's crew deserted at Cadiz and made their submission to the American Consul. The captain of the Sumter claimed them as deserters, but the Spanish officials declined to give them up. The Tuscarora and Nashville are in statu quo at Southampton.

France will send large additional forces to Mexico, and will take the lead in operations there.

Two hundred and fifteen colliers had been buried alive in the Hartley coal mine near Newcastle. After strenuous exertions about 100 of the 215 had been discovered dead. It was feared the remainder of the miners would be found dead in another portion of the mine.

☞ Since the battle of Mill Springs, Gen. Shoepff's division in Kentucky is reported to have actually built forty miles of corduroy road, in order to approach Monticello, where Crittenden is getting together the remains of his dispersed army. The depth of mud in the ordinary roads made it impossible to advance without making a road as our troops advance. Such energy deserves and guaranties success.

☞ The feat of telegraphing from Boston to Salt Lake city was performed on Saturday night, the operatives at either end of the wire exchanging the compliments of the season. Arrangements have been made and it is expected that on Thursday night communications will be sent direct from Halifax, N. S. to San Francisco.

The levy of fifteen thousand dollars upon the Secessionists of Marion County, Missouri, made by Gen. Halleck, to repair the railroad bridges which were destroyed by the rebels, is now being collected. The levy has caused a great number to suddenly change from Jeff. Davisites to Abe Lincolnites.—Boston Post.

☞ The Maine 14th Regiment, Col. Nickerson, left Augusta Wednesday morning in a special train for Boston, and passed through this city in the afternoon. It is attached to Gen. Butler's division.

A member of the Regiment fell from the platform of a car, near Creek bridge, in this city, while the train was in motion, breaking one of his arms in two places and inflicting a severe gash upon his forehead. The train was stopped, and the sufferer, being placed on board, was carried on with the regiment.

☞ Stephen Post was found frozen to death near Rockland, Me., last week, and a jug close by him had surrendered its spirit also.

☞ A silver eel was caught in Worcester last week, with a red head and pink eyes, weighing 4 pounds and 5 ounces, and measuring 4 feet and 9 inches.

☞ $5000 in the city of Boston 6 per cent. scrip and $4000 in Rank, Railroad and Insurance stocks, were stolen from the room of Mr. Wm. Chase, at his boarding place in Boston, on Tuesday night. The papers were placed in the bed upon which he slept: he was absent from his room about ten minutes, to attend to a sick friend in the room above,—and when he returned, although he had locked the door on going out, the room had been entered and the money stolen.

☞ The U. S. steamer Kearsarge, Capt. Pickering, sailed from Portsmouth Navy Yard on Wednesday morning.

THE PICKET GUARD.

"All quiet along the Potomac," they say,
"Except now and then a stray picket
Is shot as he walks on his beat to and fro,
By a rifleman hid in the thicket.
'Tis nothing—a private or two now and then,
Will not count in the news of the battle;
Not an officer lost—only one of the men
Moaning out, all alone, the death-rattle."

All quiet along the Potomac to night,
Where the soldiers lie peacefully dreaming;
Their tents in the rays of the clear Autumn moon,
Or the light of the watch-fire gleaming.
A tremulous sigh, as the gentle night wind
Through the forest leaves softly is creeping,
Keep guard—for the army is sleeping.

There's only the sound of the lone sentry's tread
As he tramps from the rock to the fountain;
And thinks of the two in the low trundle bed,
His musket falls slack—his face dark and grim,
Grows gentle with memories tender,
And he mutters a prayer for the children asleep,
For their mother—may heaven defend her.

The moon seems to shine just as brightly as then,
That night when the love yet unspoken
Leaped up to his lips, when love-murmured vows
Were pledged to be ever unbroken.
Then drawing his sleeves roughly over his eyes,
He leaves off tears that are welling,
And gathers his gun closer up to its place,
As it takes down the heart swelling.

He passes the fountain, the blasted pine tree,
The footstep is lagging and weary;
Yet onward he goes, thro' the broad belt of light,
Toward the shade of the forest so dreary.
Hark! was it the night wind that rustled the leaves?
Was it moonlight so wondrously flashing!
And the life-blood is ebbing and plashing.

All quiet along the Potomac to-night,
No sound save the rush of the river;
While soft falls the dew on the face of the dead—
The picket's off duty forever.

☞ Hon. E. P. Buffinton, mayor of Fall River, has a cow which has given ten thousand one hundred and seventy four quarts of milk during the last two years—an average of a little less than fourteen quarts per day.

☞ The Baugor Whig says a Boston captain named Heard was recently killed at St. John by falling from one of the immensely high wharves at low water. He fell fifty feet.

☞ In the Supreme Court for York county, Me., Rufus C. Littlefield has been convicted on an indictment for rape, and sentenced to imprisonment for life.

☞ A dissipated young man named Jeremiah Fisher, of excellent family and in good business in New York, committed suicide a few days ago because his mistress abandoned him.

☞ The rebels report among their soldiers that Zollicoffer committed suicide because he had been superseded by Gen. Crittenden.

☞ A bill has passed the Senate of New Jersey, exempting telegraphic operators in New Jersey from military duty.

George M. Browne of Boston, Samuel Hooper of Boston, Micajah Lunt of Newburyport, Franklin Haven of Boston, Wm. L. Dwight of Portsmouth, Henry L. Williams of Salem, and Benjamin F. Bates of Boston.

John B. Parker was re-elected clerk.

POPULAR LECTURES.

The Second Lecture of a Course of five Popular Lectures will be given in the

TEMPLE,

On FRIDAY EVENING, February 7th,

—BY—

"ARTEMAS WARD,"

(Editor of Vanity Fair, the "Punch" of America.)

MR. WARD is the best delineator of the comic side of the American character that has ever appeared. His Lecture is represented by those who have heard it, as being the most unique and comic "thing" ever listened to.

People in adjoining towns would do well to secure tickets early, as no more will be sold than can be comfortably seated in the Hall.

It has been our endeavor to present a Course of which every lecturer should be a living man, that the people would seem to hear: also to present such a combination of instruction and discussion of the great topics of the day with wit and humor as would preclude the possibility of dry and uninteresting logic. We now have the pleasure of announcing the following distinguished gentlemen for the next two Lectures:

Rev. J. T. FIELDER.
Prof. CLARENCE BUTLER.

The fifth is not yet engaged. The above are well known and need no recommendation, with the exception of Prof. Butler. He is one of the many Teachers expelled from the South last Spring, having been for years a Professor in a Southern College. He comes highly recommended for his eloquence and ability. He was tried by Lynch law and sentenced to death on refusing to enter the Southern army, but by the intercession of friends finally escaped with a coat of tar and feathers, and found his way North. This lecture will be a graphic description of the early scenes of the rebellion in an extreme Southern State, and his own experiences in connection.

Tickets for the Course 75 cents; for one admission 25 cents—to be had at SHORES' Bookstore, FESSENDEN and B. F. TRACHER'S Apothecary Stores, and DAVIS' Daguerrean Gallery.

Special Notices.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, the it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such a case has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahnemann, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc., etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curatives for family use are getting to be about as common as babies in a house, and every family should have one,—a case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq., and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. BURR & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. PHILLIPS, wholesale, Portland, Me.; or sent anywhere by

SAGE CHEESE.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'

PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or oil. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

Boys' and Girls' Sleds,

Snow Shovels, Skates.

Something New

The present critical state of European affairs will render these publications unusually interesting during the forthcoming year. They will occupy a middle ground between the hastily written news items, crude speculations, and flying rumors of the daily Journal, and the ponderous tome of the future historian, written after the living interest and excitement of the great political events of the time shall have passed away. It is to these Periodicals that readers must look for the only really intelligible and reliable history of current events, and as such, in addition to their well-established literary, scientific, and theological character, we urge them upon the consideration of the reading public.

The receipt of ADVANCE SHEETS from the British publishers gives additional value to these Reprints, inasmuch as they can now be placed in the hands of subscribers about as soon as the original editions.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ Prof. Crosby, formerly of Dartmouth College, in his report at the examination of the State Normal School, in Salem, Mass., last week, stated that during the last vacation, a new range of Cabinet Cases was added, of equal extent with the former, and much has already been done towards filling them, through the kindness of friends, especially of Capt. and Mrs. J. B. Ashby, of Portsmouth, the latter of whom they were happy to claim as a daughter of the School.

☞ A man at Chicago has, after much thought, brought out an invention consisting of two padded cushions, one of which is to be strapped on to the back of the young skater's head, and the other to the back of his coat tails. It is supposed that the managers of skating parks will at once order a supply, for, when using the cushions, a person may fall ever so hard without cracking the ice.

☞ The Montreal Pilot complains that desertions from the English regiments quartered in that city have become very frequent of late. Nearly all of the deserters on reaching the United States, join the Union army.

Advertising.
For a Square (14 inches) or less, one insertion 50 cents, three insertions $1, one week $1.50, one month $3, three months $6, six months $8, one year $15. These are Daily rates—and no advertisements receive more than one insertion in the Weekly (Gazette) without special order and charge.
Funeral Notices, and Advertisements of articles Lost and Found, &c., 50 cents.
Advertisements may appear both in the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, if ordered; and will thus receive the most thorough circulation both in this city and vicinity, and throughout the State. ☞ Liberal terms for yearly advertising

THE PAY OF AMERICAN SOLDIERS.—The pay of the United States army is greater than that of any other in the world. The Russian soldier receives annually only thirty-six dollars a year as pay, and his rations consist solely of black bread. The soldier in the French army receives fifty-six cents a month. The pay of our soldiers is twenty times greater. The estimate in the French budget for 1860 was $64,687,500 for an army of 762,765 men on a war footing, and a reserve militia of 415,747 men in a peace footing. It costs the United States nearly three times as much to maintain a soldier as it does the British government—and it is to be remembered that the British government can get money at 3 per cent. interest, while it costs us 6 per cent. and more.

RUSH FOR OFFICE.—The number of applicants for a few vacancies in the Departments of minor importance is almost without a parallel. Senators and members are literally overrun with these ravenous office seekers, besieging them at the doors of the Capitol, their private quarters, on the streets, at their Departments, and even at their way to church. A letter from Washington says:—"This rush is simply occasioned by the passion for office, for the salaries and emoluments (reduced one-third under the new laws) are barely sufficient for a livelihood in this city of high prices, of high rents, and poor accommodations."

THE REBELLION RECORD.—Edited by Frank Moore, New York; G. P. Putnam. The issue of this serial is regularly continued, and it faithfully garners for present reference and for the future use of the historian all the facts and documents connected with the existing war. It is conducted with tack and judgment, and is a publication of inestimable value.

AN ANTI CORN DISTRICT IN MAINE.—Mr. Goodale, Secretary of the Maine Board of Agriculture, in the recent discussions of the Board stated that there is a tract of land in Maine, both south and north of which Indian corn could be grown, but upon which it would not grow. He had never been able to trace out definitely the exact line, for much of it was now in forest.—This tract, he believed, was wedge shaped.

☞ Mrs. Frederick Mabie (a Lilliputian) of Bergen county, N. J., died a few days ago. This lady, who had reached the advanced age of seventy seven years, was no taller than ordinary girls of four or five summers, and, although a Lilliputian in size, her intellect was unimpaired to the time of her death.

☞ Two soldiers belonging to the Maine battery, now at Camp Chase, Lowell, named James Manning and Daniel Sullivan, were run over about two miles from Lowell, about one o'clock on Tuesday morning, by the theatre train from Boston. Manning was instantly killed, while Sullivan received such injuries as to cause his death in about seven hours.

☞ Europe consumes annually thirty millions dollars' worth of gold and silver for trade, jewelry and ornaments. Gold consumes half per cent in sixteen years' wear, and silver from two to five per cent.

☞ It is reported of Secretary Stanton that he says the army must now earn its living. The soldiers in their dismal inactive camps reply that all they desire is some thing to do.

☞ Shoulder straps have now to give way at the War Department, they say, before common sense, and red tape, however nicely knotted, is cut by a dash of the Secretary's pen.

TRIPLETS.—Mrs. Pugsley, of Cornish, Me., a few days since, gave birth to three children—two boys and a girl—mother and children were doing well at last accounts.

Experience is a torch lighted in the ashes of our delusions.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

It is stated that the War Department has received official dispatches from Federal officers that a gunboat expedition is moving up the Tennessee River flanked by the infantry on shore, to attack the rebels, and great anxiety is felt to learn the result.

The Asst. Quartermaster of the Burnside expedition is in New York chartering more steam and sailing vessels in which to forward ordnance and commissary stores. He represents the health of the troops to be good, and when he left in the Eastern State there were about 100 vessels of the expedition at Hatteras Inlet.

A dispatch from Cairo says—"The force under Gen. Grant arrived at Ives' Landing, six miles below Fort Henry, Tuesday afternoon. Gunboats Essex and St. Louis made a reconnoissance of the rebel works for the purpose of landing forces. They went within a mile and a half of the fort, throwing several shells inside the entrenchments. The range of their guns being ascertained, a place was selected for landing, which was to have been done Tuesday afternoon. The forces of the enemy are supposed to be 15,000. A dispatch dated 5th says Gen. Grant's force was within four miles of Fort Henry.

There are now not less than 35,000 troops at Cairo, and preparations are actively going on for the great Mississippi expedition.

It it understood that the government has ordered a charter, for the special service, of all large transports that can be procured in New York.

Gen. Meagher, accompanied by Gen. Shields and his staff, took formal command on Wednesday, of the Irish brigade. Gen. Shields made an eloquent address, which was received with great enthusiasm throughout the brigade

The Virginia and South Carolina regiments in Kentucky under Marshall have gone back to Virginia, and Marshall and the rest of his force went to Pound Gap where they disbanded. The whereabouts of Marshall is unknown. A rumor prevails that a party of rebel cavalry, supposed to belong to Morgan's force, were surprised between Lebanon and Green rivers, and forty of them killed.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, on Wednesday, Mr. Carlisle moved to take up the resolution offered some time since by him relative to the finances of the country. He said the expenses were now at the rate of fifty millions a month. The only remedy yet proposed by the Secretary of the Treasury was issuing paper currency. He was opposed to any union of the Government with the banks. The resolution referred to the Finance Committee bill, making an appropriation for the support of the Military Academy, was reported back and passed. Mr. Sumner's resolution calling for the correspondence relative to the presentation of American citizens at the Court of France was adopted. The bill defining the pay of officers of the army was taken up, and the amendment of the committee adopted.—Mr. Sherman spoke on the subject of reducing the pay of all officers of the army and navy ten per cent., in which he acquiesced, but contended that this bill still preserved all the inequalities of the old system, including that of mileage. He argued in favor of immediate retrenchment and a general system of reduction. The bill was laid over and Mr. Bright's case taken up.—After remarks by several members, including Mr. Bright, a final vote for his expulsion was taken, resulting as follows: yeas 32, nays 14.

The House went into a committee on the whole on the Treasury note bill. The general debate is to cease on the expiration of two hours after the House shall again take up the bill.

☞ William D. Kingin was convicted in Michigan last week of a murder marked by very atrocious circumstances. In accordance with the law of the State Prison, there to endure solitary confinement for life. From the time he enters his cell—a grave for the living man—he will never see a face again. His meals are conveyed to him through an opening in his cell, and when it becomes necessary for human beings to approach him, they are hooded so as to conceal their features.

☞ Mr. Charles F. Browne, who has distinguished himself under the nom de plume of "Artemus Ward, Showman," is a native of Maine, and was once a printer, which fact probably will afford a solution to his being so exceedingly witty!

☞ According to Prof. Agassiz and the Florida reefs the world is certainly 24,000 years old and perhaps older.

☞ Twice a week a car provided with beds leaves Washington for the accommodation of sick and wounded soldiers.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Dr. Aaron B. Smith, who has for a number of years kept a drug store in Manchester, died very suddenly in his store on Wednesday morning, of heart disease with which he has been troubled at intervals for several years past. He was about 47 years of age, and leaves a wife and two daughters.

—— The editor of the Manchester Mirror, who is now in Washington, says "it may be gratifying for the people of New Hampshire to know that the Ninth Regiment from our State will not be required. The Government has all the soldiers it needs. Gov. Berry with Allen Tenney Sec. of State arrived Saturday morning, and called on the President in the afternoon and got substantially that answer from him. Though that the matter may be settled by the proper Department, the Governor will call upon Secretary Stanton. However, the decision is made and the Granite State will not be honored by more military appointments."

☞ A member of Co. K, 5th N. H. Regiment, in a letter, which is too long for our columns, says:—"We of Company K were agreeably surprised last week by the arrival of a box of clothing and other good things from the fair hands of the ladies of Greenland. They were received with much joy by the boys, and the donors may rest assured that their kindness will long be remembered."

NAVAL.—The steam frigate San Jacinto has been taken into the dry dock, at the Charlestown Navy Yard, where her shaft will be put in, her propeller shipped, and her bottomed coppered. After these are completed, which will be in a few days, she will have her armament and stores placed on board, and will be ready for sea. A detachment of forty one marines from the Brooklyn Navy Yard, arrived in Boston on Wednesday. They are intended for the San Jacinto, which, it is understood, will immediately make a cruise in American waters. Ten marines now there will join this detachment, making the guard of the San Jacinto fifty two men.

The U. S. Ship Ino, Volunteer Lieutenant Cressey commanding, sailed Wednesday for Ship Island direct. The new steam gun-boat Huron, Lieut. Downes commanding, also sailed Wednesday. She is to go to Key West.

The U. S. frigate Sabine, having been fitted up with stores and provisions, is now ready for sea at New York, and is expected to sail at once for the Southern coast.—The Sabine has been at the Yard about five weeks, during which time she has been thoroughly overhauled in the dry dock, and received all necessary repairs. Her armament has been increased by a formidable rifle gun, which is mounted on the top-gallant forecastle, and now consists of fifty-one guns.

☞ A report has just been laid before the French Emperor, calling the Emperor's attention to the singular prevalence of insanity among the scientific branches of the French army. The report quotes returns, from which it appears that one in ten of the officers of the artillery and engineers end their existence in a lunatic asylum, and ascribes the fact to the severe mathematical training they are put through at the Polytechnic school, before their brain has acquired its full development.

☞ The statement that the Confederate steamer Nashville has been purchased by an English ship-owner, is contradicted by the London Observer. At last dates she was still secure in her birth at Southampton, while the Tuscarora continued to watch her with unceasing vigilance. It was reported that the federal commander had invited the captains of the Nashville and Sumter to proceed to a decent distance from the British coast, and afford him the pleasure of an engagement with both their ships.

☞ A dispatch from Salt Lake City says two Frenchmen started some time since from Rocky Ridge to go to the Wind River Mountains. They were overtaken by a storm and lost their way. After wandering about 22 days they found the telagraph poles and remained there until they were picked up by the stage. They were in an exhausted condition, having eaten their dog and one of their horses.

☞ At the late exhibition at Florence, a notice was posted, forbidding any one to smoke. The King of Italy happening to enter with a cigar in his mouth, a faithful police officer stopped him, exclaiming: "Sire, you cannot smoke here." "Ah!" replied the King, reading the notice, "you are right," and he threw his cigar on the floor, whence it was picked up as a trophy.

☞ Cast steel is now successfully manufactured in this country to a considerable extent, and materially interferes with the importation from Great Britain. The Ætna Steel Works at Jersey City are among the oldest manufacturers in the country, and the steel is in every way equal to that of foreign manufacture.

☞ Artemus Ward, Temple, Friday evening

SAN ANTONIO, Cal., Jan. 1.

Messrs. Editors:—How strange it is that the year 1862 should find me addressing you from the land of gold. Had a person told me, on Jan. 1, 1861, that in one year from that time I should be in California, I should have thought him crazy. I left New York in the steamer of Nov. 21st, and after a voyage of 24 days, was landed in the Golden State. We had fine weather during the trip, indeed the captain of the Northern Light remarked "it was the finest trip he ever made."

We arrived at Aspinwall on the morning of Nov. 19th, at 6 o'clock, and went ashore immediately. The arrival of 1000 persons in a place like Aspinwall of course creates quite a stir among the inhabitants, both white and black, all striving to get as much out of the weary travellers as possible.—We were immediately informed on our landing that it would be impossible to pass over the railroad to Panama on account of the large quantity of water which was flowing across the road, about seven miles from A., it having rained for about a fortnight previous to our arrival. Hand bills were however posted that the steerage passengers would leave at 12 o'clock, and cabin passengers at 2 P. M. Ample accommodations were provided by the railroad company, and at 1-2 past 12 the steerage passengers left, the train numbering some 20 cars.—Next came our turn. At 1-2 past 2 P. M. we steamed away for Panama, this train having about 15 cars. About 7 miles from A. we encountered the first flood, and indeed it was a flood: for the distance of half a mile the water was rushing over the road so that the train had to move very slowly through it, the water reaching the bottom of the cars. We passed two places of this character, when we experienced no further difficulty. We reached Panama at 6 o'clock in the evening.

The Golden Gate is a large, fine steamer and our accommodations were much better than on the Northern Light. We had a pleasant voyage, if we except the sickness which troubled many of us, and reached San Francisco on the morning of Dec. 5th. San Francisco does not strike a stranger favorably, on account of the bad state of the streets, which are exceedingly muddy and filled with any quantity of holes. It should be known that where now are busy streets and fine buildings, once flowed the waters of the bay, and the water still flows under some streets and sidewalks.

Business seems very brisk, and the war does dot seem to affect California in any way except to send an immense number of of people here. Our advice to all such is, stay in New England; there are more here than can find employ. Many do return to the East, and many more would, if they had the means. Wait until the war is over, and then no States will offer better inducements than Kentucky and Missouri and other States that I could name. The expenses of reaching here, and the uncertainty attending all kinds of business here, do not make California a desirable State. We have seen young men who formerly taught in the public schools of New York, and came out here to do better, now teaching for half what they had in New York, after spending all the earnings of six or seven years.

It has rained continuously for about a fortnight past, and the country has been literally flooded. All communication has been stopped with many places and millions of property destroyed. Sacramento has been drowned out, and there is a talk of removing the capital to San Francisco. Politics are quiet since the election of Stanford the Republican candidate. California is thoroughly Republican. D. P. T.

☞ There is a rumor that England, France and Spain have under consideration the question of soon acknowledging the national independence of the Southern Confederacy. Suppose they should, it could have no other effect than to stimulate the rebels to make greater efforts, and, possibly, protract the war. It could not alter facts; and it is a fact that the insurrectionists cannot become an independent nation unless by their victorious arms. They must first conquer our twenty millions of freemen. It may be that some of the European Powers, from commercial interests and dislike of our institutions, would be glad to weaken our national energies, by a division of the Union. They probably have an avertion to the blockade—but will not be guilty of the folly of recognizing the rebels as a sovereign people while there is no prospect that they can become so. The United States might acknowledge the independence of Ireland, or some of the nations of Hindoostan or the Canadas, but it could avail nothing. A.

It is stated that the French Minister at Washington has been made aware of the formal disapprobation of the French Government at the conduct of the American Government in choking up Charleston harbor, and would join Lord Lyons in protesting against the act.

☞ Have you got tickets for Artemas Ward's lecture?

☞ A bed of porcelain clay has been opened in Cornwall, Ct., and 1000 tons have been taken out and sent to Philadelphia, where it is made into crockery, and applied on wall-paper. The clay has been tested, and is said to be equal to the finest in the world.

SEAL SHOOTING.—A seal weighing about 60 pounds was shot in the Mill Pond in Barnstable, Mass., on Monday last, by Mr. Truman Eldredge. He made the attempt to catch him alive, but failing in this, he shot him.

☞ Mr. Charles Lever, whose melancholy death some months since was recorded, will commence in February a new tale in monthly numbers, each containing two illustrations by Phiz.

☞ Persons are stated to be going through Ireland, swearing young men into a secret "brotherhood." The oaths are of most treasonable character—in an English point of view—but national in the Irish sense.

☞ Artemas Ward says George Washington's "Fort" was "to not have any public man of the present day resemble him to any alarmin' extent."

☞ There is not a word of truth in the story that there is a man in Vermont who feeds his hens on iron filings and gathers steel pens from their wings.

POPULAR LECTURES.

The Second Lecture of a Course of five Popular Lectures will be given in the

TEMPLE,

On FRIDAY EVENING, February 7th,

—BY—

"ARTEMAS WARD,"

(Editor of Vanity Fair, the "Punch" of America.)

MR. WARD is the best delineator of the comic side of the American character that has ever appeared. His Lecture is represented by those who have heard it, as being the most unique and comic "thing" ever listened to.

People in adjoining towns would do well to secure tickets early, as no more will be sold than can be comfortably seated in the Hall.

It has been our endeavor to present a Course of which every lecture should be a fitting man, that the people would wish to hear: also to present such a combination of instruction and discussion of the great topics of the day with wit and humor as would preclude the possibility of dry and uninteresting logic. We now have the pleasure of announcing the following distinguished gentlemen for the next two Lectures:

Rev. J. C. FLETCHER.
Prof. CLARENCE BUTLER.

The fifth is not yet engaged. The above are well known and need no recommendation, with the exception of Prof. Butler. He is one of the many Teachers expelled from the South last Spring, having been for years a Professor in a Southern College. He comes highly recommended for his eloquence and ability. He was tried by Lynch law and sentenced to death on refusing to enter the Southern army, but by the intercession of friends finally escaped with a coat of tar and feathers, and found his way North. This lecture will be a graphic description of the early scenes of the rebellion in an extreme Southern State, and his own experiences in connection.

Tickets for the Course 75 cents; for one admission 25 cents—to be had at SHOBER' Bookstore, PRESTON'S and N. P. THACHER'S Apothecary Stores, and DAVIS' Daguerrean Gallery.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, tho' it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahneman, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CERATIVES, have doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc., etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, so upon the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Ceratives for family use are getting to be about as common as bodies in a house, and every family should have one.—a case of medicine we mean, sold by H. H. ☞ Are you going to hear the A. Ward?

ARTEMAS WARD.—Of course, everybody is going to hear the Great American Showman at the Temple this evening. He lectured in Portland on Wednesday evening and the Advertiser says:—"The City Hall (the largest hall in New England, it is said) was crowded to its utmost limit, to hear the Great Showman speak of the melancholy history of The Babes in the Wood; and in speaking of the lecture we regret that our time and space will not allow a fair synopsis of it; even if it were perfect, one must see the speaker to appreciate it; the affected seriousness, the pauses, followed by something immensely ridiculous and comical, combine to make it irresistible."

The following is what a Boston paper says of Artemas Ward:—

"Everybody has heard of Artemas Ward and enjoyed his inimitable adventures.—Having generally caught the gleam of his wit through the stale expedient of bad orthography, which, however, he has made very funny, we are glad to have an opportunity to have him introduced to us as a humorist in his own Sunday clothes. He had a large audience last evening—the Temple was nearly full—of such people as expected something racy or they would not have been present. The paper he read was a humorous medley, in which grave and gay were mingled, the droll element predominating, spiced with anecdote and bon mot. The 'Children in the Woods,' were obscured by leaves, but the children which the audience saw were far from being hungry and inconsolate. Mr. Charles F. Browne found that he came among old friends, needing no introduction, with sparkling wit and graceful modesty which would have made friends among strangers. The audience was "tickled to death."

OSSIAN E. DODGE.—This justly popular and world-renowned vocalist and wit, will give one of his elegant and chaste soirees musicale, at the Temple, Thursday evening, Feb. 13. Mr. Dodge will be assisted by Mr. Hayward, the far-famed ballad singer, universally proclaimed the best balladist in this country ever produced. As this is Mr. Dodge's farewell visit to New England, the lovers of pure harmony and genuine humor without vulgarity, should not fail to attend and enjoy the rich and racy literary and musical banquet that Mr. Dodge prepares for his patrons.

—— The Union Mass Convention met in the City Hall in Concord, Thursday forenoon, in full numbers. It was called to order by Hon. Wm. C. Clarke of Manchester. Judge Perley of Concord was chosen President, and made a patriotic speech in favor of the Union movement. Letters endorsing the purpose of the Convention were read from Hon. Geo. Y. Sawyer and Judge Morrison of Nashua. The Convention was addressed at some length by Edward D. Rand, Esq., of Lisbon, closing the morning session. About 275 persons were in attendance,—one-half of whom were spectatoes. But little enthusiasm was manifested, but the Boston Traveller's report says it was not quite a failure.

The whole number of votes for candidate for Governor was 113. Paul J. Wheeler, of Newport, (prominent candidate at the recent Union Rep. Convention) received 98, and was nominated; the rest were scattering. Josephus Baldwin, of Nashua, was nominated for Railroad Commissioner.

☞ The annual meeting of the Rhode Island Institute of Instruction was held in Providence on Friday last. The lecture in the evening was delivered by Rev. Lyman Whiting, formerly of this city, and the Providence Press publishes copious extracts from it. It says: The lecture by Rev. Lyman Whiting was a charming literary feast, enriched by pertinent counsel and delivened by poetic beauties. It is seldom that an audience is regaled by the presentation of fresh and sparkling thoughts so exquisitely adorned by all the graces of style that a cultivated imagination can impart. Want of room compels us to omit many of its more flowery and highly wrought passages, although we do not know what more acceptable matter we could place before our readers.

☞ Faneuil Hall, Boston, was filled to overflowing, Wednesday evening, on the occasion of a meeting to aid in the liberation of Col. MICHAEL CORCORAN, of the New York Sixty-ninth Regiment, now confined as a felon in prison at Charleston. It is stated to have been one of the most enthusiastic, as well as the largest gatherings ever held in the old Cradle of Liberty.—Not only were the "Sons of Ireland" present, but also large numbers of our own fellow-citizens. The best of feeling prevailed and only such outbreaks of enthusiasm were exhibited as true and patriotic Irishmen can give life to. The Brigade Band was stationed in the gallery, and performed at intervals during the evening. The national flag of Ireland was suspended near the clock, and upon each side were the stars and stripes. Mayor Wightman, of Boston, presided, and speeches were made by the President, Col. A. O. Brewster, Judge Russell, Hon. John C. Tucker, and others, and letters from Gen. B. F. Butler and Hon. B. F. Hallett were read.

☞ The U. S. Senate has rejected the nomination of A. J. Butler, of California, a brother of Gen. Butler, as Commissary of Subsistence.

☞ We have important news from Mexico, by telegraph from San Francisco. A courier arrived at Acapulco, prior to the 26th ult., with intelligence of the defeat of the Spanish army in a severe battle at the National bridge, near Vera Cruz. The battle lasted nearly five hours. Intelligence from Western Mexico generally represents the termination of dissensions and the union of all parties to resist foreign invasion.

The London Times is down upon Messrs. Mason and Slidell, because they are down. It compares them to a brace of blacks, and says that England would have done as much for two of their fugitive slaves as she has done for them; and it calls them "these fellows," which reminds one of Lord Eldon's calling Napoleon I. "this fellow," when he drew up an opinion as to the disposition that should be made of the "fellow" after the English had clutched him in 1815. Politeness is not an English weakness. The Southern envoys are in the way to learn that Boston is a pleasanter place than London.—Boston Traveller.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be guaged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'

PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

Boys' and Girls' Sleds,

Snow Shovels, Skates.

Something New

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability in his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ A large number of British vessels, loaded with grain, have been reported lost, from the fact, it is said, of their being loaded by means of elevators, which renders it impossible for the grain to become settled and compact. American and other vessels, whose cargoes are insured on this side, receive a large share of the grain in bags, thus lessening the danger of loss from the shifting of the grain to the leeward.

☞ In the year 1806, a business man of Salem, Mass., failed, and compounded with his creditors by paying them fifty cents on a dollar, receiving a full and free discharge. Since then he has prospered, and is now engaged in paying the remaining fifty cents, to the uttermost farthing, with interest from the time of his discharge.

☞ General Wadsworth, of New York, who commands a brigade in McDowell's division, has been in Washington only twice during the past five months. He devotes all his time conscientiously to the duties of his post. Neither he nor his son has received a cent of pay since he entered the service.

☞ The demand for mourning goods was never known to be so pressing in England as upon the death of the husband of the Queen. As soon as it was light on the Monday morning succeeding that event, crowds of buyers flocked into those shops in London where mourning goods are kept.

☞ Monday evening one of the sentinels at Fort Scammel, Portland harbor, discovered a boat capsized,on which were two men —the boat drifting out to sea. The garrison was alarmed, and boats immediately sent out, which succeeded in rescuing the sufferers.

Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no traveling or other agents whatever. Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1862.

A THICKLY SETTLED SPOT.

The island of Barbadoes is a mere speck on the Map of the World, or to make it plain to our readers, about a quarter part as big as the county of Rockingham. Yet, by its fruitfulness, its dense population, and domestic industry, it stands acknowledged as the second of the British West Indies, only Jamaica being of more value and importance.

Barbados, or Barbadoes, the most eastern of the Carribee islands, and the earliest settled and improved of all the English possessions in the West Indies, is situated 70 miles E. from St. Vincent, and about 200 miles N. E. from Trinidad. It is of an oval form, 22 miles in length, and 14 in width, with an area of 106,470 acres, most of which is under cultivation. The surface, except in the N. E. part, is not much diversified with hills and valleys, and though there are several small streams, the absence of the mountains in the center renders this island less copiously watered than the other Antilles.

The cultivation also of almost every spot on the island prevents the prevalence of injurious miasmata. The staple productions are sugar, molasses, arrow-root, aloes, and cotton; and the amount of property annually created is estimated at more than $10,000,000. About 40,000 acres are planted only with the sugar-cane. In 1852 the amount of sugar produced was 48,785 hogsheads, valued at $3,329,000.

The island has but 4 towns, Bridgetown, Charlestown, St. James, and Speights; the first of which is the capital, and one of the gayest and handsomest towns and one of the strongest military posts in the West Indies, containing about 20,000 inhabitants. Barbadoes is more densely populated, probably, than any other spot of land in the world, excepting the island of Malta. It has at present about 145,000 inhabitants, 85,000 of whom are emancipated negroes, which gives 873 persons to a square mile.

Only about 20,000 of the whole people are white, the rest being black and mixed, 30,000 of whom were free before the general emancipation.

There are in the island 29 public schools, which are attended by 7,077 pupils. The chief of the institutions of education is Codrington college, founded by Gen. Codrington about the beginning of the last century for the propagation of Christian knowledge, and beautifully situated on the borders of the wild and hilly district called Scotland. It has an annual revenue of $16,500.—Six newspapers are published on the island, one of which, the "Barbados Mercury," has existed for over a century. There is much uncertainty about the first discovery of Barbados, but it was probably visited by the Portuguese as early as 1536. It was visited by an English ship early in the 17th century, but no permanent settlement was made till 1624, when a few adventurers from England established themselves upon it. During the period of civil wars it afforded a refuge to persons of various parties, who successively suffered persecution. In 1692, and again in 1816 and in 1825, formidable organized insurrections of the negroes took place on this island, and the abolition of slavery in the West Indies by the British parliament in 1834 was received here with perfect tranquillity. Barbados has made rapid progress both in the last and the present century, and it is now, after Jamaica, the most valuable and important of the British islands in the Carribbean sea.

RESPITE OF GORDON.—Capt. Gordon, who was sentenced a few weeks since to be hanged on Friday last, is respited for two weeks from that time. The case of Gordon is a peculiar one. The offence for which he was tried was the fourth violation of the law against the slave trade, and seemed to have been characterized by more than ordinary brutality. Unusual interest has been excited in legal and commercial circles by this case, from the fact that heretofore conviction for such a crime has been a seeming impossibility, the law being apparently a dead letter upon the statute book. Gordon seems to have entertained a strong hope of Presidential interference. Late Wednesday afternoon, while Gordon was reading an evening paper, his wife, who is a very pretty little woman of about twenty-two years of age, brought to him a telegraphic announcement of two weeks' respite. The poor woman was completely overcome with joy, and nearly fainted as she handed the glad word of relief to her imprisoned husband. He bore it, as he bears everything, with the utmost nonchalance, and evidently regarded it as but one step toward the gate of liberty for which he has so persistently struggled.

☞ It is said in intelligent circles that no answer has yet been given to the rebel flag of truce, and that the contents of the communication are not publicly known. Thus the story of the threats in case the bridge-burners in Missouri were hanged, seems very doubtful.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The New York Tribune states that, although there is no doubt that but for the skill of Mr. Hamilton E. Towle, of Exeter, the Great Eastern and all the passengers on board would have been lost, yet the captain and engineer of the steamer, Messrs Walker and Rollison, did everything they could to embarrass and defeat his undertaking, and at last endeavored to rob him of his well-earned laurels. At the request of numerous friends, Mr. Towle, upon his arrival in Cork, caused a plan of his device, with explanations, to be lithographed, for circulation among the passengers. Subsequently the captain and engineer went to the lithographer, and induced or compelled him to erase the name of Mr. Towle as the inventor of the plan and put their names in its stead, and then caused a large number of copies so falsified to be struck off and circulated. Capt. Walker and his engineer, again came near losing their vessel and all on board in an abortive attempt to prove that an invention of their own was preferable to that of the young American.

—— Rev. O. D. Miller of Nashua, who says he has been a spiritualist medium for nearly eleven years, writes to the Christian Freeman of the 31st ult., that seeing no prospect of good resulting from spiritualism, and that it has been the source of a great deal of suffering and harm to him, he has thought it his duty to renounce it. Further he enters his solemn protest against it, as fraught with much evil to the community.

—— Messrs. Gardiner & Grout of Claremont have orders from officers of the army on the Potomac for military clothing to the amount of several hundred dollars. The Claremont Eagle says Mr. Gardner having been to Washington and taken measures accordingly, the officers were suited.

—— Charles Hill of Swanzy, brakeman on a freight train, fell upon the track while attempting to get from the top of a car to the inside, last Friday evening, near Keene. The train passed over him mangling his limbs terribly, so that he died early the next morning. He was a very worthy young man, 22 or 23 years of age, and unmarried.

—— In the Supreme Judicial Court for Cheshire county, last week, five divorces were decreed,—all but one at the request of the wife.

—— A destructive fire occurred in Winchester last Monday night, destroying a sash and blind factory and a box shop and grist mill. The total loss by the fire is estimated at $7,000 or $8,000. The amount of insurance was about $3,000.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate on Thursday, a bill was introduced, and referred, to allow the corporation of Washington to issue small notes. The bill defining the pay and emoluments of officers of the army was then taken up. Mr. Sherman opposed it and moved to amend the 9th section, which reduces the salaries ten per cent., that it mightapply to all mileage fees and contingent expenses, the mileage to be computed by the most direct travelled route and the mileage of the members of Congress to be reduced fifty per cent—Mr. Nesmith commented on the hardships of getting from Oregon to Washington, saying that it cost him $3000 to get to New York with his family. He might be told that he could leave his family at home, but that would be inconvenient, and another drawback was that the laws of Oregon allowed a divorce if a man is away from his wife for a year. After further debate Mr. Sherman's amendment was adopted. An amendment reducing the mileage of the members of Congress fifty per cent., to be computed by the most direct travelled routes; (the milage of members beyond the Rocky Mountains to be computed by the most traveled route) was agreed to, —yeas 29, nays 10—including Mr. Clark of this State.

In the House the debate on the Treasury note bill was continued. The provision to make the notes a legal tender was stricken out, and a substitute offered by Mr. Stevens, of Pa., was adopted, 93 against 50.

☞ The Washington wags have got up a new "plan," which they dub "McClellan's." It is somewhat as follows: That McClellan is waiting for the Chinese population of California to increase to such a vast number that they will be able to cross the Rocky Mountains and bring up the right wing, by which time the Russian Possessions and Greenland will have a redundant population, which can be drafted down to the support of the grand left wing of the Union army—and that when those great events take place, the war will commence in earnest. This is the hotel joke now, and even McClellan listened to it the other day with good natured laughter.

☞ The gunboat Miami was spoken on Monday night, 40 miles north of Hatteras in a sinking condition and unable to make steam enough to take her into port.—The Constitution which spoke her towed her in, arriving at Fortress Monroe on Tuesday afternoon.

THE REBELLION.

The remainder of Gen. Siegel's Division stared West on Sunday morning, under Acting Brig. Gen. Color. Asboth's Division started several days since. A batch of prisoners had been captured, including a Capt. Mansfield. Rolla, Mo., is now occupied only by troops for its protection.—The roads are somewhat improved. Price, at last accounts was eight miles from Springfield, and intended to fight. The report was current at Lebanon that Price had made an ineffectual effort by three different routes to move off his baggage, but failed to accomplish his purpose. He finally assured his men that the alternative left was to fight or surrender. A special dispatch to the Missouri Democrat says:—"A messenger from Lebanon, reports that the enemy's pickets are within 30 miles of that place, and that the pickets of the Federals were within hailing distance.—Firing had taken place between them, but it was subsequently suspended, as if by mutual consent." Union refugees from the Southwest of Missouri are taking up their line of march for their homes once more.

A letter from Fortress Monroe says:—"A gentleman who has been stopping at Norfolk for some days past, and who is a Northern man, states that it was currently rumored in Norfolk when he left that the Burnside expedition had left Pamlico Sound and went South on Sunday last."

The 1st and 2d brigades of Gen. McClernand's division, 8000 strong, encamped on Wednesday evening four miles below Fort Henry. Gen. Grant returned to Paducah the same evening to bring up Smith's brigade of 7000 men. Gen. McClernand was left in command. Seven gunboats under Com. Foote were in the stream and ready. It was reported that the rebels have been strongly reinforced and rumor put Beauregard in the fort. Our troops are in the most confident spirits.

Later—Fort Henry is taken!

The following official announcement was made from headquarters at St. Louis, on Friday:—"Fort Henry is ours. The Flag of the Union is re-established on the soil of Tennessee. It will never be removed.—By command of Maj. Gen. Halleck."

The fort surrendered at 2 P. M., Thursday, after a determined resistance. The fight, which lasted an hour and twenty minutes, was conducted by the gunboats Cincinnati, Essex and St. Louis.—The Cincinnati received 34 shots but only one man was killed; the St. Louis was uninjured; the Essex was disabled by a ball striking her boiler, and 32 men were scalded to death. Capt. Porter was badly scalded, but not dangerously. Two rebel Generals, one Colonel, two Captains and 100 privates were taken prisoners. The fort mounted 17 guns. The land forces did not reach the scene of action until after the surrender. The Memphis & Ohio R. R. bridge, 15 miles above the fort, has been taken possession of by our troops.

The Burnside fleet remained inside of Hatteras Inlet, Wednesday morning. About 6000 troops had been landed. The steamer Louisiana had been got off without serious damage. It was rumored that the rebels had offered to give up Roanoke Island, on condition that Elizabeth City should not be attacked. It is said the rebel troops at Norfolk are being rapidly sent Southward as far as Mobile. Drafting will commence on the 1st of March. Beauregard is at Nashville.

The rebels evacuated Romney, Va., on Monday night.

Rebel officers at Savannah say that one of the batteries on New river had been attacked, and one of the Federal gunboats at least, destroyed.

FORT HENRY is on the rebel line of defence between Bowling Green and Columbus, and its possession by our forces cuts off communication between the two wings of the rebel army; while the Tennessee river is accessible for Union fleets to enter the very heart of the secession territory. The movement against it was a part of Gen. Buell's plan to force the rebels at Bowling Green to leave their entrenchments, and submit to an open fight.

☞ A man named White shot a little boy named Finneran, in Lawrence, Mass., on Monday. The child was annoying the workmen in a shop, when White, not knowing it was loaded, capped a gun that was close by him and fired it. Fortunately the injury done was not deadly; and the accident ought to be a warning to people not to tamper with firearms.

☞ The Senate Naval Committee are reconsidering the gunboat bill recommitted to them. They have been informed by the Navy Department that not more than ten can be built this year, hence they are in doubt what number to recommend.

☞ A barn at Williamstown, Mass., was burned on the 23d, by some snow blowing into a barrel of lime in one corner of the barn, and causing it to slake.

☞ It took eight locomotives one whole day to push a snow plow through a snow drift on the Central R. R., N. Y., recently.

☞ Ben. Wood of New York who has already achieved considerable notoriety, although of a somewhat questionable character, now appears in another part. He has turned author, and will soon publish a novel entitled "Fort Lafayette, or Love and Secession."

☞ In Mesopotamia a peculiar kind of honey is found which is said, if eaten in any considerable quantity, to make men mad, though only for a short time. The noxious quality of the honey is thought to be derived from the blossoms of the rhododendron, which is abundant there.

☞ Hon. F. O. J. Smith proposes to erect a suitable convenient brick edefice in Westbrook, Maine, as a home for aged and indigent mothers, and will also liberally endow this benevolent Institution.

☞ Thirteen years ago a milk dealer in Hartford, Conn., sold his horse. A few days ago he re-purchased the animal, which, being put on his old route, stopped at every place he was wont to do thirteen years before. Horses have excellent memories.

☞ Gurden Pendleton of Stonington, Conn., an alleged secessionist, one of the "shoot down the first man that dares arrest me" sort, was arrested on Monday, took the oath of allegiance with great gladness, and was discharged.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, tho' it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahneman, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc., etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curatives for family use are getting to be almost as common as babies in a house, and every family should have one.—a case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq., and corner State and Pleasant-sts., Portsmouth; M. S. BURR & CO., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. PHILLIPS, wholesale, Portland, Me.; or sent anywhere by BALLOT VS. CHRONICLE.

That isn't the only thing connected with the Chronicle which the Ballot man can't see into—(though it is not to be expected that a man would appreciate a joke at his own expense,)—he never could account for the Chronicle establishment succeeding and flourishing so well—but we will tell him that the chief secret was in the publisher's minding his own business, and letting other people's alone!

"His rejoinder on our jack-knife allusion is probably witty, but we are so short-sighted that we can't see the point."—Ballot.

Perhaps so—but its the first p'int brought within his range of view lately, that the Ballot man couldn't see, we guess.

"A Chronic pun, which the junior editor of the Chronicle has an exclusive Franking privilege on, is this—Ballot, Bawl at! Is anybody laughing?"—Ballot.

To this standing question of the Ballot man, we answer, yes, we know a man, who if not a subject of his prayers, has several times (with that courtesy and consideration due a fair rival in business) been mentioned in his false prophecies, as certain of failure in his enterprise—but who "laughs" as he steadily "wins," despite the impotent braying of envious animals whose organs of hearing are so much longer than those of vision, that they ought to hear their repeated lessons of experience better than they see "things present or things to come."

☞ The Chronicle having stated that it had the list of old folks about ready for publication,—our neighbor of the Journal took the wind out of our sails a little, by cutting in and publishing before us, a list like ours so far as it went—which, the editor states he had on hand for a year or so, but "as he saw a ljst was about to be published, he gave this to assist in making it accurate!" How kind in him! and yet,since the Chronicle was established with a view to render the Journal more complete and attractive, perhaps this tit for tat is no more than fair. At any rate, we have not the least objections to it—and only refer to it as a neat specimen of "sharp practice," which might reasonably be expected from common worldly editors, but surprised some folks when coming from the immaculate Journal.

Further, our only remaining city cotemporary states that it "did not intend to give the list in full, as some people do not care to have their ages known," &c.; and then offers the old excuse, "if I didn't, somebody else would."

☞ By a recent order from the Navy Department Commandants of Yards will direct a competent and trustworthy person to examine the bills of articles made under open purchase, and, in case the articles are not stated at the lowest market price, the person so directed will inquire of at least two respectable dealers in the articles specified their lowest market price of such articles; and the Commandant of Yards will satisfy themselves that the articles are stated at the lowest market prices, before they approve the bills. Under this order Capt. Lyman D. Spalding, of this city, has been directed by Com. Pearson for the purpose above stated.

☞ On Thursday, Feb. 7, 1861, the thermometer at noon, was at 42 degrees—rain was falling, and the streets were sloppy. About 3 o'clock P. M., the wind changed fr m the south-west to the north-west, and in the evening the mercury had descended 45 degrees—being 3 below zero; while the wind blew a gale. And what a fall was there on Saturday morning, when the mercury marked 23 below zero! Only once before, for fifty years had the descent been so low in this city. At noon of that day, the mercury stood at 12 below,—unequalled in the history of the town.

FIRE.—On Tuesday morning last, at 2 o'clk, Mr. Langdon Whidden was awakened by the noise of the cattle in his barn.—It was discovered to be on fire. The stock was at once rescued, but the barn (built nearly on the spot on which one was consumed three years ago) was burnt, with the contents: about thirteen tons of hay, carriages, sleighs, harnesses, etc. It was insured in the Home Insurance Co. for $1600. It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

SUNDAY SERVICES.—Mr. James De Normandie will preach at the Unitarian Church, to-morrow.

There will be a public lecture in the Universalist Church, in the evening, commencing at half past seven,—and on each succeeding Sunday evening until further notice.

☞ In the list of officers of the Kearsarge, published last week, the name of William Harper Yeaton, the senior Master's Mate, was omitted. He is from Stratham

☞ The Gymnasium on Market street is being appreciated with renewed interest, and has many zealous attendants.

☞ In addition to the $64,311.50 received by Mr. Samuel Lord, as subscribed to the popular loan in this city, some subscriptions have been made by our citizens at Boston, and at other Banks in Portsmouth. Mr. Pickering, cashier of the Rockingham Bank, received and paid $30,500 for stock in this loan.

☞ There are no critics of a newspaper so severe as deadheads—who steal their reading, if they don't the newspapers themselves. And there are none whose criticisms are entitled to and receive so little regard.

☞ "Virtue, not rolling suns, the mind matures"—as is exemplified by the silly aversion some few old people have to their ages being known. Nevertheless old Time is not to be cheated.

☞ The order of Secretary Chase, directing the payment of the coupons of the 19th of August, 7-30 bonds, in New York, will be so far modified as to make them payable also, by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, and by the Assistant Treasurers at Boston and Philadelphia.

☞ The N. Y. Commercial's Washington dispatch states that Gen. Lane writes that he will remain in Kansas until he hears from the War Department. It is believed that the matter will be amicably arranged.

☞ Mr. Parker, Consul to Honolulu, who is now in Washington, says agents have been sent to England to hypothecate to that country the entire group of the Sandwich Islands.

☞ The Boston Post says the rebels considered a bayonet charge by Federalists a splendid joke. They went off at Mill Springs fast enough when they saw the point.

THE NEW-HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE and Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, published Thursday, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room. Price 3 cents. Only $1 per year, in advance.

☞ Having made arrangements for furnishing good custom-made BOOTS and SHOES for the people; also for all kinds of repairing in the same line, an invitation is extended to all who are in need of something good to wear to call at No. 6 MARKET SQUARE. D. R. AMBROSE.

Save Your Gas!!
A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.
It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.
The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.
Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.
Wood's Patent Carcel Burners
are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.
Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be guaged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.
PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.
Among the more recent inventions are
Orne's Patent
FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,
A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.
These burners are furnished with
SCHWARZ'
PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS
Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.
Price 50 cents each.
COLE'S COMET BURNER,
A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.
PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.
Boys' and Girls' Sleds,
Snow Shovels, Skates.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Models, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished, by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.—The bulk of our readers desire their papers early; and those whose premises are not open till late, run much risk of having their papers stolen, blown away, or spoiled by storms, unless they have a drop-box out for them in some door or shutter.

Our Carriers are expected to open every unfastened door at subscribers' residences, and place the paper inside; if door not unfastened, then to deposit paper in the safest place without,—and always to ring the bell, or knock. At stores, when open, to place the paper on the counter; when shut, in the best place outside. Any loss of papers, on account of failure to comply with these rules, we will make good; but when we are convinced that the paper has once been (thus delivered, we cannot furnish second copies.

Carriers are not allowed to employ other boys to deliver any of their papers—and for information of any instances of such breach of trust, and violation of orders, we shall be much obliged to our subscribers.

☞ The London Times continues its denunciations of the stone blockade, and asserts that the project against Boulogne in 1804 was a far different thing, having been designed to shut in a hostile fleet.

☞ It is probable a hundred thousand dollars worth of powder has been fired from the rebel batteries on the Potomac, without injuring any one of the passing vessels.

☞ Gen. Scott has abandoned the idea of going to Key West, and will not leave New York for some time to come. The story about his mission to Mexico is "bosh."—Boston Herald.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES
FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.
We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive prompt attention, and the very article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

Advertising.
For a Square (14 inches) or less, one insertion 50 cents, three insertions $1, one week $1.50, one month $3, three months $7, six months $8, one year $15. These are Daily rates—and no advertisements receive more than one insertion in the Weekly (Gazette) without special order and charge.
Funeral Notices, and Advertisements of articles Lost and Found, &c., 50 cents.
Advertisements may appear both in the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, if ordered; and will thus receive the most thorough circulation both in this city and vicinity, and throughout the State. ☞ Liberal terms for yearly advertising.

☞ The President has approved of the bill authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to strike from the pension rolls the names of all who have taken up arms against the Government, or aided and abetted the rebellion,—several pensioners having been proved rebels or sympathizers with them.

When Lunardi went up in a balloon from Edinburgh, and alighted near a clergyman's door in Fifeshire, he said to the clergyman: —"We have been at the gate of heaven since we went up." The clergyman replied:—"Then it is a pity you did not go in; you may never be so near again."

☞ The duty on sugar has started up the maple-sugar makers, all over the country, and there will be an enormous crop of the article next month. Some $40,000 worth of utensils for the purpose have just been purchased in Chicago.

Ralph Waldo Emerson thinks that the American Eagle will come out of the war much less of a peacock. This is hopeful, surely. We shall become more natural, more simple in our lives and habits; truer, wiser, and, therefore, more soundly happy.

☞ The Committee on Ways and Means are reminded that Swift proposed to put a tax on female beauty, and to leave every lady to rate her own charms. He said the tax would be cheerfully paid and be very productive.

☞ Washington and the Prince consort died in the same month, and on the same day of the month, and about the same hour in the evening—14th December—1799 and 1861. This is a very curious coincidence.

☞ The State Auditor of Iowa reports twenty-four county treasurers in default, to the total amount of $70,075. The largest amount is Dubuque county, $13,819.

☞ The last million of dollars which bade farewell to the Treasury was sent by Mr. Chase to Kentucky for the needy troops who are fighting the enemy.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1862.

MAINE AND ENGLAND.—On the 29th of January, Senator Granger, by leave introduced in the Maine Senate the following resolution:

Resolved, That the letter of the Hon. William H. Seward, Secretary of State of the United States, to his Excellency Gov. Washburn, in reference to the passage of British troops over the soil of Maine, is entirely satisfactory to the Legislature; and that the Governor be requested to communicate a copy of this resolve to the Hon. Secretary of State of the United States.

On the day after its introduction it elicited an interesting discussion, in which several Senators took part, showing nearly an unanimous opinion in favor of its spirit and substance, the difference of views relating chiefly to some of its phraseology. It was laid on the table, and taken up on Saturday, when it was passed by a vote of 17 to 5, the nays objecting only to one or two words in the Resolution. This action of the Senate, after this delay for consideration, shows that Maine wishes peace with England, and also that her people are not much frightened.

☞ The two-thirds vote which expelled Mr. Bright of Indiana from the U. S. Senate, was not strictly a party or sectional vote but a National. Ten Eyck of New Jersey, Harris of New York, and Cowan of Pennsylvania, republicans, voted not to expel him, while Johnson of Tennessee, Wilson of Missouri, and Davis of Kentucky, voted to turn him out.

The evidence against Bright was his letter to Jeff. Davis, written March 1, 1861, introducing to him a man who had an improvement in fire arms!

A partisan and advocate of Bright says, "the real offence of Senator Bright is that he has consistently opposed the policy of coercing the South as unconstitutional and likely to be productive only of a permanent division of the country."

Putting these two things together, says Uncle Toby, Senator Bright's platform seems to be this: It was all right and constitutional for the rebels to use improved fire-arms—but all wrong for the United States Government and people to use any arms at all! They may coerce us, but we must not coerce them.

Senator Bright and his followers virtually say to the rebels:—you may rule the whole country as you please, by your armed force,—while we shall neither coerce you nor let any body else.

Two-thirds of the Senate are against this policy—and nine-tenths of all New England go with them.

THE TREASURY NOTE BILL, which has passed the House,—provides for the issue of $150,000,000, in notes not less than $5 each, which shall be receivable in payment of all taxes, duties, imposts, excise, debts and demands of every kind due to the United States, and for all salaries and demands owing by the United States to individuals, corporations and associations within the United States, and shall be lawful money and a legal tender in the payment of all debts, public and private, within the United States.

These notes, in lots not less than $50, are exchangeable for bonds of the United States bearing 6 per cent. interest at 20 years or 7 per cent. bonds at 5 years. To enable the Secretary of the Treasury to fund the Treasury notes and floating debt of the United States, he is authorized to issue on the credit of the U. S., coupon or registered bonds not exceeding $500,000,000 and redeemable at the pleasure of the Government after twenty years from date and bearing interest at 6 per cent.

☞ Gen. Case has over three hundred acres which, though they lie within the limits of the city of Detroit, have no houses or stores built upon them. For this property he was taxed on a valuation of over $200,000. His man of business objected, but, when he went before the assessors to make his objection good, he found a land-broker present, who offered him $400,000 in cash for the property, and had a large sum of money in his hand as a proof that he meant what he said. As the land will be worth to the General's grandchildren three or four times the amount, the offer was declined and the taxes paid.

☞ Delaware has, according to the census of 1860, eighteen hundred and five slaves, and the sum asked of Congress for their gradual emancipation amounts to five hundred dollars a head, which is a fair price. The Wilmington Republican says that many of the largest slaveholders are in favor of this bill, and that "many of the slaveholders would gladly exchange their slaves for money, which they could use in payment for their lands and contemplated improvements."

☞ It will surprise some people when we state that Cairo is about fifty miles further south than Richmond, Va., and full sixty miles further south than Louisville, Ky

THE REBELLION.

The capture of Fort Henry is an event highly important in itself, and one of great consequence in reference to future results. The official report of Flag Officer Foote says:—

We have taken Gen. Lloyd Tilghman and his staff, with sixty men prisoners. The surrender to the gunboat fleet was unconditional, as we kept an open fire upon them until their flag was struck. In half an hour after the surrender I handed the fort and prisoners over to Gen. Grant, commanding the army, on his arrival at the fort in force. The fort, with 20 guns and 17 mortars, was defended by Gen. Tilghman with the most determined gallantry. I will write as soon as possible. I have sent Lieut. Phelps and 3 gunboats after the rebel gunboats.

After the surrender, it was found that the rebel infantry, encamped outside the fort, numbering four or five thousand, had cut and run, leaving the rebel artillery company in command of the fort. Most of the guns of the fort were 32 and 34-pounders, one being a magnificent 10-inch columbiad. The rebels lost 5 killed and 10 badly wounded. The infantry left everything in their flight. A vast deal of plunder has fallen into our hands, including a large and valuable quantity of ordnance stores.

Gen. Smith on the West, and Gen. Grant on the East side of Tennessee River are pursuing the retreating rebels. It is reported, and is credited by some of our officers, that the rebel troops at Fort Henry were not true to the rebel cause, and took advantage of the opportunity offered by an attack to run away from a fight that was distasteful to them.

An expedition sailed from Port Royal for the South on the 26th ult., including all the light draft steamers, several gunboats, and several thousand troops. Everything was quiet at Port Royal.

Gen. Lander has re occupied Romney, Va., from which place he retreated a short time since, on the approach of the rebel General Jackson with a superior force.

On the 3d inst, about fifty of the vessels of the Burnside expedition had got over the bar, and it was expected that operations would be commenced in a day or two, by an attack on the enemy's forces on Roanoke island. The island is said to be fortified by the rebels on the southern, western and eastern shores. Ex-Gov. Wise is said to be in command of a force of 5,000 men in the vicinity.

☞ The Tribune's dispatch says the difficulties in Col. Berdan's regiment will be settled by a removal of the Colonel, the arming of the men with Colt's rifles and revolvers and the sending them to the front.

Gen. Burnside's fleet started for Roanoke Island on Wednesday, the gunboats leaving at sunrise, and the troops and ships soon after. Three or four regiments remain at the Inlet.

The Norfolk Day Book censures the rebel newspapers for giving publicity to the statement that the Merrimac is a failure,—It claims that the injury, which was occasioned by an error in the calculation in regard to displacement, is by no means irreparable.

Com. Dupont has prohibited all communication between Port Royal and the North, as the correspondents of the press have materially aided in foiling many of his plans; and no steamers or sailing vessels will be allowed to leave until all his plans are perfected. The expedition to Savannah, which is reported to have been greatly exaggerated, has returned.

A week since the staff of Gen. McClellan were notified to be in readiness for a movement across the Potomac. In consequence of the state of the roads they have not yet been ordered over, but they are ready to go.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Friday, a majority of the Judiciary Committee reported that Mr. Stark of Oregon is entitled to his seat. An adverse minority report was also presented. A vote of thanks to Com. Dupont and his associates in the battle of Port Royal was passed. The treasury note bill, passed by the House on Thursday, was received and referred to the Committee on Finance. The bill appropriating ten million dollars for the construction of twenty iron clad gunboats was passed.—The report of the Naval Committee on the Morgan purchases was debated and postponed. A bill authorizing the issue of ten million dollars in demand notes was passed—also, the Civil Appropriation bill.

In the House, a provision inadvertently inserted in the treasury note bill, providing for the payment of the interest on bonds in coin, was stricken out. Both Houses adjourned to Monday.

☞ The Times' dispatch says letters from Tennessee state that a great reaction has taken place there since the victory at Somerset. Even in the Eastern part of the State the Union men can now express their sentiments without molestation.

☞ The London correspondent of the N. Y. Commercial says the agents of the large New York importing houses abroad will immediately commence purchases on a tolerably large scale.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Keene Sentinel states that the letter written by Col. Cross, of the N. H. 5th Regiment, to Hon. T. M. Edwards, in relation to the discharge of a volunteer soldier from that regiment, was sent to them some time since. Its editor, however, did not publish it, having learned on inquiry that Mr. Edwards merely discharged a simple duty, which he owed to one of his constituents, the father of the young man, who, the Sentinel states, was a minor, and was "enlisted against the consent of both his parents, and under very improper influences. When a knowledge of the facts came to the War Department, certified to under oath, young Very (of Swanzey) was promptly discharged—the law requiring the written consent of parents where minors are enlisted. The papers for Very's discharge were all made out in this State and properly sworn to, and both the War Department and our Representative had no other course to pursue than to act upon them as they did."

—— A bullet was extracted from the arm of Capt. Chas. Holmes, of Contoocookville, a few days since, which he received in the battle at Bull Run. He was a Sergeant in the 2d Regiment, and was appointed a Captain in the regular army because of his gallant bearing at Bull Run. The bullet entered his shoulder, but the surgeon fearing a permanent injury to the joint, did not extract it. Recently, however, symptoms of lockjaw having appeared, it was determined to extract the ball. The operation was of an exceedingly tedious character, the patient being under the influence of ether four hours. The bullet was found to be imbedded in the bone, and had worked its way down the arm some distance from its original position.

—— Died in Orfordville, Dec. 27, 1861, of diptheria, after a sickness of only three days, Rev. Luther B. Whittemore, of the Congregational Church, aged 37. He leaves a widow and four children. He preached as usual all day the Sabbath previous to his death on Friday.

—— In Wolfborough there are forty-four persons living, the sum of whose ages amounts to 3694 years. Average, nearly 84 years.

—— The Fourth N. H. Regiment has completed a heavy job of shoveling at Port Royal. A few days since, on inspection, Col. Whipple discovered one of the soldiers' guns in not the best of order. Said the Colonel, "Don't appear on inspection again with your gun in such condition." "Colonel, I know the gun ain't jest right, but I have got the brightest shovel over on the intrenchments you ever saw," replied the soldier.

☞ In 1776 the commander of the British forces at Savannah, Georgia, sunk six large vessels there, to block up the entrance of Front River, as a protection against the French and American fleets. They found a very bad bar of mud and sand, reducing the channel to 2 feet in depth at mean low tide, and forcing the water to other outlets. They were there till 1852-3,—when the U. S. Congress appropriated $40,000 to clean them out.

☞ The papers stolen from the room of Mr. William A Chase, at a boarding house in Boston, Tuesday night, have been recovered as mysteriously as they were stolen.—Thursday forenoon a person rang the door-bell of the house, and handed to the person who answered it a package, and suddenly left. The package was opened and found to contain all the papers taken from Mr. Chase.

Tom Sayers and a circus manager were followed through the streets of Liverpool, on a recent day, by an excited crowd, who supposed them to be Mason and Slidell.—Such is fame.—Boston Post.

Does the Post refer to the "fame" of Tom Sayers, or of Mason and Slidell? If the latter, our friend "had better look out," if at any time Tom Sayers is announced as having arrived in this country.

☞ The Virginia correspondent of the Charleston Courier says "that out of the Fifth South Carolina Regiment, numbering eight hundred men, whose term of service is about expiring, but one hundred and seventy have signified their willingness to enlist 'for the war.'"

☞ Mr. A. A. Turner, a photographic artist, has invented a process for taking photographs of natural objects on stone, the prints from which possess all the correctness that is found in photographs, combined with a finer finish than is obtained by the common lithographic process.

CIVILIZATION.—If the English journals consider the destruction of Charleston harbor as an offence against civilization, what will they say to the proposition of Cobb and Toombs to the people of Georgia to destroy that whole State, rather than submit to the Federal Government?

☞ The postal receipts for letters carried during the last quarter of 1861 are but little less than during the same period the year before, when the mails went all over the Union. The cost of transportation is $3,000,000 less.

NAVAL.—The naval rendezvous in New Bedford is still open. The whole number of persons enlisted in the nine months the office has been open, is 1737; of these 480 enlisted as seamen, 854 as ordinary seamen, 387 as landsmen, and 16 boys. There are a great many boys ready to enlist, but the Government does not receive them at present.

The Senate Naval Committee have agreed to report a joint resolution to restore Chas. G. Hunter to the active list.—He is under orders to assume command of the Montgomery, now in the Gulf.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

IN HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, June 28, 1861.

Resolved, That the bill entitled "An act to repeal all laws providing for the settlement of paupers, and for their support by the several counties, or by cities, towns or places other than those in which they dwell," be postponed to the next regular session of the Legislature, and that the same be published three weeks successively, in February next, in all the newspapers of this State authorized to publish the laws thereof.

Attest: EDWARD SAWYER, Clerk.

IN THE YEAR OF OUR LORD EIGHTEEN HUNDRED AND SIXTY-ONE.

AN ACT to repeal all laws providing for the settlement of paupers, and for their support by the several counties, or by cities, towns or places other than those in which they dwell.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened:

SECTION 1. That all laws providing for the gaining of settlements by paupers, and all settlements gained under those laws; all laws requiring counties to support paupers not having a settlement in any city, town or place in this state, and all laws requiring cities, towns and places, other than those in which they dwell, to support persons poor and unable to support themselves, shall be and hereby are repealed; and hereafter, when any person is poor and unable to support himself, he shall be supported by the city, town or place in which he resides; and such city, town or place shall have no claim to recover the expense of such support of any county, or of any other city, town or place; but in case such poor person has relatives of sufficient ability, the expense of such support may be recovered of them as now by law provided.

Sec. 2. If any person shall bring or leave, or bring with intent to leave, any poor and indigent person having no visible means of support, into any city, town or place in this state, from any other city, town or place in which such poor person may have resided or have been supported, knowing him to be thus poor and indigent, with intent to change the burden of the support of such poor and indigent person from one city, town or place to another, he shall be punished by fine, not exceeding two hundred dollars, nor less than thirty dollars, to the use of the city, town or place into which such poor and indigent person may be brought, or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by both of said punishments at the discretion of the Court before whom the conviction may be had.

Sec. 3. Every such poor and indigent person may be removed from the city, town or place into which he may have been brought, back to the city, town or place from which he was brought, by order of the Supreme Judicial Court for the county in which the city, town or place is situated into which he may have been brought.

Attest, 1180 EDWARD SAWYER, Clerk.

SOCIABLES,

The Press, the Clergy and the People,

IN THE TEMPLE, PORTSMOUTH,

On THURSDAY EVENING, Feb. 13.

On this occasion MR. DODGE will be assisted

—by—

WILLIAM HAYWARD,

who is justly styled by the leading critics of New York and Boston as the only Balladist America ever produced,

Doors open at 6½. Concert to commence at 7½.

After an absence from public life of nearly eight years, in the romantic wilds of the far West, Mr. D returns, with new songs and new energy, to his first love—his dear New England Home—to make a last farewell flying visit to the long tried and dearly cherished friends of his boyhood—then to retire, forever, from public life. That his New England friends may never remember this visit as joyfully as himself, is the sincere and earnest wish of his heart.

Owing to future engagements, but one concert will be given, and with this there will be no postponement, let the weather be what it may.

For further particulars see programme, one of which will be left at every house within a mile and twenty rods of the Hall. feb7 6t

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, tho' it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahneman, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc., etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curatives for family use are getting to be about as common as babies in a house, and every family should have one,—a case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq., and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. Burnham & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. PHILLIPS, wholesale, Portland, Me; or sent anywhere by Local.

☞ The Secretary of the Navy has authorized the shipment of a crew especially for the U. S. ship Constellation, now lying at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, and Capt. Thacher, Lieut. Lowe and Dr. Messersmith accordingly opened a rendezvous in Boston on Saturday.

☞ It will be seen, by reference to his advertisement, that Mr. James K. Medbery announces that he will open in this city an English and Classical School for both sexes, should sufficient encouragement be given. Mr. Medbery is well known to many of our citizens, and would, we doubt not, prove a faithful and competent instructor.

LONGEVITY IN PORTSMOUTH, N. H.—The Portsmouth Chronicle—a smart enterprising paper, by the way—publishes the names and ages of 300 persons in that city who have arrived at the age of three score and ten.—Boston Courier.

SINGULAR CASE.—A girl named Christania Follett, living in the family of Thos. Prince, in Waldo, Me., suddenly disappeared on the 23d of last month. One week afterwards she was found in an untenanted house in Belfast, nearly dead from cold and hunger. Her legs were badly frozen, and her whole body was completely chilled and benumbed. By the application of snow water the frost was gradually removed, but it is supposed both legs will have to be amputated. She is said to be subject to fits of derangement, and two years ago attempted to drown herself.

☞ The scarcity of coffee in the Southern States has led to the adoption in part of substitutes for the berry. The Charleston Courier recommends a preparation of cotton seed. It states that when used alone "the aroma is very like that of coffee, and in flavor it is also similar, but rather more like broma." A mixture of one-half coffee and the rest ground cotton seed, it is said, "would easily pass for good, if not pure coffee."

☞ A local correspondent of the Norfolk Day Book writes a complaining article relative to the recent escape of slaves from that city. He says these escapes are made through the instrumentality of secret societies in Norfolk, who hold their meetings weekly and in open day. He estimates the value of the slaves recently escaped at twenty thousand dollars.

☞ The Boston Journal's Washington correspondent says there are indications that Congress will authorize the issue of nine hundred thousand dollars in bonds, payable in ten yearly installments, for the compensated emancipation of slaves in Delaware, as proposed by the Legislature of that State.

Adj. Gen. Thomas has sent an order to Gen. Dix, directing him to muster out of service and discharge about a hundred Massachusetts men, who were induced to go to Baltimore and enlist in a company falsely represented as "Engineers," with $17 a month and extra rations. No volunteer engineers or sappers and miners, are recognized at the War Department.—Bos. Cour.

☞ Capt. Charles Hale of Newburyport, of ship Star of Peace, of Boston, died in London on the 20th ult. He was a thorough officer and a man highly esteemed in all the relations of life.

A queer looking customer inserted his head into an auction store, and looking gravely at the knight of the hammer, inquired, "Can I bid, sir?" "Certainly," replied the auctioneer, "you can bid." "Well, then," said the wag, walking off, "I bid you good night."

☞ Special despatches from Washington state that it is doubtful if the legal tender clause passes the Senate. The Ways and Means Committee will probably report a tax bill this week.

The local editor of the Richmond Enquirer recently visited Batimore, and passed the Federal lines without any difficulty. He represents that fully nine-tenths of the people of the State and of the city of Baltimore are earnest sympathizers with the Southern views.

☞ A writer in a Portland paper says: "We know John Neal to be the greatest poet in America. . . Milton never saw the time when he could produce a picture so terribly grand as John Neal's Niagara!" The "hub" even has hardly equalled that.

"Kratisalektrononralation" is a new word just introduced in Boston. The joke of it is that nobody knows what it means, save the person who coined it, and he is afraid he will forget it.

☞ The War Department has ordered that all the Union soldiers released from the rebel dungeons, shall receive full pay and commutation of rations for the whole time of their imprisonment.

To the Dutch the ladies of all nations are indebted for the invention of the thimble. The Dutch achieved this great invention about the year 1690.

THE CONDUCT OF THE WAR.—A Washington dispatch says Gen. McClellan will turn over to the charge of Mr. Stanton the control of the whole army, with the exception of the army of the Potomac. When Gen. Scott went to Mexico he pursued a similar course, thus leaving himself free to attend to the more important matter in hand.

☞ Postmasters have been instructed by the P. O. Department to mail without prepayment of postage all letters written by sailors or marines in active service, and properly certified,—thus extending to them the same privileges as had already been extended to the soldiers. This privilege does not extend to commissioned officers. Letters addressed to sailors and marines must be prepaid.

☞ The 14th Maine Regiment, the Mass. 4th Battery, the 1st Maine Battery, and the 2d Vermont Battery sailed from Boston on Saturday morning last. 300 horses and a large amount of stores have also been placed on shipboard. They form a portion of Gen. Butler's expedition. It is probable that the N. H. Eighth Regiment, and one Regiment from each of the states of Massachusetts, Maine and Vermont will join it.

☞ A few nights since, during the prevalence of a heavy gale, an attempt was made by the prisoners in the jail at Bennington, Vt., to burn the building in which they were confined. The great body of snow upon the roofs of the building alone prevented it. None of the prisoners escaped, though at one time it appeared highly probable that both the jail and adjoining hotel would be destroyed.

THE NEW-HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE and Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, published Thursday, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room. Price 8 cents. Only $1 per year, in advance.

☞ Having made arrangements for furnishing good custom-made BOOTS and SHOES for the people; also for all kinds of repairing in the same line, an invitation is extended to all who are in need of something good to wear to call at No. 6 MARKET SQUARE. D. R. AMBROSE.

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

The Latest Invention.

Patented June 25, 1861.

This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be once in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.

Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed, affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'

PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

Something New

THE HOUSE-WIFE'S FRIEND and COOK STOVE COMPANION; a very neat and useful little article for removing pans from the Ovens, opening the Stove doors, removing the covers, &c.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.—The bulk of our readers desire their papers early; and those whose premises are not open till late, run much risk of having their papers stolen, blown away, or spoiled by storms, unless they have a drop-box cut for them in some door or shutter.

Our Carriers are expected to open every unfastened door at subscribers' residences, and place the paper inside; if door not unfastened, then to deposit paper in the safest place without,—and always to ring the bell, or knock. At stores, when open, to place the paper on the counter; when shut, in the best place outside. Any loss of papers, on account of failure to comply with these rules, we will make good; but when we are convinced that the paper has once been thus delivered, we cannot furnish second copies.

Carriers are not allowed to employ other boys to deliver any of their papers—and for information of any instance of such breach of rule, and violation of orders, we shall be much obliged to our subscribers.

DECEMBER, &c., ETC.

Sweet Susie Brown! my pretty one!
I'm sure you must remember—
If not for love, at least for fun—
The sleigh-ride in December;
When all the belles and all the beaux,
In spite of frosts would go forth,
And squeeze beneath the buffaloes,
Each here' hath, &c.

How brightly streamed the northern lights
How pleasant were the wintry nights,
Observed from country bridges;
Where "toll" is sought with such address,
'Mid laughter, fun and flattery;
And lovers feel, amid the press,
Each other's hearts, etc.

'Tis very singular and queer,
Of all the mad devices,
Love's flame should burn so bright and clear
On ice formed of ices;
And yet we know its flame, indeed,
Most brilliantly will glow forth,
When fanned behind a flying steed,
Hid under furs, &c.

I'm sure you mind the village inn,
The supper and the revel;
How in the general dire sad din,
Love shot his darkest level.
And don't forget how Harry Kidd
Embraced you in the buttery;
You head his lips—you know you did—
And he kissed yours, etc.

And when the forfeits all were paid,
How one old maid resisted,
Until the younger ladies said
A prude they all detested;
"Decist!" she cried—the ancient Ann—
Her modesty to show forth,
"I'll never yield to any man
My virgin lips," &c.

The wintry winds, the homeward way,
Blew chilly in our faces;
But underneath our furs we lay,
All snugly in our places;
One girl, upon the forward seat—
The pretty Nelly Satterse—
Declared Jack Frost had pinched her cheek,
And Billy Frost, etc.

(The buffloes, not her dresses,)
Fair Patience, with attendant Job—
Detected in caresses,
Sprang up with angry blushing face,
Her innocence to show forth,
Butchowned her curls were out of place,
Her collar gone, &c.

And then the parting at the door!
Its tender, mutual bliss!
Sweet lips, from their abundant store,
Gave to the poor—in kisses!
'The parting word—the long embrace—
Cupid's most dangerous witchery,
Brought fire to many a boyish face,
And raised sweet hopes, etc.

Dear Susie Brown, save you and I,
Of all that load of merriment,
No other pair are left to try
Love's latest best experiment;
And when the coming snows shall spread,
Our mutual hopes shall glow forth,
May Hymen bless our nuptial bed,
Increase our joys, &c.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct; as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

Advertising.

For a Square (14 inches) or less, one insertion 50 cents, three insertions $1, one week $1.50, one month $3, three months $6, six months $8, one year $15. These are Daily rates—and no advertisements receive more than one insertion in the Weekly (Gazette) without special order and charge.

Funeral Notices, and Advertisements of articles Lost and Found, &c., 50 cents.

Advertisements may appear both in the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, if ordered; and will thus receive the most thorough circulation both in this city and vicinity, and throughout the State. ☞ Liberal terms for yearly advertising.

The doctrine that the African races were destined by Divine Providence to be hewers of wood and drawers of water to the more civilized peoples—in a word, that involuntary servitude is, perhaps, the lot best adapted to their lower organization, is stealthily finding its way over from the Southern States of America and creeping into shelter among ourselves. Such organs as the Saturday Review and the London Review scruple not, by their tone of writing, to give countenance to the slave theory, or at any rate, to the physiological assumptions upon which it rests, in all the references they make to the subject. It looks as though the planting interest were feeling its way back to the British mind, and insinuating its notions and sentiments into every accessible channel of public opinion. The overflow of the Southern element occasioned by the upheavings of the civil war, appears to be already leaving a deposit in quarters in which we should, not long since, have blushed to look for it. If we do not take heed we shall require another Clarkson and Wilberforce amongst us. British Nonconformist.

☞ The inhabitants of Warren and Chelsea, Ill., are much excited at the appearance of a malady called the "jerks," apparently caused by a religious excitement. In the fall of 1860, much interest was manifested at a series of protracted meetings held by Rev. Henry Will and wife. By and by a young lady, about fifteen years old, became attacked with a strange twitching of the muscles, which settled into a continued jerking.—Very soon others of a similar age were likewise affected, although the religious excitement had subsided. Medicine has afforded no permanent relief. In many cases the paroxysms resemble an epileptic fit, but in most cases they are nondescript—A number of the persons afflicted have exhibited plain manifestations of mental aberrations. The people recently held a public meeting, and appointed a committee of investigation, but nothing satisfactory was attained.

Jones and Brown were talking lately of a young clergyman whose preaching they had heard that day. The sermon was like a certain man mentioned in a certain biography—"very poor and very pious." "What do you think of him?" asked Brown. "I think," said Jones, "he did much better two years ago." "Why, he didn't preach then," said Brown. "True," said Jones, "that is what I mean."

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1862.

GOVERNOR PLUMER.

It is a curious fact, that the late Gov. Plumer's first article published in "the papers," was paid for by himself to the printer.

His first publication in the newspapers, for which he afterwards wrote so much, was made February 18th, in the year 1782, in the New Hampshire Gazette, printed in Portsmouth. It was on a branch of the great subject of religion, which had long occupied so largely his attention; not, however, on the peculiarities of religious doctrine, but on the rights of conscience, and the protection of religious freedom.

The article related to the new Constitution, then under contemplation. One of its clauses declared that "Every individual has a natural and unalienable right to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience and reason." Yet, as a sort of compromise between the new spirit of freedom and the old intolerance, "the protection of the law" for this "unalienable right" was, by another article, confined to "Christians;" leaving all others out of the pale of such protection. By other clauses it was provided, that no person should hold the office of governor, councillor, senator, delegate, or member of Congress, unless he were of the "Protestant religion." It was in opposition to these intolerant restrictions, and in defence of religious liberty, that this first essay was written. In it, the broad principle is laid down, that all men are equally entitled to the protection of the laws, who demean themselves peaceably, as good members of civil society, without reference to their religious opinions; and, that any man should be eligible to office who possesses the ability necessary for the discharge of its duties.

This communication, which went the full length, not of toleration merely, but of religious freedom, as now understood by its most liberal advocates, was far in advance of the times. "The printer," (says the Gov.,) "thinking the religion of the country required such a provision as I opposed, refused to publish what I had written, until I paid him three dollars for doing it." The articles of the Constitution, thus opposed, were adopted by the people, and still remain a part of that instrument. Such, however, was the justice of his strictures, and such the advance of public sentiment on this subject, that these provisions soon became practically obsolete. Men, not Protestants, nor even Christians, have been repeatedly chosen to offices which, under these provisions, they were not entitled to hold; and no attempt was ever made to exclude them on the ground of this religious disqualification.

These and other amendments of the Constitution being still before the people, he wrote another address, which was published in 1783, and brought the matter before the town of Epping, in September of that year, as chairman of a committee, in a written report made on the subject. The Constitution, as amended, did not go into operation till June 10th, 1784.

In March, 1783, he was chosen one of the selectmen of Epping, and his first public employment was in the humble, but not unimportant offices of his adopted town, whose affairs he managed with prudence and sagacity for many years, much to the satisfaction of his townsmen. "We will hold the candle, squire, and you must do the work," was the remark of one of his colleagues, indicating, not untruly, the relation in which they stood towards each other, and which, as he put forward no pretensions, they willingly acknowledged.

As a sample of the moderate emoluments of those times, it may be mentioned, that he charged three shillings a day for his services, and half that sum for half a day; and this, too, when the pay was in town orders, at a discount of from twenty-five to fifty per cent. He never, however, regarded as lost or misapplied the time devoted to these services. They made him acquainted with the people, gave him business habits, and prepared him for more important duties.

This first official appointment raised in his mind, or rather brought to a practical decision in his own case, the question as to the lawfulness and propriety of taking official or other oaths. He considered this appeal to the Deity, in the ordinary transactions of life, as unnecessary and improper. "Swear not at all," was his text on this subject; and he adhered to it to the letter.—No man ever heard him utter an oath, whether seriously before a magistrate, or profanely in conversation. Aside from the religious aspect of the subject, he was averse, on principle, to the use of intense or violent language. He employed few adjectives, and still fewer superlatives in his speech, and never added to the force of his thoughts by expletives or adjurations.

☞ It is said that the Senate will confirm Army Paymasters only as Lieutenants of Cavalry, and not as Majors, which will reduce the pay one-half.

THE REBELLION.

Further information from Gen. Lander shows that, having been reinforced, he marched on Thursday at the head of between 7000 and 8000 men, on the enemy at Romney, Va. The rebel forces were about equal to his own. They declined fighting, and retreated across the river, destroying the wire bridge in their rear, and running off, probably to Winchester.—Gen. Lander is in possession of Romney.

An Indianapolis dispatch to the Cincinnati Commercial says that Gen. Thomas's division is reported to have made a forward movement, and will invade East Tennessee at three different points simultaneously.—Gen. Carter goes through Cumberland Gap, Schoepff by the central route, and Gen. Thomas, with Manson's and McCook's brigads, will cross at Mill Spring. They will advance immediately on Knoxville, where they will take possession of the railroads, cutting off supplies and communications with the rebel Government.

The news from the West indicates that the preparations for a decisive blow against the enemy are nearly completed. The forces are nearly concentrated at the point whence it is intended to move against the adversary, and in a few days the whole command will probably be on the march westward. Two of Major Wright's scouts report that Price has made a speech to his troops telling them they were surrounded, and that they must fight or surrender, and that they all decided to fight.

By a flag of truce to Fortress Monroe, we learn that the engagement at Roanoke Island was still going on at dark on Saturday night. The Federals had sunk one or two rebel gunboats. Some later news had been received at Norfolk, but was not communicated to our boat.

The New Orleans Bulletin says the reported burning of the rebel steamer Calhoun is incorrect. When she was abandoned the captain set her on fire, but it appears the Yankees shortly after boarded her, extinguished the fire, and took possession of the boat and cargo. Her cargo consisted of 50,000 pounds of powder, 10,000 pounds of saltpetre, 400 sacks of coffee, and a quantity of block tin, &c.

☞ General Stone passed through Philadelphia on the midnight train, Sunday night, in custody, en route for Fort Lafayette. There have been rumors in Washington, which have found their way into the New York papers, connecting his name with treasonable correspondence with the enemy.

FOREIGN.—Steamship America, from Liverpool 25th and Queenstown, 26th, has arrived. There are vague rumors that Napoleon had notified England that he will shortly officially demand her joint action in raising the Southern blockade. If England refuses to take a part, he will take the initiative alone. The London Times urges England not to interfere and says the nation can afford to wait. The Sumter was reported cruising off Genoa.

☞ John P. Hale in a speech in the Senate, on Friday, on the Morgan purchase of vessels, said he thought our liberties were in greater danger to-day from fraud and profligacy than from the rebels. If we wanted victories we must commence on the floor of Congress. The people were willing to be taxed to any amount for the suppression of the rebellion, but not for pampering political favorites. If the same things had occurred under a democratic administration, he believed the Republican Senators would have been united in condemnation of them. The whole vocabulary of Grecian and Roman classical invective would have been exhausted by the Senator from Massachusetts to overwhelm such a man. The impulsive senator from Michigan (Mr. Chandler) would have stood up like the last of the Tribunes, and invoked death on such an offender; and he knew that the glance of the Chairman of the Committee on Finance (Mr. Fessenden) would have seen through all the gossamer excuses which might have been made. He referred to and read the resolution of censure passed by the House on Secretary Toucey, and at that time there was not even a Republican majority in the House.

THE ARMY IN MINIATURE.—A Washington letter in the N. Y. Post says the Post Office is now doing a heavy business in the transportation of daguerreotypes.—The daguerreotypist and photographer accompany the army wherever it goes, and a very large number of soldiers get their 'pictures' taken and send them to their friends. Friends at home in return send their portraits to the soldiers, and in this way an immense transportation business has been done by the Post Office. Not unfrequently a number of bags go out from the Washington office entirely filled with daguerreotype pictures, inclosed in light but bulky cases.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

——A writer in the Peterboro' Transcript proposes a new county, to be composed of the western towns of Hillsboro' and a few of the eastern towns of Cheshire, and then the old county of Hillsboro' may divide east and west into two new counties if it pleases.

——The Union Party of New Hampshire finds an organ in the Manchester Mirror, one of the most sprightly and widely circulated papers in the State. It would be difficult to tell what the character of the new party is from what the other papers say of it. The Republican papers say that the design is to defeat Gov. Berry; and the Democratic papers say that it is to defeat Gen. Stark.

——Last week, Mr. J. L. Whittaker, of Littleton, went out hunting with a party, and in three days they caught fifteen deer. They had been out once before this winter and caught three. The deer were nearly all taken with dogs.

BEAUTIFUL AND APPROPRIATE.—The late Adjutant Hodges, whose funeral services took place, in Roxbury, Mass., on Thursday, was formerly a teacher in the Sunday School attached to the Warren st. Chapel, Boston, and sunday afternoon was set apart for "a children's service in memory of their late friend and teacher."—The circumstances attending the death, and the peculiar character of the place in which juvenile voices united to honor the memory of the dead soldier, were calculated to make the exercises quite impressive.

☞ An editorial in the New York World of Saturday, says:

"It will be good news to the country, especially to our Irish fellow-citizens, to learn that Col. Corcoran is to be released from a Southern prison and sent home within the coming two weeks. Such, at least, is the assurance we receive from Washington, Secretary Stanton having taken the matter in hand. Col. Corcoran's bravery at Bull Run, where he would not run away, and his subsequent good conduct under the most trying circumstances at the South, have endeared him to the whole country."

☞ Letters have been received in this country from Thurlow Weed, dated Paris, January 24, in which he states that the Emperor of France would, at the assembling of the Corps Legislatif, on the 27th, announce his intention to interfere with our national affairs. It is denied on high authority at Washington that there is ground for fears of French interference in our affairs.

☞ The Providence Press says two or three nights since, when the streets were one grand skating park, a worthy citizen was accosted by a limp and bewildered Irishman, who desired to be put on the road to Woonsocket. "Woonsocket!" said the astonished gentleman, "whom do you want to see in Woonsocket in this kind of going?" "An' faith," says Pat, "it's meself I want to see there, sure." Pat received the necessary directions.

☞ It is shrewdly suspected by some, that those Southern men who criticise the Jeff Davis administration most severely, as slow and tame, are Union men at heart, and are making a cover of extreme devotion to the rebellion cause, to throw up their caps for the Union at the first opportunity.

THE PIRATE SEMMES.—This person, who has gratified the London Times by filling one of its columns with coarse abuse of the North, has sufficiently demonstrated what his real opinions are as to the event of the war, by sending his family to Cincinnati for safety, where they are now living unprovided for by him and dependent upon the charity of loyal connections living in the North.

☞ Acts of brutal violence, vulgar ruffianism and gross indecency are so common in the streets of Richmond, Va., that ladies dare not walk out, and after night-fall no person is safe from robbery or murder.—The police are so utterly inefficient that the inhabitants are contemplating a vigilance committee. And it is said the gamblers in the city, held a meeting last week and raised a fund of $5000 to carry the next election of Mayor and protect the sporting and rowdy interests.

☞ The New Orleans Picayune was once about the only paper in the United States that found it necessary, from a press of advertisements, to publish a quadruple sheet. It now apparently finds great difficulty in producing a little dirty looking single sheet, with a few old standing quack doctors' advertisements to fill up its columns.

☞ The officers of the fleet engaged in the reduction of Fort Henry were: Flag Officer, Andrew H. Foote, U. S. N.; Fleet Captain, Com. A. M. Pennock, U. S. N.; Ordnance Officer, Lieut. J. P. Sandford, U. S. N.; Ordnance Lieut., Byron Wilson; Flag Lieut., James M. Prickett.

☞ An exposure has been made of a recent issue of Kansas bonds to the Department of the Interior, by which the State has been swindled out of a large amount—probably $50,000.

"We have scarcely patience enough left to condemn in temperate language the reckless impropriety of two of our contemporaries, who have seen fit, in their thirst for notoriety, to thrust before the public the fact that the Merrimac has proved an abortion."

It also says the Merrimac's great draft of water would prevent her active operations, and this draft, originally twenty-four feet, has been considerably increased. The editor comforts himself that, at all events, she can be used as a floating battery.

☞ The City of London, Canada West, is to be sold by Sheriff's sale. The indebtedness which renders this proceeding necessary, arose from the aid extended by London to the London and Port Stanley Railway.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, tho' it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have the champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahneman, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc., etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curatives for family use are getting to be about as common as babies in a house, and every family should have one.—A case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq., and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. BURR & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. PHILLIPS, wholesale, Portland, Me.; or sent anywhere by American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Loneness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions,—whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my28dawlm

☞ The Sunday School connected with the North Church, in this city, gave a concert in that church on Sunday evening last. The school, which is in a very prosperous condition, is under the charge of Mr. Ezra Stevens. The exercises consisted of singing by the scholars, interspersed with appropriate recitations. Short addresses to the children were made by Rev. Mr. Reed of Maldan, Mass., Rev. Mr. Eddy, and Mr. Walker, Superintendent of the Baptist Sabbath School. The church was well filled and the exercises were very interesting. E.

☞ Our Fire Department at the present time numbers about 500 men, and is in a good state of efficiency, well deserving the compliments recently bestowed upon it by Mayor Simes. The total amount of losses in this city, by fire, during the past year, was $23,565, of which $14,115 was covered by insurance.

☞ At a meeting of the South (Unitarian) Parish, on Monday evening, it was voted to extend to Mr. James De Normandie, of the senior class at the Cambridge Divinity School, an invitation to become their Pastor at the expiration of his preparatory studies at the Divinity School.

☞ The Times' Washington dispatch says the rebel government have sent word to Hamilton Fish and Bishop Ames that they will not be admitted into the Confederate States to discharge any mission whatever.

☞ Sanford Udell was found murdered in front of his residence, Brooklyn, N. Y., on Saturday. W. J. B. Lawrence, master's mate of the San Jacinto, has been arrested on suspicion of the murder.

GEN. BUELL is a very model of reticence and secrecy. He goes to headquarters every morning at about 10 o'clock, and shuts himself up in his sanctum sanctorum, impervious to any human force except through the regular red-tape channels.—He will not be interrupted. It is as much as a man's life is worth to speak to him on the way to his office. His servants are as afraid of him as they are of the devil.—An express messenger came to him with a package of maps from Washington, and did not dare to enter his room. He offered the package to one of the porters to carry it in. "No," said the porter, "you carry it in." "No," said the expressman, "he knows you; you take it." It was some time before the fellow dared to "face the fiercely frowning chief" to hand him the package and get his pay. Gen. Buell admits no one to his confidence, and all predictions of forward movements and based on pretended access to headquarters are mere nonsense.—New York Tribune.

☞ Among the appointments and promotions confirmed by the United States Senate on Tuesday, were the following:—

Lieut. Col. Justin Dimick, to be Colonel;
Major Seth Eastman to be Colonel;
Capt. Wm. Austine, to be Major;
First Lieut. Wm. A. Winder, to be Captain;
Second Lieut. Justin E. Dimick, to be First Lieutenant;
John S. Godfrey, of New Hampshire, to be Assistant Quartermaster with the rank of Captain;
Alpheus B. Crosby, George H. Hubbard, and Timothy Haynes, of New Hampshire, to be Brigade Surgeons of Volunteers.

☞ On Monday we were favored with a charming winter's day. A bright sun, a clear sky, a temperature just right for robust health, and good sleighing, combined to make the day one of pleasure and recreation to all who could take advantage of the opportunity offered them. And we know nothing more exhilarating than a drive on such bright winter days or moonlight nights; and to all who are troubled with dyspepsia or ennui, we recommend a trial of the pleasures of the road.

☞ Among the memoranda found in the baggage of the late Gen. Zollicoffer, were lists of pretended Union men, which he had endorsed as containing the names of his "best friends;" and also notes from sundry women, traders, &c., who were reputed to be well affected towards the Union, but who have been acting as spies for the rebels. Many of these parties will find themselves in tight places hereafter.

☞ The Senate of the Delaware Legislature has followed the example of the House, and passed the act declaring the forfeiture of the lottery privileges granted some years ago.

At a recent chase in England a fox was pursued forty miles—the fox and the hunters crossing in their progress three railways and three rivers. All the horsemen became too weary to pursue the game, but the hounds continued the chase into the night.—The fox was not taken.

☞ The Louisville Journal says the recent victory in Kentucky should be known in history as the "Battle of Logan's Fields."

☞ The capture of Fort Henry is regarded at the War Department as the salvation of Tennessee.

☞ It is asserted that Gen. Fremont will be assigned a command shortly.

☞ Stephen Hayes, of Palmer, Me., heard mysterious noises in his house, and a few weeks ago he traced the noises to the chimney, and made an opening in the brick.—There he found two turkeys, which had been missing since Thanksgiving, and were supposed to have been stolen. They were not in Thanksgiving order when taken out, but had an excellent appetite.

☞ A correspondent of the St. Louis Republican says the property captured at Fort Henry is valued at upwards of $200,000. Fifteen hundred cavalry and a battery of light artillery left St. Louis on Saturday for Fort Henry. Other accounts estimate the value of the property captured at a much higher rate.

☞ The responsibility for the Mill Spring defeat, the rebel journals contend, attaches entirely to General Crittenden, who was not only drunk, but had been bought up by "Federal Gold." In the streets of Nashville he is hooted at as a "drunkard—a notorious sot, who sold our brave soldiers for $47,000—death too good for him"—and more, of a worse tenor.

☞ The widows and seamstresses of St. Louis held a mass meeting a few days since, and resolved to apply to the government authorities for relief for their distressed condition—no work, no food, no shelter.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S
Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer
The Latest Invention.
Patented June 25, 1861.
This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE MONTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.
Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.
Terms Cash on delivery,—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Save Your Gas!!
A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.
It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.
The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.
Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.
Wood's Patent Carcel Burners
are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.
Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor or reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be guaged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.
PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.
Among the more recent inventions are
Orne's Patent
FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,
A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.
These burners are furnished with
SCHWARZ' PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS
Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.
Price 50 cents each.
COLE'S COMET BURNER,
A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.
PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents
Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

UNDER THE ICE.

FOR FEBRUARY.

Under the ice the waters run;
Under the ice our spirits lie;
The genial glow of the summer sun
Shall loosen their fetters by and by.
Moan and groan in thy prison cold,
River of life—river of love;
The winter is growing worth and old,
The frost is leaving the melting mould,
And the sun shines bright above.

Under the ice, under the snow,
By and by will the South winds blow,
And the roses bloom on the banks of Spring.
Moan and groan in thy fetters strong;
River of life—river of love:
The night grows short, the days grow long,
Weaker and weaker the bonds of wrong,
And the sun shines bright above.

Under the ice our good deeds grow;
Men but credit the wrong we did,
Never the motives that lay below.
Moan and groan in thy prison cold,
River of life—river of love:
The winter of life is growing old,
The frost is leaving the melting mould,
And the sun shines warm above.

Under the ice we hide our wrong—
Under the ice that has chilled us through!
Oh! that the friends who have known us long
Dare to doubt that we are good and true.
Moan and groan in thy prison cold,
River of life—river of love:
Winter is growing warm and old,
We shall be known above.

☞ Grimsley, inventor of the Grimsley saddle, who made a large fortune out of the Government, died in St. Louis the other day of apoplexy. Grimsley was a traitor of the darkest dye, and like others of his stripe was taxed by Gen. Halleck for the support of the loyal men who were driven by the brigands under Price from their homes to St. Louis, arriving there destitute of means for the support of their families. When informed that he must contribute to the support of these people, he became so agitated that he fell into an apoplectic fit, which proved fatal.

☞ It is found in practice that grooving the smooth-bore Springfield musket greatly increases the danger of bursting, &c.; and in this view Capt. Dahlgren stated, at the beginning of the war, that even cannon would not well bear grooving, unless cast especially for the purpose.
